

SEES BOLSHEVISM AS FORM OF JAZZ

Dr. John Allen Blair, at Church Centennial, Calls It Typical of Age

PREDICTS ULTIMATE GOOD

This is probably "jazz" age, where everything goes. Because we are living in a time when there is a moral laxness and a lack of steadiness, the church is meeting with difficulties. In bolshevism we have, in an extreme form, the thing which affects us.

That was the assertion of the Rev. Dr. John Allen Blair to a big congregation at the centennial exercises in the Tabernacle Presbyterian Church. Thirty-seventh and Chestnut streets, yesterday morning. "It may be true that we are living in a jazz age," the Rev. Doctor Blair told his hearers.

Man Held in Cutting Affray

Nicholas Perin, thirty-two years old, Longue street, Alberte Sixth, was held in $800 bail for court today by Magistrate Coward, on a charge of assault and battery. He is said to have attacked Charles Volone, twenty-three years old, 504 Klouffman street, last night, cutting him in the throat with a knife.

ASLEEP 51 DAYS; THOUGHT DESERTER

Philadelphia Sailor Is Found Under Bungalow at Hampton Roads

CRAWLED THERE FOR NAP

After sleeping fifty-one days without nourishment, according to his story, Harry Joseph Harley, twenty-six years old, formerly of 610 Fairmount avenue, is in the naval hospital at Hampton Roads with a slight chance of recovery. During his long slumber, Harley's weight dropped from 131 pounds to 61. His beard and hair were more than a foot long and his nails also grew in proportion.

Naval surgeons from all along the eastern coast are gathered at Hampton Roads to study the case. Their reports will have a great deal to do with the decision of the investigating commission. Harley already is much better than when discovered. He drank seven quarts of milk within twelve hours after being found. He is much strengthened.

The surgeons reported today, but it will be more than a week before they can make an absolute prediction, and it will be several weeks before his recovery is complete if he does recover. The patient is rational and sticks to the story he told before losing consciousness after being discovered and rescued. He had no intention of deserting, he says, and apparently was very much surprised that he had been listed as a deserter.

At 410 Fairmount avenue, the address from which Harley enlisted in this city, William Pfander conducts a furnished room house. Harley boarded there for about two months prior to April of this year, Pfander said. Before joining the navy, Pfander said, Harley had been drafted and had served in France with a National Army division. He saw service in several of the big engagements, but Pfander noticed no signs of shellshock, he said. The furnished room house proprietor knew nothing of the man's relatives, he said.

FEAR TANGLE IN WELSHES

Seven From Two Families in Contagious Disease Hospital

Nurses are watchful today at the Philadelphia Hospital for Contagious Diseases. It is because there are seven children named Welsh among the patients. As four are members of one family and three of another, there is constant danger of a tangle. They are Marie Welsh, twelve years old, and her two brothers, Leo and Tommy, eleven and nine years, respectively, and they live at 1043 South Hem-berger street, in South Philadelphia. The other four are Walter Welsh, three years; Elinor, six; Edward, fourteen, and Harry, fifteen months, and their home is at 7030 Mower street, Germantown. The South Philadelphia and the Germantown families are in no way related.

You are thinking about your Christmas shopping, of course, and when making out your list it is well to place beside the name of each article the shop at which you intend to purchase it. You will find that the Chestnut Street Shops are quite ready to supply you with articles to complete your list, and it will be to your interest to do your Christmas shopping in these stores, where you are certain of the quality of your purchases as well as courteous attention on the part of sales-people.

DEBORAH BQAAR ONE purchase that you will never regret is that of an Oriental rug. It repays many times over in years of service the initial investment, and its soft coloring blends so well with the colors of your hangings that you may change them any number of times, with the assurance that these two important factors in decoration will still be in harmony. A wonderfully beautiful Saruk rug I saw the other day at the store of Fritz & LaRue, 1124 Chestnut Street, had a background of blue with terra cotta as the predominating note of color in the border. This particular rug measures 17 feet 10 inches by 12 feet 7 inches, and is one of a really notable collection which Fritz & LaRue have assembled to meet the room requirements of Philadelphia's suburban houses.

AMONG the many interesting snapshots that you have taken you will find a number that have just that personal touch of interest for one of your friends or for some member of your family which would make them invaluable as gifts. Have them enlarged at the store of Frank J. Curry, 812 Chestnut Street, and have Curry's select for them suitable frames. You, no less than the recipient of your gift, will be delighted with the result, for a gift like this is evidence of thoughtfulness on your part and touches a spot that no ready-to-deliver gift, no matter how costly, could reach. Curry's display of Christmas cards is now almost complete and orders for engraving should not be delayed if you wish to avoid disappointment.

WHEN you are looking for a musical instrument you are, of course, more inclined to take the word of a musician as to its quality, than the opinion of the layman. And when you are looking for a phonograph, you would naturally prefer to buy one that has the approval of musicians. The New Edison is invariably the choice of musicians, because it brings the finest music, faultlessly rendered, within the reach of all music lovers. It does not only reproduce, but actually re-creates sound. Hear the New Edison at the Steinway Warerooms, 1111 Chestnut Street. Hear it! Then decide. The inventor's own invitation is "Let the public hear and decide." To hear it is to be convinced of its superiority.

AN ATTRACTIVE card sent at Christmas time is evidence of friendship, and a bit different from the usual card are the pretty calendars and the envelopes fitted with sachet, which I saw at the store of Bailey, Banks & Biddle Co. They are attractively decorated with gray winter scenes, and tied with delicately colored ribbons. The cards for engraving are most attractive, too, and orders for this work should be placed now. Large folders with quaint old-world scenes on their covers are hand tinted and show delightful originality in the handling of color. The stationery department is now occupying an important position in the center of the store, and you will find many articles there which would be most appropriate for Christmas gifts.
