

FRENCH ELECTION REBUKE TO REDS

Notable Triumph for Conservative, Moderate and Nationalist Elements

VICTORY FOR CLEMENCEAU

By the Associated Press Paris, Nov. 18.—Complete returns available from all but about fifty districts confirm the indications that Sunday's elections to the Chamber of Deputies resulted in a notable triumph for the conservative, moderate and nationalist elements.

Of the total accounted for to date 221 are former deputies while 327 have not hitherto been members of the chamber.

The socialist newspaper Bon Soir today acknowledged the defeat of its party. "Clemenceau is victorious, terribly and appallingly victorious," it said.

As far as can be judged by results now known, the elections just held were the most conservative since the National Assembly of 1871 was elected.

While some newspapers express satisfaction over the defeat of the socialists, which they say demonstrates an overwhelming sentiment against bolshevism, socialist organs declare the members of that party will maintain their opposition to the government and carry out the policies enunciated during the campaign.

The Left Republicans gained 51, lost 17 seats. The Radicals gained 20, lost 26; Radical Socialists gained 9, lost 25; Unified Socialists gained 7, lost 50; Dissident Socialists gained 6, lost 4; Progressives gained 78, lost 5; L'Action Libérale gained 40, lost 6; Conservatives gained 12, lost 12.

General M. P. E. Sarraill and General Pierre Rogues went down to defeat. Aristide Briand and Rene Viviani, both former premiers, were returned.

Among the cabinet members defeated are Louis Laffery, minister of instruction; Paul Morel, under-secretary of state for commerce, and M. Collard, minister of labor.

$35,000 BARFOD BILL COMES UP THIS WEEK

Claim for Testimony Which Exposed Louisiana Lottery to Be Pressed in Congress

Washington, Nov. 18.—Shades of the Louisiana lottery will stalk before the House claims committee this week, when it considers a bill to award $35,000 to Einar Barford, of Philadelphia.

Barford's testimony is said to have been largely responsible for the success of the government's case against the promoters of the lottery. For forty years, first under the name of the Louisiana lottery and later the Louisiana lottery, the owners regularly collected amounts averaging $300,000 a month from the American public.

Representative M. Clyde Kelly, of Pennsylvania, a member of the committee, announced today he would press the Barford claim and endeavor to have it allowed. Barford's evidence, it is asserted, resulted to the suppression of the lottery in 1907. The end came when thirty-two defendants pleaded guilty and paid fines amounting to $284,000, and costs equal to $200,000 more.

Barford is described in the bill as "a citizen and resident of Philadelphia."

Mr. Barford formerly was a reporter on a morning newspaper in this city.

REED EASY WINNER BY 18,300 WORDS

Missouri Senator Since Sept. 1 Has Talked 983 Inches of Congressional Record

SPOKE 16 HOURS ON TREATY

By CLINTON W. GILBERT Staff Correspondent of the Evening Public Ledger

Washington, Nov. 18.—Senator Reed, of Missouri, is the champion long distance speaker of the Senate on the treaty. From September 1 to date he has filled 983 inches of the Congressional Record with his remarks on the treaty. Allowing 100 words to the inch the chief proponent of the Wilson administration said 98,300 words in two months and a half, distancing his chief competitor, Senator Norris, of Nebraska, who uttered only 80,000.

Allowing 100 words to a minute, a fair average of senatorial delivery, Mr. Reed spoke 983 minutes or 16 hours. As a full legislative day is five hours he spoke three and one-third legislative days. If all the other senators had spoken as many as he did the discussion of the treaty would have taken one full year of the Senate's time if the Senate had given up morning business and all other work and just talked treaty incessantly. A page of the Congressional Record is twenty inches long. Mr. Reed filled 49.15 pages. And as the cost of printing is $20 a page, his remarks cost $983 of the public funds.

Up till the 1st of November Senator Norris was in the lead, but Reed talked at an unparalleled rate in November, filling 45 inches of the Record in two weeks. November 4 the record of the leading speakers stood: Norris, 715 inches; Reed, 548; Sherman, 470; Fall, 428; Thomas, 361; France, 353, for the two months preceding.

For those two months, according to the figures of Senator Hitchcock, the record stood:

only reservations to the treaty. The record of the three leaders in the fight is as follows for September and October: Hitchcock, 275 inches; Mcumber, 200; Lodge, 246.

Women's Coats Of Camel-Hair Cloth are Highly Favored Especially in that peculiar tan shade known as natural. Made on plain-tailored lines, with belted or free-swinging back, notched collar and revers, lined throughout with soft, lustrous silk, and warmly interlined. $75.00 and $85.00. In the shorter lengths, with yoke and sleeves lined, and finished with the all-around narrow belt, $95.00. Fur Fabric Coats Of ermine cloth, $35.00 and $50.00. Of seal plush, $35.00 to $75.00. The finest variety of models we have ever shown.

It is Certainly a Pleasure To Buy a Suit These Days Time was when a suit was a sort of a regulation affair, developed in serge or broadcloth, or in the case of a very elegant suit—velvet. But now! Well, one wonders if anybody can possibly develop for another season, a fabric not shown this season, as for models—their name is legion. There are checks and plaids, chevrons with its slightly perceptible mixture, the smart, sturdy Delhi cloth, velours of all weights, some silver-toned, davy melange and duvet de laine, both as soft as down, broadcloth, and the highly favored tricotine—all within the price range $40.00 to $100.00. As for models, they range from the decidedly full, straight-line effects, loosely girdled, to the equally decidedly fitted models smartly flaring from the waist-line. Some as plain as a man's coat, and some embroidered and trimmed with fur. The model sketched, $95.00.

Many of the Smart Furs You See are Fabric Furs They are unusually "furry" this season, and have all the softness and becomingness of Furs. In heavier, more, regular, seal and black fur effects, $6.00 to $18.00 a yard. Stole lengths, 72x16 inches $4.00 to $10.75 each.

Men's Overcoats in More Than 400 Different Smart Styles Hundreds of men have come here within the past few weeks in quest of Overcoats to meet their varying style ideas—and they have found WHAT THEY WANTED. And no wonder. Our books show us that right now we have in our stock more than 400 different styles and fabrics for men to choose from, the majority of which are in the following assortment— 75 Styles—$27.50 to $37.50 50 Styles at $40.00 44 Styles at $45.00 57 Styles at $50.00 45 Styles at $55.00 55 Styles—$57.50 to $75.00 31 Styles—$85.00 to $110.00 They are of Stein-Block, Hart, Schaffner & Marx, "Alec" and other reputable makes. Faultlessly tailored, and in practically every smart fabric and effect the season has yet produced, notably— Four - fitting, double-breasted styles for young men. Smart-looking, duster-like, with the all-around belt. Large warm double-breasted dusters, comfortably loose.

Artificial Flowers Take Many Forms For Gifts IN THE MILLINERY STORE And what is sweeter than a gift of flowers? There's the corsage, as simple or as elaborate as you wish. One of beautiful violets, boxed as illustrated, $1.00. There's the nosegay or a single lovely flower to tuck into the spray for a friend's cherished fur scarf. There's the graceful vase. And there are baskets of all kinds made up to your order. Prices range from 25c for a tiny bouquet to $2.75 for exquisite roses, with Poinsettias, $1.25 to $1.85. Ornaments, $1.25. Metal flowers, 50c to $2.50—and many others.

Women's Raincoats A very smart raincoat, made on the lines of a man's raincoat, which, of course, means that it is comfortable and practical to the last degree. Of durable Canton cloth, in tan only—a double texture, with plaid back. Made with inverted-plait in back, storm straps on sleeves, patch pockets, belt finished with metal buckle. Price $16.50.

Children's Umbrellas Special at $2.50 Of American talletta (cotton) well made on sturdy paragon frames. Sizes 20, 22 and 24 inches. GIRLS' UMBRELLAS—with plain or curved mission handle, finished with wrist cord. BOYS' UMBRELLAS—with plain mission wood handles in book and crank styles.
