

Wave-Battered on High Seas : Turkey-Dinner Preliminary : Her First Party : Divers Views

CARRYING HOME a few of the 1000 pounds of fish which a local dealer distributed to encourage the eating of fish, so as to strike a blow at the high cost of living while stimulating the fish business.

BREAKING of the steamer Wahikikum's feed pumps caused the vessel to roll helplessly in the seas, which broke over the crippled craft, pounding about in the waves. The ship was headed for Philadelphia. Five days after the mishap, the Lehigh, a Hog Island product, came to the rescue of the Wahikikum and towed the stricken ship to safety, at Charleston, S. C.

BABY LORRAINE HEERMANN, of Penfield, Pa., makes her first birthday address at her initial party.

AUCTIONING TURKEYS at South Hatfield, Pa. Thanksgiving birds, according to poultry dealers, are less numerous than usual. Live turkeys are bringing from 35 to 40 cents a pound wholesale.

THE CARGO carrier Daram, sailing from New York late in August, struck a coral reef off Bermuda. While being towed to an anchorage by two Bermuda tugs the vessel sank stern first. Crew and officers were taken off by the tugs, which stood by as the ship plunged under the sea.

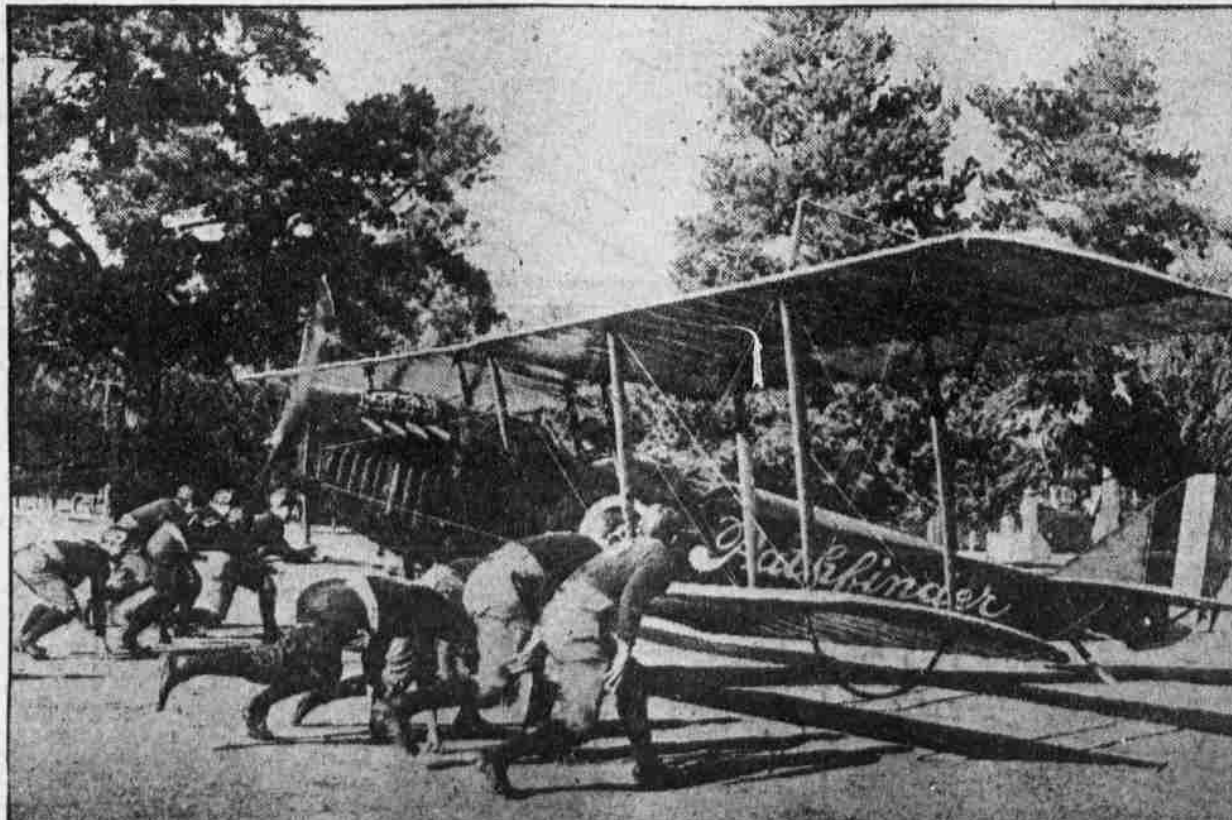

THE BEAUTY CORNER

MISS ALICE LUCY, 6548 Marsden street, Philadelphia. Photographs for this back-page feature should be submitted through the mail, addressed to the Beauty Corner, EVENING PUBLIC LEDGER.

EQUESTRIANS ON the autumnal paths of Fairmount Park. Mrs. Edward Perry riding with C. McCloskey on an equine jaunt.

FOOTBALL PLAYERS of Leland Stanford University, California, in a line-bucking test against an airplane. The aviator starts his machine and tries to gain headway against the strength of the football line charging in the opposite direction. Usually he is unsuccessful.