Nancy Wynne Hears Rumors of a Troop Ball for This

Wr. and Mrs. Sylvan Dalsimer have returned to the Hotel Lorraine, after visiting their daughter, Mrs. Max Rieser, of Columbus, Ohio. Season—Several Philadelphia Buds Go to New York to Meet the Prince of Wales

HAVE you heard the rumor that the there is going to be a troop ball this year? Yes, and perhaps on the 143d anniversary of the First City Troop at the battle of Trenton. At least that's what a wee bird told me, and I think it knows what it's talking about. It have said what troopers would get it, but I can't tell you that. Won't it be wooderful? I remember the last one—given eleven or twelve years ago; yes, I think it was twelve, for it was to celebrate the 131st anniversary. Judge Martin gave that ball in Horticultural Hall and it was certainly beautiful! That was when Mrs. Flo. Rivinus was a debutante. I think.

The ball will be given for one or more debutantes this time and you know it will be gorgeous. A military ball is always such a beautiful sight. The men in dress uniform look so splendid you interest about ready to assout if one.

Will arrive home next week.

Mrs. J. S. Mock, and Miss Mary G. Mock, of Bethlehem are spending a few days with Mrs. Mock's sister. Mrs. M.

R. Ward, of Wayne.

The first dance of the series of the just are about ready to pass out, if one asks you to dance. Now, aren't you?

OH! before I forget it, the Supper Club has postponed its opening night for two weeks, and instead of tomorrow night will have its initial meeting on Saturday. December 6, after the Army and Navy game.

I told you the other day that Mrs.

Hutchison Scott and the members of her board of managers of the Supper Club have decided to make the club a dinner as well as supper club, as many of the members prefer to go early and dance at dinner rather than after the theatre hour and stay up into the wee sma' hours. In this way all members are sure to be pleased, for they can have either dinner or supper, or both, and dancing all the time.

WON'T the Glendinning girls and Celestine Warder have a wonderful time in New York tonight at the ball for the Prince of Wales? I suppose Brownie Warburton and Marie Louise Munn and Niny de Heeren and all the Wanamaker relations will go on, but of the debutantes Celestine and Mary and Ellen Cleotine are the only ones I have returned to town.

Mrs. C. R. Carter, of Greenwood avenue, Jenkintown, has been entertaining Mrs. H. A. Carter, of Avora. Iowa, and Mrs. Arthur Carter, of Omaha, Neb.

Mr. and Mrs. William Rebbman, after passing the autumn at their country place in the Gwynedd valley, have WON'T the Glendinning girls and Glendinning are the only ones I have heard of so far. And, believe me. I think said prince will get the right kind of an impression of the Philadelphia buds if those three girls meet him, for they are all sweet, natural, simple, charming girls. And such pretty contrasts! Celestine, who is the daughter of the George Buckley Warders, is tall and quite dark, with brilliant coloring and laughing eyes and a very vivacious of the George Buckley Warders, is tall and quite dark, with brilliant coloring and laughing eyes and a very vivacious of the Gwynedd valley, have returned to town.

Miss Ruth Wilson, of 3547 York road, is entertaining as her guests Mrs. It. A. Lamore and Miss Elinor E. Goddart, of Pittsburgh, who are spending two weeks in this city.

"Excuse me, Mrs, H—," said the mystified principal, "I cannot understand what you mean. Tommy has always seemed a normal child to us. The doctor told me he found his nutrition poor, but I did not see the slip he gave Tommy, myself."

"Well, here it is." said Mrs. H—, handing the slip to her. On the paper the principal saw two words. The doctor, who was a busy man, cut his time wherever he could and often cut his words as well. But I doubt if he foresaw the possible consequences when he wrote on that slin "Poor Nut."
