

GUARDSMEN WEARY OF MARTIAL DOINGS

Discharged War Veterans Discourage Enlistment in National Military Body
NO NEW UNITS FOR PENNA.

By the Associated Press
Washington, Nov. 21.—National guardsmen recently discharged from federal service "are surfeited with military activities," according to the annual report of Major General Jesse McI. Carter, chief of the militia bureau, issued yesterday and summarizing reports from various departments.

Those who served in France "not only decline to enter the National Guard, but by their talk dissuade others to do so," reports from the southeastern department said.

This mental attitude will be only temporary, General Carter thinks, and within a few months general reorganization of the National Guard will be possible.

Pennsylvania plans no new units; Maryland desires one regiment of infantry, using the Second State Guard as a nucleus; New Jersey will transfer the Second Field Artillery into infantry and organize one additional regiment; New York plans one regiment of engineers, four squadrons of cavalry, two regiments of field artillery, thirty-six companies of coast artillery, ten regiments of infantry, two field hospitals, three ambulance companies and two signal companies.

Programs of other states have not been reported. Inspecting officers reported generally satisfactory conditions in state headquarters, with the exception of Texas.

The issuing of orders and the general administrative conduct of National Guard affairs in the office of the adjutant general, state of Texas, have not been satisfactory," the report stated.

"There appears to be no coordination with the officers of the adjutant general's department and the United States property and disbursing officer, the latter officer forwarding uniforms and equipment to organizations that have been disbanded or moved to other states."

ELECTRIC 'DAY' FOOLS HENS

Poultryman Protests Proposal to Cut Off Light Because of Novel System
Columbus, Ind., Nov. 21.—A. I. Lewis, who operates a poultry farm at Hope, Ind., in protesting against the proposed action of Pulse & Porter, who operate the electric light system at Hope, to abandon that plant, has set up a novel point as to why he is not in favor of the discontinuance of service.

He told a Public Utilities Commission examiner that he has spent $10,000 in fitting up equipment for the farm and that he hatches 18,000 eggs at one time. He allows his hens but six hours sleep, stating that he keeps the lights burning steadily until 10 p. m. when the lights gradually are dimmed into total darkness. The hens then go to sleep.

At 4 a. m. the lights are turned on gradually until the glare of the lights wakes the hens. The production of eggs thus is stimulated by feeding the hens into the belief that another day has dawned.

The claim was set up that the poultry farm business would be ruined if the lighting system is abandoned. The case will be presented to the state commission for action.

FIRE AT ARMY PRISON

$100,000 Blaze Destroys Exchange and 14 Buildings at Ft. Leavenworth, Leavenworth, Kans., Nov. 21.—(By A. P.)—Fire, unknown origin, broke out in the exchange building at the disciplinary barracks at Fort Leavenworth last night, and destroyed it within half an hour. The exchange building contained a large amount of army supplies and clothing for prisoners. The loss was estimated at $100,000.

The fire spread from the exchange to the wooden cantonment buildings. Fourteen of these buildings were destroyed quickly. There was no adequate water service and dynamite was used to blow up other buildings to check the fire. The cantonment buildings were occupied by the restored battalion, trusty prisoners.

LYNCH ALLEGED SLAYER

Posses Searching for Suspect in Mountains Mete Out Punishment
Fort Smith, Ark., Nov. 21.—(By A. P.)—A telephone message from Mountain Home, Ark., reported the lynching of T. T. Lee, declared by the authorities to have been implicated in the killing several days ago of K. V. Loba, a farmer.

The message said the lynching took place in the mountains, just across the Missouri state line. Posses have been searching for Lee, who, it is said, was seen in the vicinity of the Loba home the night of the killing.
