MOORE MISTAKEN, GAFFNEY ASSERTS

Mayor-elect Misinformed as to True Condition of City's Finances. He Declares

IN CONFERENCE TODAY

Mayor-elect Moore has been misin formed regarding the city's financial affairs, according to Joseph P. Gaffney, chairman of the finance committee of Councils, who commented today upon Mr. Moore's statement of yesterday.

Mr. Gaffney said he would try to see Mr. Moore today and confer with him on various matters pertaining to the budget, including a higher tax rate, which Mr. Moore says is immediately

"Mr. Moore's informants have not informed him as to the actual facts."
said the finance committee chairman.
Mr. Gaffiny was friendly in his attitude toward Mr. Moore's position on city finances. Among the statements by Mr. Moore yesterday was one to the effect that certain appropriations in Mr. Moore yesterday was one to effect that certain appropriations in the indeet now only cover nine months; expenses instead of a year's, and that some of the appropriations are not high enough to meet departmental expenses.

Explains Shortage of Funds

Mr. Gaffney sought to explain that the shortage of funds in some departments, as for instance that of the diments, as for instance that of the di-rector of public safety, were enused by the payment of bonuses out of regular funds, as had been done in the case of policemen and firemen. Payment of such bonuses would naturally cause the shortage this year, Mr. Gaffney pointed

Mr. Gaffney also said that as the Mr. Gaffney also said that as the bonus plan had been decided upon as far back as December, 1918, there could be no just accusation that such a play chosen by her father from the list of plays in which he has appeared. could be no just accusation that such a plan was adopted with a view to crip-pling the director of public safety's department next year.

The present Mayor has made the same playing of a masculine role made famous by her illustrious father is being awaited with pleasurable anxiety. recommendations in his budget for 1920, and this will be ample if bonuses do not have to be paid out of it, asserted Mr. Gaffney.

Asked if he favored increasing the tax rate, Mr. Gaffney replied:

"The tax rate will depend entirely upon the needs of the city."

Mayor's Budget Not Binding

Speaking of the Mayor's budget Mr. Gaffney said: "The Mayor's budget is virtually a series of recommendations and the new charter provides that a budget submitted by the Mayor is not binding on Council and may be increased or diminished."

He declared that at public meetings of the finance committee on November 10 and 14 he stated that nothing would Mr. Rosher, who was forty-eight fears old, suffered a stroke last sumbe done regarding city affairs until Mr. Moore had been consulted, and that his wishes would be followed. He said that this assertion still held true.

coal over the whole year by your con-trol of freight rates."

Some members of the cabinet favor this plan. But the railroad adminis-tration has, it is said, thus far main-tained a successful opposition to it. The railroad administration has mainned all along that shortage of cars had nothing to do with this year's deficit in coal production, 70,000,000 tons when the strike began, although the only government figures available indicate that it has been an important It is doubtful whether either operators or workers wish to come to an agreement on wages until this larger question of regular employment is settled. Both sides want work distributed over the year as a measure of economy.

. The miners demanded the thirty-hour week to put pressure upon the industry somewhere, to penalize irregular emsomewhere, to penalize irregular employment, and to make the taking out of coal at the so-called "peak" of the demand costly. That pressure has fallen upon the government, and both sides are content to have it rest there, for neither side has much liking or respect for the way in which the administration has managed its interpention in the disoute. tion in the dispute.
