

Rooting Out the Reds

The shots from the I. W. W. Headquarters in Centralia, Washington, which killed four veterans of the World War and wounded others in an Armistice Day parade, give dramatic emphasis to the fact that a year after Germany's open war on civilization was defeated we are still being attacked by sinister forces of revolution and anarchy which Germany, many believe, turned loose upon the world by way of Russia. That the American public is rapidly losing patience with the organized and persistent efforts of foreign theorists to destroy American institutions is evidenced in many directions. Not only is the Department of Justice rounding up suspects in every part of the country, but there are pending in Congress fifty-two bills which are designed to give the Government all the authority needed to deal with the Bolshevik, anarchist and other anti-American organizations. A sample of the teaching brought to light by the Government's raids is the manifesto of the Federation of Unions of Russian Workers of the United States and Canada. It advocates among other things: Capture of all products and means of production; liberation of all political prisoners; the blowing up of all barracks; the murder of law-enforcing officials; the burning of public records; destruction of fences and all property lines; the destruction of all instruments of indebtedness.

Thoughtful men and women who have the future welfare of our country at heart will read with the deepest interest the article in this week's LITERARY DIGEST, dated November 22nd. It shows what steps the Government has taken to suppress violent outbreaks, suggestions for the punishment of those arrested and a clear explanation revealed by captured documents of just what the un-American forces of violence are attempting to accomplish.
