

SUGARLESS JELLY FOR THANKSGIVING

Mrs. Wilson, Evening Public Ledger Culinary Expert, Tells How to Prepare Cranberries

HOUSEWIVES ARE RELIEVED

Cranberry jelly without sugar? Of course! The horrors of a Thanksgiving dinner with "cranberry jelly that wouldn't jell" loomed large to many of the housewives who attended the lecture of Mrs. Mary A. Wilson, food economist for the EVENING PUBLIC LEDGER in the pure food store of Gimbel's yesterday afternoon, and much relief was felt by those who learned sugar is not needed even for cranberry jelly.

"Why, of course, you can make it without sugar. Just use a cup and a half of white corn sirup to a cup of washed cranberries and cook for twenty minutes."
It was settled so easily that many of the worried people regretted the time they had spent worrying.
"There are thousands of housewives in Philadelphia who can cook better than professional chefs," said Mrs. Wilson, "and now at Thanksgiving the government canned pumpkin ought to be used in a variety of ways to cut the cost of living."
Government Goods Fresh
"A great many people think the government goods are old stock, but the cans that are being sold now are virtually all this year's crop. The government simply continued its contracts and are giving the goods at lower prices than the goods can be bought at in the ordinary market."
Sauerkraut can be cooked in at least three different ways, says Mrs. Wilson, who surprised many of her audience by recommending braised sauerkraut with braised pork, and suggested for variety baking the kraut in an oven for forty-five minutes with country pork.

"The national vegetable," pumpkin, can be used as a vegetable for pie or in pudding, and spinach is not only tasty but wholesome, says Mrs. Wilson.
Mrs. Wilson's Recipes
Yankee Pumpkin Pudding: One cup sirup, two cups pumpkin, one-half teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon cinnamon and one teaspoon ginger. Mix thoroughly and bake for forty-five minutes in a moderate oven.
Sugarless Candy for the Holidays: One pound figs, one pound raisins, one pound evaporated peaches or apricots, one-half pound coconut and one and one-half pounds peanuts. Put the fruit and nuts through a meat chopper and mix the paste thoroughly. Press firmly in a tin box lined with waxed paper, cut in blocks and cover with melted chocolate or roll into balls and cover with coconut and peanuts chopped fine.

COMFORT IS MAIN FEATURE OF CHRISTMAS FURNITURE

City Shops Giving Much Space to Display—Ornamental Stiff-Backed Chair Has Been Discarded

GOOD furniture is always in good taste. The shop and store windows are giving much space to the display of furniture just now. Complete dining and bedroom suites are being shown with beautiful chairs, tables and accessories.
Davenport, upholstered in tapestry and plush, are wonderfully comfortable and attractive. They are assets in every home and are among the most-sought-after pieces this season for appropriate Yuletide gifts.
Then there are the friends and decorated chairs, which are upholstered in convenient cake shelves, are to be found. Some of the tea carts have detachable trays.

Tables of every sort add much to a room. It is for the woman who appreciates this that the nests of tables have been introduced. The largest table of the nest may be obtainable in almost any desirable size. The smaller tables all fit under the largest one in their turn. This is a most convenient arrangement and has proved its worth under many conditions.
Dinner nooks, imported from Japan, have also taken a place among the gift suggestions for Christmas. They are to be found in many shapes and sizes. The purchaser may have his choice of a deep-soled gong that summons in a solemn way or a highly pitched bell-like gong.
Colonial furniture is as popular as ever. Four posters are being shown in the single and double beds. All of them are Colonial, but differ in the treatment of the posts.
Tea carts are very useful. Some time ago these were quite primitive in their construction, but today only the noiseless, easy-to-push ones, with numerous

MAN WORRIES TO DEATH

Shipworker Dies of Apoplexy After Sister Dies

Worry over the death of his sister is believed to have brought on an attack of apoplexy which proved fatal to Harry Penno, a former patrolman, of 238 North Broadway, Gloucester, N. J.
He was employed at the Parry & Jones shipyard and went there yesterday to tell his foreman he would not be at work as he would have to attend the funeral in the afternoon of his sister, Mrs. Linnie Smith, of 444 West street, Camden.
While talking to the foreman Penno was stricken with apoplexy and fell. His death occurred last night.

neighbors noticed the place was on fire early today. It was the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carmine Mangini. The fire started in a defective chimney. Damage was slight.

Pierce-Arrow trucks are still running after 8 years. All earned money for their owners whether the hauls were long or short, in the city or out of it.

Eventually you will measure the success of your truck by the length and regularity of its service and its low cost of maintenance and operation. When spread over years of service, the first cost becomes unimportant.

No. 30 has earned profits for three owners. For five years it delivered ice for the Standard Ice Company of Philadelphia. Then it was sold at a remarkably small depreciation to the American Oil Company of Baltimore.

For two years it carried oil and last year was bought by O. T. Davis of Mt. Airy, Md., for hauling grains, phosphates and other farm material from Baltimore to Mt. Airy.

Teeth Are Ruined

By a Film—Millions of Them

All Statements Approved by High Dental Authorities

Free A 10-Day Tube of Pepsodent, to show you how to end film. See below.

On Your Teeth Now

There is now on your teeth a slimy film. You can feel it with your tongue. It clings to teeth, gets between the teeth and stays.

The tooth brush alone doesn't end it. The ordinary tooth paste does not dissolve it. So month after month it stays there and may do a ceaseless damage.

That film is what discolors—not the teeth. It is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Most tooth troubles are now traced directly to that film.

Dental scientists have for years sought a way to end film. They have known that brushing could not save teeth if it left that film upon them. Now that film combatant has been found. Convincing tests, under able authorities, have proved it beyond question. The method is now embodied in a dentifrice called Pepsodent. And we supply it free for testing to anyone who asks.

The Way to End It

Pepsodent is based on pepsin, the digestant of albumin. The film is albuminous matter. The object of Pepsodent is to dissolve it, then to constantly combat it.

Pepsin long seemed impossible. It must be activated, and the usual agent is an acid harmful to the teeth. But science has discovered a harmless activating method. Now activated pepsin can be applied, night and morning, to combat that film.

Leading dentists everywhere are now advising Pepsodent. Countless people have already adopted it. And trial tubes are offered everywhere to show others what it does.

Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the slimy film. See how the teeth whiten as the fixed film disappears.

Let your own mirror show you what Pepsodent means to your teeth. Then decide for yourself about it. Cut out the coupon now.
