

THE WEATHER
Washington, Nov. 27.—Generally cloudy tonight and Friday; colder.
TEMPERATURE AT EACH HOUR

VOL. VI.—NO. 64

Entered as Second-Class Matter at the Postoffice at Philadelphia, Pa. Under the Act of March 3, 1879.

PHILADELPHIA, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 27, 1919

Published Daily Except Sunday. Subscription Price $3 a Year by Mail. Copyright, 1919, by Public Ledger Company.

PRICE TWO CENTS

COAL REFUSES TO FREE CONSULT AT U. S. DEMAND

Miners Scorn Government's Plan to End Strike, Calling It an "Insult"; Deadlock Continues

GERMANS SEEK TO RUIN WORLD BY RUSSIAN AID

Plot to Overthrow Bolshevists After Wiping Out Influence of Allies

CAPTURE OF PETROGRAD PREVENTED BY TEUTONS

"Deutschland, Russland Uher Alles" Now Chant Through-out Germany

By B. F. KOSPOTH

Special Correspondent of the Evening Public Ledger. Copyright, 1919, by Public Ledger Co. Geneva, Nov. 27.—The Germans have got a new slogan. Instead of singing "Deutschland, Deutschland uher Alles," as in the "glorious" days of yore, people all over Germany may now be heard chanting the words, "Deutschland, Russland uher Alles," a variation of the national anthem that is singularly significant of the ambitious hopes still entertained in Berlin of political and economic conquests in Russia.

Information has been received here from reliable sources illuminating Germany's appreciative and mysterious Russian policy, which in reality is bold enough. It leaves no doubt that the downfall of the soviet government and the restoration of order in Russia, which at last seemed to be within the range of possibility a few weeks ago, have been prevented chiefly by Berlin's secret machinations.

Germany Aids Bolshevism. It will be Germany's work if bolshevism survives another winter to commit the ruin of Russia and to menace and undermine western democracy.

In spite of the secret relations that continue to exist between the ex-Kaiser's generals and diplomats and the old pro-Russian Moscow, and the evident calculation that the longer Lenin's rule lasts the more likely his doctrine is to spread to the Allied countries and to annul the terms of the German treaty, the German leaders are just as anxious as anybody else to prevent the definite consolidation of bolshevism in Russia, which in the end would inevitably endanger Germany also.

But Germany's plan is that Lenin and Trotzky shall be overthrown either by German generals and German troops, or at any rate by Russian troops, and the Russian government, which is just as anxious as anybody else to prevent the definite consolidation of bolshevism in Russia, which in the end would inevitably endanger Germany also.

Realizing that a decisive victory of the Russian anti-Bolshevik leaders would ruin their ambitious schemes, the Germans gave the word to their secret agents in Russia and succeeded in frustrating the imminent triumph of the forces of law and order.

General Yudenitch's failure to capture Petrograd was precipitated by the attack of Colonel Hornomoff's Russo-German force on the Letts, in his rear, and in the reinforcement of the Red army on their flank by German troops of General von der Goltz.

Similar German action has been simultaneously launched in the south, where Petura's bands are striving to frustrate General Denikin's advance on Moscow, by organizing attacks and insurrections, camouflaged as an "Ukrainian national movement," in the rear of his victorious army.

An interesting account has been given me by a Russian diplomat who arrived here the other day from Berlin. According to his informant, the Russian agents have become a vast sphere of German political and economic influence in the future, but opinions differ widely as to the means of realizing this aim.

Hoffmann Favors Intervention. General Hoffmann, of Breslau-Litovsk fame, whose party is very strong at present, is an advocate of direct military intervention by Germany in Russia. Like all the Prussian generals he is confident—and this confidence is probably not unjustified—that a German expeditionary force would knock the bottom out of Russian bolshevism in a couple of weeks.

Hoffmann is supported by the great German industrialists—Krupps, Thyssen and Siemens—who, of course, have a supreme interest in the exploitation of Russia's vast natural wealth. There is consequently plenty of money at his disposal for propaganda and organization.

However, Hoffmann has a dangerous rival in the person of General Ludendorff, whose political influence is again growing, and who likewise aspires to conquer Russia for Germany as a substitute for her lost colonies.

Ludendorff is a more tortuous politician than Hoffmann. He still keeps up the former general staff's secret connections with the soviet dictators and was recently even offered the supreme command of the red armies by Trotzky.

As for Von der Goltz, his immediate plans do not go beyond the preservation of the Baltic states for Germany, which he is determined to realize at all costs and in open defiance of the Paris council with the aid of his subordinate, Bermond, and the German troops that have remained in these districts, more or less disguised as Russians.

MOTORIST KILLED IN CRASH WITH TROLLEY

The automobile which John H. Sharkey, 2126 Montrose street, was driving east on Market street at Fifty-seventh, when he crashed into a west-bound trolley, was fractured in the collision. He died at the West Philadelphia Homeopathic Hospital.

PENN MEN CHEER EARLY CAMDEN FIRE RETURNING TEAM DAMAGES BIG PLANT

A babel of cheers and glass yells, voiced by several thousand University of Pennsylvania students, greeted the Penn eleven this morning at the quarters on Franklin field.

Students Miss Red and Blue Oil Cloth Factory Threatened Eleven at Station—Greet Them at Field

The demonstration was the climax of a parade of the college's confident of the downfall of Cornell this afternoon before the night of the Red and Blue brawn.

CRASH WITH TROLLEY FATAL TO MOTORIST; POLICE HOLD CARMAN

Fatal injuries were received at 12:45 o'clock this morning by John H. Sharkey, 2126 Montrose street, when the automobile he was driving crashed head on with a trolley car on Market street west of Fifty-seventh.

WATCH HEAVENS TONIGHT

The occultation of the Star Beta Capricornia by the moon will be a Thanksgiving night spectacle visible to the naked eye through the eastern part of the country, says a bulletin issued by the Harvard astronomical laboratory.

AIRPLANES TO HUNT FOX

Airplanes will speed through the air, and horses and hounds on the ground, in pursuit of a hunted fox today at the Fox and Hounds Hunt, Newtown Square.

WAR ON TICKET DEALERS

The government's fight on ticket speculators will be carried to Franklin Field today. Close tab on ticket sales by speculators will be made, according to Chief Field Deputy Littlehales, of the Internal Revenue Department.

RAILROAD BRAKEMAN HURT

John Stauffer, a brakeman on the Philadelphia and Reading Railway, was struck by a freight train early today at the Babson street crossing, Newtown, and was seriously injured.

Would Restore Czarism. The plans of the Prussian generals naturally culminate in the restoration of czarism in Russia as a preliminary

GARFIELD OFFER FALLS FLAT; COAL TANGLE UNSOLVED

Miners Indignantly Refuse Government's Proffer of 14 Per Cent Increase

NO PRICE-RISE FEATURE REJECTED BY OPERATORS

Both Sides Meet Again Today to Resume Negotiations Looking to Settlement

Washington, Nov. 27.—All agencies of the government have failed so far to solve the obstinate coal miners' wage tangle and from the outlook early today the situation was as far from adjustment as it was when the negotiations began.

The last message was made by Ed Administrator Garfield, who last night told the miners and operators of a government plan of settling the dispute by granting the miners a 14 per cent increase in wages with the explicit stipulation that there would be no increase in the price of coal to the public.

This brought an outcry from both the miners and operators. The miners declared they would accept the 14 per cent increase and that under such a plan the men would not return to work.

The operators protested that the 14 per cent wage increase without an increase in the price of coal would force some of the larger coal companies out of business, and declared they were ready to renew the negotiations.

So with the situation here standing in chaos many parties will be held today in an effort to arrive at some solution of a problem which is vexing the government and causing anxiety among the public in view of the rapidly decreasing coal supply.

Decision Stunned Miners

The decision, announced last night by Doctor Garfield, director of the administrator, at a joint meeting of miners' operators, stunned the mine workers.

They were scarcely prepared for anything less than a compromise between the 20 per cent offered by the operators and the 31.64 per cent increase suggested by William B. Wilson, secretary of labor, and Doctor Garfield.

"Does not this decision mean that unless the miners agree to an agreement with the operators based on our findings that they will be regarded as outlaws?" fairly shouted Frank L. Farrington, president of the Illinois Federation of Miners.

"That is strong language, Mr. Farrington, president of the Illinois Federation of Miners. And before Doctor Garfield could answer his impassioned inquiry he added dramatically: "Then the miners have no alternative. They must either accept a 14 per cent increase or be regarded as enemies of the government."

MAD DOG CHASES POLICE

Breaking loose in the Third street and Fairmount avenue police station last night a mad dog, which had been captured after it had bitten a girl, ran into a room where half a dozen patrolmen were playing nunchuck. A little later the dog was shot by a patrolman.

BR-R-R! FIRE UP, IT'S HERE

The temperature in Philadelphia will drop to 25 degrees tonight and, according to the weather man, "everything will freeze hard." A little snow may fall during the day.

SNOW LIKELY TONIGHT; TEMPERATURE TO DROP TO 25 DEGREES

The temperature in Philadelphia will drop to 25 degrees above zero tonight and, according to the weather man, "everything will freeze hard." A little snow may fall during the day.

HOLD MAN IN JEWEL THEFT

A suspect at City Hall has been identified as one of the motorist bandits who broke the window of the jewelry store of Joseph K. Davidson's Sons, 210 South Thirteenth street, on November 12 and escaped with jewels valued at $4800.

Red Cross Nurse Identifies Suspect at City Hall

ANGELES'S FAREWELL TO SON

New York, Nov. 27.—(By A. P.)—A farewell telegram written by General Angeles, Mexican revolutionary on the eve of execution, was made public here today by his twenty-year-old son, Alberto, as follows:

"For the first time I am so contented. I hope that you will be a good man, a patriot and a hard worker. I want you to love your mother, sister and brothers very much. Kisses and embraces. FELIPE ANGELES."

TODAY'S FOOTBALL SCORES

ST. JOE... 0 13 — CATH'IC H. 7 0
EAST FALLS 0 0 — E. FLS Y.M.A. 0 0

TODAY'S SOCCER SCORES

PENN... 2 — MERION C. C. 1
HAVERFORD... 0 — CORNELL... 0

READING MINERS DECLINE TO WORK

READING, Pa., Nov. 27.—All of the mines of the Reading Coal and Iron Company are idle today. The officials hoped to get the operators going but the men failed to show up.

PASSENGERS IN TRAIN SUBMIT TO VACCINATION

TORONTO, Nov. 27.—More than 800 cases of smallpox in mild form in Ontario have been reported to the ministry of health. Half of these are in Toronto. All travelers into New York and Michigan must show certificates that they have been vaccinated within one month.

CHILEANS DEBATE COPYING U. S. BANK

SANTIAGO, Chile, Nov. 27.—The project of Guillermo Faberesscauz, minister of finance, for stabilization of Chilean currency by the creation of a central bank similar to the American Federal Reserve Bank, is being debated in the Chamber of Deputies.

STALLING IS SWEET PENN AND CORNELL IN SUGAR CRISIS

Artful Dodgers in Capital Await Sound of 5 o'clock Political Whistle

THE WORST IS YET TO COME MANY CHANGES IN LINE-UP

By CLINTON W. GILBERT. Staff Correspondent of the Evening Public Ledger. Washington, Nov. 27.—The administration is regulating sugar with eyes on the clock like a factory hand who hesitates about beginning a job as he listens for the 5 o'clock whistle to blow.

WILL BE HANDICAPPED BY SOGGY FIELD TODAY

The afternoon will find Cornell and Pennsylvania at the end of football's 1919 trail.

BULGARIA SIGNS PEACE

Paris, Nov. 27.—(By A. P.)—M. Stambulsky, premier of Bulgaria, signed the treaty of peace between his country and the allied powers at the Neuilly town hall at 10:30 o'clock this morning.

FIELD IN POOR SHAPE

If the weather is favorable 30,000 will see the game, and judging from the demands for tickets to be 20,000 would see it if the capacity of the field were doubled.

CORNELL STRONG

But—and buts are common this year—Cornell is known to have a powerful team, one far superior than the scores of the Ithacans would indicate.

CORNELL UNDERATED

Cornell is decidedly underrated. The Ithacans have lost several games this season, but in every game there has been a chance for a comeback.

GARRANZA REPLY DECLARES STAND UPHELD BY LAW

Washington Expects Cabinet to Meet Immediately on Receipt of the Official Text

ANSWER CALLS DEMAND CONTRARY TO PRECEDENT

Argues Jenkins Is Receiving All Legal Consideration and Can Have Bail If Asked

By the Associated Press

Washington, Nov. 27.—Mexico's note refusing to comply with the State Department's recent demand for the release of William O. Jenkins, the American consular agent imprisoned at Puebla on a charge that he connived with the bandits who kidnapped and held him for ransom, had not been received in Washington early today.

The only information officials had that a reply had been sent was contained in press dispatches last night. The text of the reply, as carried in these dispatches, was read carefully, but comment was withheld pending receipt and consideration of the official copy.

Although this was a legal holiday, the State Department officials were at their offices early to await receipt of the Mexicans' communication. There was no indication, however, as to when a cabinet meeting would be called to consider the reply, but it was believed such a meeting would follow almost immediately receipt of the Carranza government's statement.

In the meantime there was much speculation in diplomatic circles as to the further course of the controversy, and representatives of foreign governments watched the situation with keen interest.

BELIEF THAT THE RELATIONS OF FRIENDSHIP BETWEEN MEXICO AND THE UNITED STATES "CANNOT BE AFFECTED UNFAVORABLY"

—Mexico City, Nov. 27.—(By A. P.)—Belief that the relations of friendship between Mexico and the United States "cannot be affected unfavorably" by the former's refusal to give steps looking to the release of William O. Jenkins, United States consular agent from the penitentiary at Puebla, was expressed here in the following reply to the American demand for Jenkins' liberty sent by the Mexican Government to the American embassy late yesterday.

After reviewing the case, the reply pointed out the judge of the American demand for Jenkins' liberty sent by the Mexican Government to the American embassy late yesterday.

WILL BE HANDICAPPED BY SOGGY FIELD TODAY

The afternoon will find Cornell and Pennsylvania at the end of football's 1919 trail.

CORNELL STRONG

But—and buts are common this year—Cornell is known to have a powerful team, one far superior than the scores of the Ithacans would indicate.

CORNELL UNDERATED

Cornell is decidedly underrated. The Ithacans have lost several games this season, but in every game there has been a chance for a comeback.

THE WEATHER

Generally cloudy tonight and Friday. Colder tonight, assuming a dry day. Moderate winds from the north.

Can you bank on the promise? There's no knowing.

Can you bank on the promise? There's no knowing.

Continued on Page Two, Column Seven

Continued on Page Two, Column Seven

Continued on Page Two, Column Five

Continued on Page Two, Column Five

Continued on Page Thirteen, Column Four

Continued on Page Thirteen, Column Four