Then when you get back in her home slip into the room ahead of her and sit down. It's nine out of ten chances over and stand in front of you. Reach up, take her hand and ask her if she won't make that night one of the hup-piest in your life by kissing you. And I'll wager that in a moment, with a ittle tog from your hand, she'll be end-died in your arms—where she should be; that you'll be kissed as you (with all your loves) have never been kissed before and that the confidence and trust that she has put in you will be mul-tiplied a hundredfold.

This is a real problem, as you must do nothing to hart this young girl's feelings, and yet you must not do too much. Recommend her to write to the Y. W. C. A. for a room. It would not do for you to make arrangements for her. It would give the impression that you were specially interested in her and that would be a mistake any way you look at it.
