

RICH MEN TO AID DELINQUENT BOYS

Barracks Will Be Provided to Increase Capacity of Municipal Court Farm

HELPS UNFORTUNATE LADS

With funds subscribed by a number of leading Philadelphians, an army barracks from one of the abandoned military training camps will be purchased and erected on the Frazer Boy Farm, at Frazer, Pa., to house delinquent boys sent there by the Juvenile Court.

venile Court to arouse further interest in the movement. The Frazer Boy Farm is used by the Juvenile Court for the commitment of boys who are not innately bad, but whose delinquency is believed to be the result of their home surroundings or neighborhood environment. The need of a school of this kind to save boys from commitment to reformatories caused a group of officials connected with the Pennsylvania Railroad and interested in juvenile welfare work to organize a society about two years ago. Almost as soon as a suitable farm at Frazer had been located, the United States entered the world war and to insure ultimate establishment of the institution on the scale proposed, one of the society's officers, with the cooperation of the owner of the land, took title to the property and started the school in a small way.

THEOSOPHIST IN LECTURE

L. W. Rogers Says Slain Soldiers Live in Astral Regions

Soldiers who fall in the great war are not dead, but are still "vividly alive in astral regions," was the assurance of L. W. Rogers, national lecturer of the Institute of Theosophy, in an address last night at the Central Y. M. C. A.

Church parish house, Twenty-second and Chestnut streets, on "Old Souls in New Bodies."

In his lecture last night Mr. Rogers said the soldiers who died on the battlefields of Europe are not dead, but absent. They are making persistent efforts, he said, to get messages to their friends.

Cemeteries, he said, are merely places of accentuated grief. He advised his hearers to keep away from such spots. He insisted that it was possible for the living to communicate with the so-called dead.

Spur Cigarettes

HERE are so many different kinds of men who have declared SPUR the best cigarette they ever tasted, that we say: "Whatever appeals to you most about a cigarette you will probably find in SPUR." Judge 'em by that good old tobacco taste. Judge 'em by their high-breeding. Smoke all you want of 'em. They're right. Judge 'em by their class and form—their smart package of brown and silver—three fold to preserve their delicious taste and fragrance. They're not pasted—but crimped. Burn slower and draw easier. You'll know Spurs for a winner the minute the dealer trots 'em out. Try them now.

There's always room at the top—and SPURS are coming fast.
