Attempting to drawn himself, police say, a man jumped from the Gray's Fery bridge across the Schuylkill at D o'clock this morning. He struck a pier instead of the water. Workmen on a nearby wharf ran to his aid and he was sent to the Polyclinic Hospital.

Suffering from a fractured leg, fractured arm and a broken jaw, he has not regained consciousness and is in a serious condition. Letters in his pocket cause the police to believe he is Delbert B. Thomas, a machinist, who bearded on Garnet street below Ritner, until last April. His present address is unknown.

Gleed news for Main Line commuters.

Mr. Hindman will go to Washington Monday for a conference with officials of the Treasury Department. He was offered the office of prohibition enforcement for Pennsylvania several days ago. "I have neither formally accepted nor declined the office," Mr. Hindman said today. I don't know what the duties of the office will be, beyond the most general sort of knowledge. In fact, nobody has given very much thought to details of the enforcement of constitutional prohibition.

"After the conference Monday, I will have a better understanding of the job. If I accept, a preliminary organization will be sketched out in short time."

The enforcement officer for Pennsylvania, under present plans, will divide the state into districts, possibly three, corpesponding to the three federal judicial districts, enstern, middle and state into districts, possibly three, esponding to the three federal judidistricts, eastern, middle and girls, 58. Search is being made today here and in Camden for Percy Node, sixteen years old, 925 South Eighth street, Camden, who disappeared November 24. The boy's mother, after passing an anxious and sorrowful Thanksgiving Day, asked the police to help her find her son. She says the boy left home to go to work in a paper mill and did not return. He has light hair and gray eyes. When he disappeared he wore a brown overcoat and cap.

Then hear their Victor Records

Extraordinary interest attaches to the recitals of these great artists because of the double opportunity they afford the musicloving public.

It is a privilege in itself to hear these famous artists, and added importance is given to the events in that they enable you to compare their exquisite interpretations with their Victor Records.

Attend the concerts of these artists and note the individual qualities that distinguish their wonderful voices. Then go to any Victor dealer's and hear the Victor Records by the same artists. Note how faithfully their interpretations are portrayed on the Victrola.

It is because of this absolute fidelity that these three artists make Victor Records; that the greatest artists of all the world are Victor artists.
