On Monday We Say "Good Morning" to the Christmas Month

The November Bonfires Along the Park Roadway

with their enjoyable odors of burning leaves will soon be gone.

Dark-visaged eleventh month with her glooms and blasts of rain and wind which stripped her trees bare will take her farewell tomorrow night until another yearly round.

The eager hunter with his gun and dog creeps softly over the tangled fields and up the hillsides in the early morn in search of quail and four-footed game with his every pulse beat keenly prepared to meet each opportunity.

On Monday morning we say good morning to the Christmas month and begin to portion out to each day some part of our preparations for Christmas that it may not dawn on us suddenly and overload the swift-coming last week of the month.

From next Monday and only until Christmas Eve, the Store will open a quarter hour earlier and close a quarter hour later.

Presenting to Philadelphia a New and Exclusive Sports Fashion—

Smart New Clothes of "Sportsangora" — for Young Women

"Sportsangora" is a new knitted material of fine wool with brushed surface to give the effect of angora, and just how smart and effective it is you can best see in these new models presented Monday in the Young Women's Salons.

Wear These Sportsangora Fashions North or South—They Are for Warm or Cold Climes

For the warm, sunny resorts like Havana, Nassau, Palm Beach or the Riviera, the "Sportsangora" is combined with the beautiful, glistening Baronee satin—a fascinating combination. For those who are going North for the sports, for Montreal and Canada, for our own Lake Placid or Maine resorts, or for St. Moritz, the costumes are wholly of the soft, warm "Sportsangora." And if it is golf at Aiken or the Springs which lures you South, there are suits of "Sportsangora" in rich dark colors and a closer weave.

The Colors and Combinations Are Bewitching—suits all of white, or of white with gay striped or plaid borders, collars, cuffs, or perhaps a saucy Tam, or maybe a wide and fuzzy scarf. Some jackets are sleeveless—some have sleeves. The suits are $55 to $110; separate sports skirts are $30 to $45; 14 to 20 year sizes. And there is nothing like them in Philadelphia! (Second Floor, Chestnut)

Novelty Wraps and Coats of Mole

One splendid cape coat of mole appears at first sight to be composed of ruffles, yet it is slender and graceful on the woman who knows how to wear it. It has a huge muffled collar, fastened by a long cord at the neck, and is lined with rose veiled with brown. Price $950. Another coat has massive collar and cuffs of lynx and a front girde which ties and ends in little mole balls. This is $750. A little wrap which is mostly collar and sleeves is $550. A long, luxurious coat with the sleeve springing from the waistline is $800. Other coats may be had combined with gray squirrel. (Second Floor, Chestnut)

A Great Christmas Disposal of Fine Duvetyne Handbags

When you consider the beauty and fashionable pre-eminence of duvetyne handbags, you can appreciate what a feat it was to procure a large lot of these bags to sell below regular prices. The material in these bags is an excellent quality and all are well made and daintily silk lined. In all four groups you may choose from tan, taupe, brown, blue and black. $5.50 for a small bracelet handbag with metal frame and a tassel. $6.50 for a covered frame bag, larger. $7.50 for a bag with a decidedly new style of metal frame and fancy clasp, or an all-black handbag with gunmetal frame and black, gray or purple silk lining. $8.50 for a larger bag with tortoise shell finish frame and a tassel. As a gift opportunity this disposal will be hard to equal. (Main Floor, Chestnut)

A Sale of Waists

2000 Georgette and crepe de chine waists at $5 to $10.85. The Georgettes are light and dark; are beaded, embroidered and braided; with hand-drawn work and fagotting; with V, round and square necks. But they all have long sleeves. The crepes de chine are white and flesh colored styles. (East and West Aisles)

New Black Afternoon Skirts for Larger Women

One is a silk-and-cotton poplin, highly lustrous and shading almost like a moire. It is gathered on to a yoke, pointed at each side the front and in the back and finished with tiny buttons. $13.50. Another is a fine black satin, plain in the front and back and with partly stitched pleats at the sides. $28.75. Both in 32 to 40 inch waist measures. (First Floor, Central)

Daintiest of Dance Frocks for Women

Things of enchanting colors and fabrics—being made of radium taffeta, tulle and matelesse, not to mention satin de chine and other things. They have some of the prettiest fashion features of the day—garlands of flowers, veillings of tulle, rose quillings, panniers, bound scallops, and their colors are lovely, running a gamut from the palest of pale greens to the vividest of rose hues. Also there is among them a sprinkling of black. Prices are $40 to $150. (First Floor, Central)

So Many Women Wear Little Finger Rings

Even those who don't care for rings on any other finger. It is a good thing to remember when making up one's Christmas list. Set with a semi-precious stone, these little finger rings are very pretty and effective and they need not be at all expensive. There is a fine assortment now, and this is the best time to make one's selection. They are all mounted in 14-k. gold. Topaz, $9 to $53. Amethyst, $7 to $60. Aquamarine, $21 to $60. Green tourmaline, $9 to $60. Opal, $21 to $62. Onyx, $17 to $38. Garnet, $7.50 to $47. Sardonx, $9 to $13. (Jewelry Store, Chestnut & 13th)

Silver Jewelry Enameled in Colors

There are brooches, bar pins, horseshoe pins, bowknit pins, lingerie clasps, hat pins, thimbles, bib holders, collar pins and flower pins. Prices start at $1 a pair for the collar pins and go on up to $3.50 for dainty bowknits. (Jewelry Store, Chestnut & 13th)

Some of the Finest Coatings Have Arrived Recently

Just in are some beautiful silky kitten's ear zibelene coatings in brown, Copenhagen, navy and black at $5 a yard. New diagonal silvertone velours for suits or coats at $6 a yard. Other silvertones are $5 and $6 a yard. Bolivias, for coats, $8.50 and $10 a yard. Plain velours, $5 and $6.50. Camel's hair for sports suits and coats, natural tan or brown, $12 a yard. Wool duvetyne, $12 and $14 a yard. (First Floor, Chestnut)

Brand-New Umbrellas at $5 for Women and Men

They are attractive enough for gifts, and practical enough for good service—which is a fine combination in a Christmas umbrella. The covers are of union taffeta, which is silk and cotton, the frames are the strong paragon kind, and the handles are good-looking. The umbrellas for women have bakelite tops and rings, and there are many good styles; those for men have plain and carved mission wood handles and some have sterling silver caps and bands. (Main Floor, Market)

About the Most Beautiful Wraps Are Those of Duvetyne

There is not one among them but is luxuriously trimmed with handsome fur, such as beaver, squirrel, mole, skunk, Hudson seal (died muskrat) or Russian fish. As a further trimming there is often hand embroidery in chenille and silk or gold thread. Then duvetyne, which is easily the most fashionable fabric of the Winter, lends itself particularly well to these loose draped garments. In color it frequently matches the fur. In the case of one lovely wrap with squirrel collar and armhole cuffs, the color of the duvetyne is winter rose. Another is an exquisite old blue. Prices start at $250 and end at $475, the latter for a coat, the lower part of which is duvetyne and the entire upper part moleskin. (First Floor, Central)

250 Silk Petticoats

Samples and small lots, of taffeta and of jersey with taffeta flounces. Colors are light and dark, and they are in solid and changeable colors and stripes. $3.85 to $6.50. (East Aisle)

Exquisite Linens—Gifts of Charm and Distinction

Gifts of fine linens manifest a sense of old-time elegance as well as a sense of the exquisite. We are glad to have such a beautiful Christmas assemblage of these goods to offer to people of taste in such things. The finer pieces, in their profuse embellishments of lace, are artworks in their way. In these, filet is seen in all its loveliness. There are French cloths, 45 to 90 inches in diameter, at $25 to $450. Filet scarfs, 20x35 inches to 20x72 inches, at $50 to $100. Filet sets of 25 pieces at $135 a set. (First Floor, Chestnut)

New Blankets of Fineness and Warmth

The best kind of Winter news is that we have opened several boxes of handsome, warm and serviceable blankets, fine for gift-giving or fine to have for one's very own. One of the new lots brings remarkably good blankets woven with 70 per cent wool in the filling, cut and bound separately, weighing 6½ pounds, bordered handsomely in pink or blue—our own exclusive designs, and priced at $18 a pair, for size 80x90 inches. (Sixth Floor, Central)

The Big, Bright, Sparkling Christmas Sale of Cut Glass Opens Monday

We could end this announcement right here—so many people looking for crystal gifts of excellence and moderate price are on the lookout for this very occasion. What a radiant feast of opportunity awaits them! The beauty of it is that this is a collection of cut glass chosen with three thoughts specially in mind—good quality, gift suitability and low price. These are distinctive features of the sale. Another thing to remember is that this is our own kind of cut glass, the kind we sell regularly throughout the year. Practically all of it is absolutely new. $20,000 Worth at 20 to 33 1-3 Per Cent Less Than Our Own Regular Prices for the Same Goods

A Windfall of Fine Suits in the Men's London Shop

About 150 men can profit by an unusual circumstance. Some splendid suits, to this number, that were bought last Spring, have just arrived. Since these suits were contracted for, factory prices have increased and we have been obliged to pay more for goods bought subsequently and price them accordingly. Now comes this delayed shipment, and because they were bought so early we can sell them for considerably less than suits of the same quality are regularly selling for. They are all fine in fashion and are made of chevots, "homespun, cassimeres and a few worsteds. The fabrics are distinctive in design and are mostly in spirited browns, grays, tans and greens. Prices of this particular lot are $50, $52.50, $55 to $60. Other fine suits in the Men's London Shop up to $90. (The Gallery, Chestnut)

Men's House Gowns Count in the City of Homes

The men of Philadelphia are domestic—and not ashamed of it. They like their own homes and enjoy evenings with their families. They are the kind of men house coats and dressing gowns were made for. Dressing gowns of wool, velvet and silk, both imported and domestic, and either in plain colors or in beautiful designs. Of wool at $20 to $35. Of velvet at $50. Of silk at $20 to $55. House coats of double-faced cloth, $7.50 to $25; of silk, $35. (Main Floor, Chestnut)

A Bairnsfather Book

"From Mud to Muffi," by Bruce Bairnsfather, whom the Literary Digest calls a war-lord of laughter. Price $1.75. "Color Schemes for the Home and Modern Interior," by Henry W. Frohne and Alice F. and Bettina Jackson. A most beautiful and admirable book, designed to provide the home-maker with practical guidance in selecting and arranging furnishings. Price $4.50. (Main Floor, Thirtieth)

Tinsel Tapestry Scarfs Copies of French Tapestries

They are just such a gift as many people like to give. They will fit on any table and look well in any room and they are very pretty in themselves. Some are of the tapestry alone. These come in four sizes, $7.50, $10, $13.75 and $15. Others have the ends trimmed with velour and are finished with gold braid and fringe, $17.50 and $25. (Fifth Floor, Market)

Lamps and Shades Specially Priced

500 boudoir lamps, 8 and 12 inches high, with mahogany finish, $2.50 each. 500 silk lamp shades, 10 and 12 inches high; all colors, pretty nearly, $2.50 and $3.50. (East Aisle)

Here Are the Christmas House Slippers

Just a few lines to tell those who always give a pair or two of these useful gifts that selections are now complete and choosing best. Men's and women's house slippers of felt, with leather or soft padded soles; women's satin mules; men's high and low cut leather slippers and many other kinds. Men's house slippers, $1 to $7. Women's house slippers, $1.25 to $4.50. (First Floor, Market)

Japanese Hand Braided Rugs Make Pleasing Gifts

Especially the smaller ones, of which we have such a good assortment. They are so cheerful in coloring and design.

EYES are so tremendously important to pleasure and efficiency that it is a wise person who doesn't neglect or abuse them. We fill oculists' prescriptions for glasses with great care, and do repair work expeditiously. (Main Gallery, Chestnut)

Dear Little Party Frocks for Wee Maids

Picture tiny frocks of fluffy white net, with frilled skirts and frills around the neck, and finished with glistening satin bows and sash, and you'll have some idea of these dear little dresses which we have just unpacked. There are several charming styles, all of the fine white net, and they are kinds mothers will like for party frocks for their little daughters who wear 2 to 6 year sizes. $14.50 to $28—and they'd make the daintiest of gifts! (Third Floor, Chestnut)

Prism Binoculars—The demands of the war produced the Victory Binoculars—wonderful glasses for army and navy officers. Now, in peace time, you can get one at a lower price than before or during the war—$45 while they last. Pearl opera glasses—a standard choice with Santa Claus—are $10 to $20. (Main Gallery, Chestnut)

These Lace Tops Make Such Pretty Camisoles

—that it is hard to keep them always on hand. Because we know so many women will want them to make up for Christmas gifts we have had an unusually large number made up. They are all run through with dainty ribbons, and the shoulder straps are already in place, so that all that is needed is to attach them to the cambric, silk or satin, as the case may be, and finish off the waistline. They are also used for chemises and nightgowns. In imitation filet, Duchess or Valenciennes laces, $1.25 to $4. Or you may buy the same laces for extra trimming or to make these tops yourself. (Main Floor, Central)

Why Not Give Something Electric for Christmas?

Even if it's only one of the delightful little pocket flash-lights that, in the past few years, have made themselves such great conveniences as to be considered almost necessary by everybody. We have them in all their various good styles and receive fresh batteries daily. Christmas tree lighting outfits with various colored bulbs—8 lights, $3.50; 16 lights, $7.50; 24 lights, $10.50; 32 lights, $14. Electrically heated curling irons, $6.50. Electric coffee makers, pot and faucet types, $9.50 to $24. Electric irons, for laundry and travelers' use, $6.25 to $7.75. Electric toasters, $6.50 to $7.25; some that turn the toast. Chaffing dishes, $15.75 to $20. Electric grills that stew, fry, broil and toast, and heat with four degrees of heat, $10.50 to $12.50. Electric water heater with egg-boiling attachment, $11. Electric hotplates, $6.50 to $10.50. Immersion heaters, for boiling small quantities of water, $6. Waffle irons, $16.50. Electric heating pads, $9.50 and $10. Electric heaters, five makes, $8.50 to $12. Electric portable lamps, for study and table, $3.50 to $13. Electric adapters, for candlestick and vase, $2.25 to $6. Electric vibrators, $5 to $27. Dimalite sockets, 5 changes of light, $1.25 and $1.50. Electric fountains, $85 to $300. Electric washers. Every household should have an electric washer. $80 to $150. Electric ironing machines, $150. Electric ranges, $30 to $125. Electric dish washers; Western Electric make, $80; Whirlpool, $135. Star electric vibrators, $5. An expert from the factory is demonstrating this wonderful apparatus and will be glad to explain all about it to our customers. (Fourth Floor, Central)
