

U.S. WELLS DRILL COAL FOR FOREIGN SHIPS

Order Goes Into Effect Friday. Many Industries Under Fuel Ban

PRIVATIONS ARE EXPECTED

By the Associated Press. New York, Dec. 2.—The furnishing of fuel for foreign-flag steamships will be discontinued at United States ports after 1 a. m. December 5, it was announced here today by the War Relocation Administration.

This, officials of the exchange said, is in compliance with an order received from the fuel administration at Washington.

The order was issued, it was said, as a conservation measure for the nation's supply of fuel. Agents of foreign lines were notified that they must after that date obtain their bunker coal elsewhere than at United States ports.

The Tidewater Coal Exchange here is the representative of fuel administration in allotting of fuel for ships.

Chicago, Dec. 2.—(By A. P.)—Restrictions on the use of coal, already put into effect by regional coal committees where the pinch of necessity had been felt today were extended throughout the nation under an order from the federal fuel administrator.

Under the sweeping order of Fuel Administrator Garfield limiting distribution of coal, of most vital to essential industries in the first five classes on the war priority list, curtailment of production was in prospect in factories turning out boots and shoes, brass and tinware, machinery, and various other products, except where specifically exempted, iron and steel, jewelry, purple and stone products, musical instruments, paper goods, sign and spirit, excise and carriages, wood manufactures, sheet and metal products, leather goods, harnesses, paints and varnishes, photographic supplies and miscellaneous non-essentials.

Theatres, motion-picture shows and all other places of amusement faced complete shutdown. Churches, schools and schools also were included in that category, although efforts were being made to postpone closing schools as long as possible.

Bakeries, except those producing only bread, also fell under the ban, as did confectioners and certain packing plants.

Some of these industries, however, an immediate shutdown might be forestalled if the regional coal committees permitted them to operate until their present supply of fuel was exhausted.

Pittsburgh, Kan., Dec. 2.—(By A. P.)—Coal mined by volunteer workers in the strip mines of Kansas is being loaded on cars today for shipment to the western part of the state, where the fuel shortage is said to be acute.

Lincoln, Neb., Dec. 2.—(By A. P.)—With temperatures in Nebraska reaching as low as 10 below zero and the situation in Kansas becoming more acute, Governor McKelvie today called for volunteers to serve as miners in the states from which Nebraska obtains fuel supplies.

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 2.—(By A. P.)—The public could not see the strike if it was sent to Washington urging that the policy of Secretary Wilson be adopted, according to William Greer, secretary-treasurer of the Mine Workers of America, who returned to Indianapolis today.

BACKS ANTI-STRIKE CLAUSE. Senate Committee Wants House to Accept Its Bill.

LEIB HAS AN ALIBI, HIS COUNSEL SAYS

Accused Politician Not in This City on Day of Alleged Fraud.

CHARACTER IS PRASED

The defense in the case of the commonwealth against William S. Leib, Schuylkill county politician charged with forging four receipts for taxes paid by the Merchant & Evans Co., of this city, offers an alibi.

Former Schuylkill County Judge John E. Whelan, senior counsel for Leib, made this clear this afternoon in opening the case before Judge Johnson in Quarter Sessions Court.

Character witnesses were first called who swore to the honesty of the defendant. Three men took the stand to testify they saw the defendant in Harrisburg at the time he was alleged to have been in Philadelphia and presented the alleged bogus tax receipts to James D. Evans, of the Merchant & Evans Co.

Mr. Evans, on the stand, refrained from giving the exact date he said the defendant's bogus receipts were handed to him by Leib in this city.

Leib's defense was based on the fact that he was in Harrisburg on the night of Monday, January 6, and on the following day. Two other witnesses testified that they saw the defendant in Harrisburg at the time he was alleged to have been in Philadelphia.

Associates in Capital Testify. One was Thomas H. Garvan, Republican boss of Delaware county and chief clerk of the House of Representatives. The other was Ira Dale Meade, a resident of Philadelphia, and Thomas H. Moore, a resident of Harrisburg.

James B. Rolley, lawyer of Philadelphia and congressman from Schuylkill county, was the first witness called.

Mr. Rolley testified that he was called by Leib in Harrisburg on the night of Monday, January 6, and on the following day. Two other witnesses testified that they saw the defendant in Harrisburg at the time he was alleged to have been in Philadelphia.

Will Admit Receiving Blanks. He said the defendant would admit having received blank duplicate tax receipts on the state treasurer's department. These the commonwealth alleges Leib used in preparing the alleged bogus receipts.

Mr. Whelan said it was necessary to procure and file an affidavit showing this amount of the defendant's tax claim—was made up. This Mr. Whelan said, necessitated delay, which was augmented by the influenza epidemic and the illness of Leib's family and himself.

Mr. Whelan said it would be shown the full amount of the check was subsequently paid to the state two months before any prosecution was brought against Leib, and that Mr. Evans knew these facts and the circumstances which had caused the delayed payment.

Called Instructions Illegal. Mr. Whelan argued such instruments were illegal, and therefore, could not be evidence. He urged also that a legislative act requires tax receipts be sealed as well as signed, and that the copies offered in this case were not sealed and hence are worthless as evidence.

Mr. Carr attacked the venue of the case as an additional argument for its dismissal. He declared that the only evidence to show where the alleged forged copies had been issued, was a Harrisburg card on the defendant's present prosecution, he said, should be brought in Dauphin county.

500 MORE PATROLMEN DEMANDED BY WILSON TO PROTECT THE CITY

Director of Public Safety Wants Councils to Act Without Any Delay.

Five hundred additional patrolmen are urgently needed in Philadelphia, this was the keynote of a statement by Director of Public Safety Wilson today, after a conference with Superintendent of Police Robinson, on ways to put an end to robberies and hold-ups in Philadelphia.

At present there is a greatly reduced number of applications for positions on the police force. This is because the police salaries are not being paid. Men want to do better in other positions.

When I am given authority to use 500 more men, Councils should do something to improve the earnings of policemen, so that the department can get the right sort of men for police work.

"GET-TOGETHER" FIRE AT N. Y. SHIPYARD WAR HELPED COLLEGE MAN

Pleasant Time Is Had by All When Gloucester and South Yard Firemen Meet.

LEADERS UPHOLD NOTE TO MEXICO

Congress Expects Serious Situation if Carranza Refuses to Free Jenkins

MESSAGE NOT YET RECEIVED

Washington, Dec. 2.—Believing that the United States Government "means business" in its negotiations with the Mexican Government over the Jenkins case, officials and members of Congress here today endorsed the stand of Secretary Lansing as expressed in the latest note to President Carranza.

Although no ultimatum was issued to the Mexican Government, the note contained sharp language, with a tone of warning indicating that unless William O. Jenkins, the American consular agent imprisoned at Puebla, were released immediately, action would be taken to force compliance.

The note branded as "mere excuses" Mexico's plea of judicial reasons for not releasing Jenkins and declared that the "United States would not be distracted from the main issue by a discussion of 'irrelevant and unimportant matters.'"

Carranza's reply is being awaited with eager interest in Washington, as the future course of this government will be determined by his next move.

In no fewer than five places in the note the Secretary of State's Government is told in diplomatic language that the United States Government considers "intentions in the Mexican reply to be untrue and designed only to draw the United States into a 'subtle argument,' which it will not consider."

BALDWIN TO WATCH DELIVERIES OF COAL

Railroad Regional Director Says Garfield's Order Will Be Carried Out

COMMITTEE PLANS WORK

I. W. Baldwin, regional director of the Allegheny region, said today that the railroad administration of this region would as far as possible carry out United States Fuel Administrator Garfield's order restricting the distribution of coal to only essential and urgent industries.

This statement followed a meeting at noon in the Pennsylvania Building with the regional committee, comprising E. H. Bankard, Walter G. Yantis, J. W. Lowery and George C. Fiedisch.

"We intend to tighten up on the distribution of coal to the first five priorities," said Mr. Baldwin. "As far as possible we hope to see that enough of a supply is afforded those five classes as is necessary for essential activity."

The committee will distribute the coal as judiciously as is possible. It is within the realm of the state and municipal authorities to see that the coal is used in the most efficient manner.
