FOUR DEAD, 2 HURT IN AUTO MISHAPS

Six Victims in Sunday Accidents—Kensington Child Killed by Machine

THREE MEN LOSE LIVES

The death of another auto victim in a local hospital early today brought the total of fatalities from yesterday's motor accidents in and near this city to four.

Two men were injured, one being struck by an automobile that was wrecked later in an accident in which one of its two occupants was hurt.

The man who died today was struck by an auto last night on the Roosevelt boulevard. Earlier in the evening a six-year-old girl was killed at Kensington avenue and Monmouth street. Two men were killed late in the afternoon when their car was struck by a trolley car at Lewis crossing, near Swarthmore, Delaware county.

The dead were: C. Robert Bean, twenty-seven years old, 2215 West Cumberland street.

Sarah Mindick, six years old, 2052 Kensington avenue.

Nathan J. Stewart, an engineer at the Franklin Paper Mills, on Crum creek, where he lived.

David Logue, a paper maker at the same mill, who lived near Stewart.

Those injured are: Charles Donahue, thirty years old, 1050 Germantown avenue, both legs broken and scalp cut; St. Mary's Hospital, struck by automobile.

Frank Kenna, an occupant of the car, serious injuries to the body; Roosevelt Hospital. The man refused to confirm the identification, which was made from papers in his pocket.

Bean died at 6:15 o'clock this morning in St. Luke's Hospital from a fracture of the skull.

He was struck and knocked down at 10:15 o'clock last night while crossing to the south side of the Northeast Boulevard, west of Ninth street.

Meyer Landow, 3148 West Montgomery avenue, driver of the machine, which was proceeding east on the boulevard, took the man to the hospital. He then hurried to the police of the Germantown and Lycoming avenues station. He will be arraigned before Magistrate Wrightley today.

Girl Runs in Front of Car Sara Mindick was killed about 10 o'clock. She ran out in front of an automobile driven by James F. Sheeran, twenty-one years old, of Narberth, witnesses say.

The street is rather dark at this point, the accident was in the act of making the light uncertain. Sheeran said he did not see the girl until she was directly in front of his machine.

He applied the brakes but the car skidded and struck the girl.

He stopped the machine. He and Charles Palling, of Lansdowne, with whom he was riding, jumped out and placed the girl in the automobile. They made a quick run to the Episcopal Hospital, but the girl was dead.

Sheeran gave himself up to the police at the front and Westmoreland street station. He will have a hearing today. Palling was not arrested.

The accident at Lewis crossing occurred when the two men were returning home to Crum Creek. Stewart was driving. Logue was the only passenger.

The crossing is regarded as a very dangerous one. The approach of the trolley cars is hidden from the roadway because the rails are laid through a deep cut at this point.

The automobile was struck directly on the tracks when struck by a trolley car bound for Media. The car was going full speed and the motorman had no chance to stop it between the time he saw the machine and the collision, he said.

The automobile was wrecked. Both men were hurled from the machine far ahead and high up on the embankment by the impact. The trolley car was stopped and passengers and crew ran to the two men. Both were dead.

The bodies were taken to the morgue at Media. Coroner Dreyfus, of Delaware county, will make an investigation of the accident today.

Rider Runs Away Donahue was struck at Thompson and Second streets while crossing. The automobile was running fast at the time and the driver apparently made no effort to stop.

The machine continued its wild drive down Second street to Callowhill, where it struck a pole and was wrecked. Two men were in it. One was thrown fully twenty feet. He landed near a patrolman, but before the latter could stoop to help him, the man arose and ran away.

The other man was found under the wrecked machine. From a receipt found in his pocket he was identified as Frank Kenna. He refused to confirm the identification when he recovered consciousness in the hospital. Before Magistrate Yates, however, he admitted his identity and was held without bail to await the results of Donahue's injuries. He lives on Montrose street near Broad.

Kenna was taken to the Roosevelt Hospital in a patrol. His condition is critical. Donahue was taken to St. Mary's Hospital in a mail truck. His condition also is as critical.

The police do not know whether Kenna or his companion drove the automobile.

SHOOTS WIFE ON WAY FROM CHURCH

Camden Man Then Turns Gun on Himself—Both in Serious Condition

SEPARATED ON LABOR DAY

Mrs. Mary Idler, fifty years old, 813 Walnut street, Camden, who was shot by her husband as she left church yesterday morning, is in a critical condition in the Cooper Hospital.

John Idler, the husband, who then turned the gun on himself, is in a serious condition at the same institution.

The shooting occurred a few minutes after Mrs. Idler left the Church of Saints Peter and Paul, St. John and Spruce streets, and within sight of scores of other persons leaving the church.

At Mrs. Idler turned into Walnut street near Newton avenue, her husband approached. She had been separated from him since Labor Day and she began to hurry away. He caught up to her. Pedestrians heard two shots. First the woman fell to the ground, then the man, his body resting over that of his victim.

They were taken to the Cooper Hospital. Mrs. Idler was shot in the back. Her spine was injured. She is partially paralyzed. Her husband was shot in the groin.

The couple have three children, two daughters and a son. Joseph, twenty-five years old, said his father's act was prompted by jealousy. Idler is already under bail for threatening his wife's life.

Mrs. Idler went to church yesterday morning with Katherine and Helen, her daughters, twenty-two and nineteen years old, respectively. They left the services early and she was going home alone when the shooting occurred.

During the night, the woman kept begging the doctors at the hospital to save her life. She kept repeating that her husband had no reason to shoot her.

The man maintained silence. He did not evince any interest in the seriousness of his wound, nor inquire into the condition of his wife. He will be arraigned if he recovers sufficiently to leave the institution.

Since separating from his wife, Idler, who is a watchman at a railroad crossing, has been living with friends near Fourth and Jasper streets.

GIBSON, BIGAMIST, JAILED

Man Who Had Five Wives Gets Four Years and Three Months

Frank H. Gibson, Philadelphia's self-confessed bigamist, who calmly admitted before County Judge Young in White Plains, N. Y., that he had five wives, was sentenced Saturday to four years and three months at hard labor in Sing Sing prison.

Gibson, who is fifty-two years old, was found guilty last Thursday after just five minutes of deliberation by the jury. It was his second conviction on the same charge, as he had been sentenced to prison in 1916 after an elopement with Addie Robinson, Ertlich street and Girard avenue. Miss Bessie Delart, wife No. 3, was also a Philadelphia girl. Fort Wayne, Ind.; Richmond, Va., and Ossining, N. Y., supplied the other three wives.

Asked if he thought he had a good code of morals, Gibson replied: "Oh, yes; just as good as anybody's."

"HAMILTON" STILL MYSTERY

Kendrick Says He Is Not Donor of $15,000 to Last Campaign

"Samuel Hamilton," who is credited with a $15,000 contribution to the Republican central campaign committee last Friday, has been identified by the committee as the man who gave the $15,000.

Murdoch Kendrick, who managed the Moore United Republican campaign committee, denied today he made any contribution in the name of Samuel Hamilton. And in that denial can be found a hint that the man who gave the $15,000 may have been kept in ignorance of the name selected to put opposite the amount on the committee's records of collections and expenses.

"I don't know anything about Samuel Hamilton," Mr. Kendrick said when questioned. "No checks made in the name of a contribution from the Moore United Republican campaign committee or from me bear that name."

It was then suggested that the $15,000 may have been cash.

"I made no contribution in the name of Samuel Hamilton," Mr. Kendrick said. And then he laughed.

A University press building, with equipment for printing the University of Pennsylvania publications, is being agitated.

The Punch Bowl, the monthly humorous magazine, has proposed that permanent quarters be assigned now to all University publications. The basement of the Houston Club or some other suitable place should be arranged for by the graduate and undergraduate authorities, says the publication.

Three undergraduate publications, the Punch Bowl, the Red and Blue, which is the monthly editorial and literary magazine, and the annual Record Book of the senior class were housed in the basement of Logan Hall this fall, until the fire in that building made it necessary for them to scatter to various parts of the campus.

Hunter Dies From Wounds

Walter S. Pierson, Clayton, N. J., died yesterday in the Jefferson Hospital from wounds received when a gun he was carrying while hunting near that town was accidentally discharged.

It must be so, when so many say that our Values in Overcoats and Suits are remarkable at the prices!

Often it's a matter of several million dollars when it comes to the appraisal of a trademarked brand.

Why don't you wait till you go to Philadelphia and visit Perry's? You'll get it there, all right, and it won't cost a fortune, either.

The other day a Pittsburgher bought an Overcoat here and told his salesman that he tried to get what he wanted out home, but failed.

"Why don't you wait till you go to Philadelphia and visit Perry's? You'll get it there, all right, and it won't cost a fortune, either."

The fact is, we have been and are fighting the high prices!
