MRS. WILSON PLANS SOME UNUSUAL MEALS

Directions Are Given for Planking Steak and for Making Colbert Sauce to Serve With It

Cheese and Pepper Sand wiches Are Novel and Delicious for Supper on Sunday Evening.

By MRS. M. A. WILSON right, 1919, by Mrs. M. A. Wilson. At

My Dear Mrs. Wilson : I have read and tried many of your recipes with very good results. I wish you would kindly publish in your columns how to plank a steak, also a gravy or sauce to go with it. Thanking you in advance.

TUST before the approach of the holidays the housewife is frequently hard put to find variety for the Sunday meal. This is an ideal time to plan a planked steak meal for the family. A SUGGESTIVE SUNDAY MENU

IRONING ISN'T SO HARD WHEN YOU HAVE THESE HELPS

The ironing board is fastened to the wall with a hinge that allows it to be folded up out of the way when not in use. A brace is also hinged on the board, and may be made long enough to reach back to the wall, or merely long enough to reach the floor like a table leg. Adventures With a Purse

THERE is something very smart and trim about a strictly tailored shirt-I trim about a strictly tailored shirt—particularly for business. For a long time I have wanted one, but have not known just where to find it. But I anow now, and so am passing the information along to you. They are regular boys' shirts, in white, of a heavy basket weave, with a self collar attached. One wears them with a soft black four-in-hand tie. The price is only $1.75, which I consider a real bargain. And then, the same shirt comes in a lovely quality of heavy white silk ones in only two sizes. 13 and 13½.

I want to tell you about something I think would make a particularly nice gift for the girl who is not living at home and who counts but one room her kingdom. It is one of those new candy is rest that remind one of an urn. It is of cut glass, of a light cut, and costs only eighty five cents. It would be nice for her to have for when she has company. Personally, I consider it one of the best values I have seen for some time.

Then they turned and raced back again to Mother, who sat aure colors.

Then I discovered another mighty pice gift—for the girl who plays. It is a collection of plane numbers, bound at-tractively in a cloth cover of dull green with gill lettering. The collection is a very good one, too. There are a number of selections from operas, some nice little waltzes—one by Chopin, and Chopin's beloved Nocturne in E flat. Chopin's beloved Nocturne in E flat. They all have been rearranged so that they are remarkably simple. I know that I for one would be mighty glad to receive such a thoughtful glift. And, oh. yes—I almost forgot—you can get the same edition in a collection of songs from grand operas. The price is $1.50, which I consider mighty research. Mother looked suddenly at the clock, got up hastily, and began gathering up boxes.
