

7 HURT IN SMASH OF AUTO AND TAXI

Crash on Bristol Pike Leaves One Car a Wreck—Virginia Driver Pays Fine

STATE POLICE TAKE CHARGE

Seven persons were injured, one seriously, at the intersection of the Bristol road and Lincoln Highway, when a large touring car struck and demolished a taxicab Wednesday. The report of the accident was made public by the authorities today.

Six of the seven persons hurt were passengers in the touring car. The seventh was the chauffeur of the taxicab.

The Injured
 Mrs. Fannie Singley, seventy-three years old, Bristol, internal injuries, condition serious.
 Mrs. Sarah Romig, Bristol, severe cuts about the body.
 Mrs. Elizabeth Nicastro, Bristol, bruises.
 Mrs. Lillian Heuser, Harbison, Pa., bruises.
 Morris Heuser, her son, bruises.
 Eugene Cole, Bristol, taxicab driver, bruises.
 William Lent, whose home is said to be in Virginia, was driving the touring car.
 After the accident he was arrested by a member of the state police and was fined for reckless driving.
 Lent paid the fine and then left the scene.

automobile as security to pay for damages which may result from the collision. He was released on his own recognizance to await the outcome of injuries suffered by the victims of the affair.

AN EXCELLENT RECITAL

Mrs. Littlefield and Miss Fisher Gave Fine Program at New Century Club

Mrs. Laura Littlefield, soprano, of Boston, and Miss Rachel Fisher, pianist, gave an enjoyable recital before a rather small but thoroughly appreciative audience at the New Century Club last evening. Mrs. Littlefield has a clear, high soprano voice of excellent quality and power and uses it with much skill and taste. She sang three groups of songs, the first French, the second Russian and the third in English.

All were well sung, though from the standpoint of musical beauty the Russian songs were the finest, including as they did, the well-known "Steppe" of Gretchniuff and the lovely "Soft-footed Snow" of Lili. In her English songs Mrs. Littlefield appeared to the best advantage in the semi-dramatic "The Bird" of Dwight Fiske, an exceedingly difficult song to make effective and requiring great control of voice, and in Bartok's "Feast of Lanterns." Owing to its resonance, her voice would sound to even better advantage in a larger hall.

Miss Fisher played the B-flat Impromptu of Schubert, three études of Chopin, the "Jeu d'Orgue" of Liszt and the brilliant E major Polonaise of Liszt. She has an excellent technique, considerable facility in her playing and good tone both in volume and quality, although she was painfully nervous and at times a little inclined to an over-use of the pedal. She is a promising young pianist and was cordially received by the audience.

PROBE BY OSBORNE FOR MOYAMENSING

Former Warden of Sing Sing Will Study Methods of County Prison

PART OF NATIONAL MOVE

Thomas Mott Osborne, formerly warden of Sing Sing prison, New York, will come to this city to investigate Moyamensing Prison, it is announced. The probe into conditions here will be part of a nation-wide campaign for prison reform. The campaign, backed by a man of influence in Washington, known for the present as "The Gray Brother," will be undertaken to place fifty-nine state prisons and five federal penitentiaries upon a "humane basis," according to the announcement.

Osborne made a secret visit here some months ago and visited Moyamensing. His objection to the prison is said to be that solitary confinement is in vogue there.

According to prison officials, solitary confinement is mandatory upon penal institutions by an act of assembly and Osborne will have to recognize the matter as one for the state of Pennsylvania to consider.

Before he can investigate further he must obtain the sanction of the prison inspectors of Philadelphia county. These officials say they have received no request from Mr. Osborne and until they do they prefer to remain silent regarding the matter.

LEWIS HOWELL SINGS

Well-Known Baritone Soloist With University Extension Orchestra

Lewis James Howell, the well-known baritone, was the soloist last evening at the concert of the University Extension Orchestra, under the direction of Albert N. Hoxie, at Witherspoon Hall. Mr. Howell sang first the aria "Credo" from Otello, a rather thankless piece of music, lacking in the usual melodiousness of Verdi, but which Mr. Howell made dramatic and convincing in spite of the absence of melody. He appeared later in a group of three songs, "Danny Deever," "I Mind the Day" and "The Company Sergeant Major," in which his fine voice and clear enunciation appeared to good advantage. His closing number was a recitation to music, "The Highwayman," by Alfred Noyes, to which effective music had been arranged by Nina Preillyman Howell, who was at the piano.

The orchestra, notably weakened by the absence of certain members of the Philadelphia Orchestra, which is now on tour, played several numbers and Mr. Hoxie led the audience in several songs to orchestral accompaniment.

HARVARD CONTINUES DRIVE

Frick Requests to Have No Effect on Campaign to Raise $15,250,000

Harvard University's campaign for an endowment fund of $15,250,000 will be continued despite the generous bequest of Henry C. Frick.

This was announced here today by Herbert L. Clark, chairman of the committee for eastern Pennsylvania and New Jersey. The general committee seeks to raise the fund in the shortest possible time because the money is needed for general necessities.

No matter how long it takes, the committees of the various sections of the country intend to continue at the work until the fund is completed. President Lowell, of Harvard, recently announced that the needs of the institution were close to $20,000,000.

PORT GETS BOARDING BOAT

Revenue Cutter Guthrie Turned Over to the Customs Inspectors' Service

Philadelphia no longer will be a port of entry without a customs inspectors' boarding boat. The government authorities have ordered the revenue cutter Guthrie turned over to the inspectors for their exclusive use. This is the first time since the war began that the city has had such a vessel despite its growing importance as a trade port.

Until war was declared the customs authorities were provided with a vessel. On April 6, 1917, when the declaration of war was approved, all such vessels were immediately turned over to the navy as coast guard boats and as a consequence the handling of incoming craft was much handicapped. Collector of the Port Berry announced that the acquisition of the Guthrie will materially help in ending the shipping congestion that has prevailed here recently.

NO. H. C. L. FOR DOUGHBOYS

15,000 Troops in Germany Well and Cheaply Fed

Breakfasts at eighteen cents, luncheon at twenty-seven and dinners at thirty-one—not Utopian visions, but real meals cooked by real cooks at the Victory hut for doughboys of the American forces in Germany. These were the prices charged by the Y. M. C. A. during the month of September. There are 15,000 troops stationed in and around Coblenz, and 30,544 of these meals were partaken of by the hungry Yanks.

Ice cream, fancy cakes, sandwiches and brimming cups of hot chocolate at four cents per item, and doughnuts, lemonade and coffee at two cents per person were served an aggregate of 268,083 times in the same month.
