

LEGION OFFICERS ATTEND SERVICES

Post Commanders Are Guests of Penna. Society, Sons of the American Revolution

NEW BRANCH TO ORGANIZE

Officers and post commanders of the American Legion, upon the invitation of the Pennsylvania Society of Sons of the Revolution, yesterday attended a special service in St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Tenth street above Chestnut. It was the thirty-first annual service of the society.

Club, Eighteenth and Jefferson streets, recently inaugurated a drive to increase its present membership from 150 members to 500 prior to January 1, 1920.

RECTOR ATTACKS LEGION

Stigmatizes Members as 'Rowdies' Lancaster, Pa., Dec. 15.—The Rev. George I. Browne, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, started members of his congregation yesterday morning by references to the American Legion, in which he sharply criticized members of that organization for the part they played in the recent troubles with the Bolsheviks in the state of Washington.

Such phrases as "a crowd of rowdies," "drunks," etc., applied to the legion punctuated the rector's address. In the interval between the morning service and the evening the Rev. Mr. Browne learned of the condemnation this utterance had caused among his parishioners and others, and instead of modifying what he had previously said he declared in his evening sermon that his statements were entirely correct and that he was ready to prove them, quoting newspaper reports in support of his charge that members of the American Legion were responsible for the shooting that had marked the disorders in Washington state.

That Christmas Dinner Is Just Nine Days Off

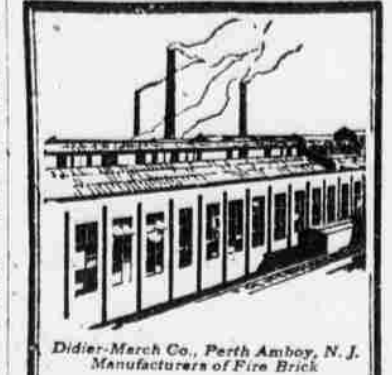

The Christmas spirit, as it is exhibited in the gifts of those whose wealth permits them to be lavish, or the less favored ones whose token of remembrance may be only a card with a message of love, although just as acceptable, is more readily felt, recalled and appreciated, as we sit down together to the Family Christmas Dinner.

In order to make that meal of all meals a positive success, buy your supplies at an American Store; insuring that certainty of satisfaction that is peculiar to everything we sell.

Our goods are not only FRESH, and our standard the HIGHEST, but our PRICES are always consistently LOW, considering the quality merchandise we handle.

A resolution condemning what is believed to be a growing practice among individuals and groups of individuals of offering their services as strike-breakers in the name of the American Legion was adopted recently by the G. L. S. Roberts, Post No. 165, at a meeting in the Benedict Service Club, 1019 Market street.
