FOOD PRICE PROBE Committee for Fair Charges to Plan Survey-Prosecutions May Follow

KANE W4LL GIVE ADVICE

BOARD WILL PLAN

A survey of food prices in this citys which may lead to federal prosecution of profiters is to result from a meet-ing this afternoon of the Philadelphia fair-price committee.

ing this afternoon of the Philadelphia fair-price committee. The session is to be held in the Civic Club, 1300 Spruce street. Among those expected to be present are 'Francis Fisher Kane, United States district at-torney; Dr. Clyde L. King, economist and member of the city market com-mission: Clarence Sears Kates, sec-retary of the commission; Prof. Charles La Wall, Mrs. H. C. Boden, chairman of the committee, and Mrs. Edward Biddle, president of the Civic Club. The first thing to be undertaken by the fair price committee, according to Mrs. Biddle, will be a comprehensive survey of prices.

survey of prices. The city will be divided into about ten sections each with a subcommittee of investigators.

Kane Gives Plan Miss Donnelly, who has been employ-ed in research work in Washington and who has been elected executive secretary of the committee, will be present in to-day's meeting. Her services will be paid for by the government.

In accepting an invitation to be pres-ent United States District Attorney Kane said his tight against profiteers would be helped if the fair-price com-mittee would be mittee would draw up a list of prices showing what is a fair profit. Lack of such a standard at present, the fed-eral prosecutor stated, makes it almost impossible successfully to prosecute those charging excessive prices.

some comparions for hold-up men. It was acquiited. Mr. Frigar was widely known in Philadelphia and Chester. He was a thirty-third degree Masoa and promi-ment in the Order of Elks in Chester. He was a member of John Lamberton Lodge 487, F. and A. M. and his funeral will be under Masonic auspices. He has been ailing since last year, when he had a severe attack of influenza.

federal authorities have facts about un-fair practices and excessive profits which warrant prosecutions. The wholesale market plan was an-nounced by Joseph S. MacLanghlin, chairman of the Mayor's market com-mission. He plans to present a re-port to Mayor Smith early this week, indicating work accomplished and sug-gestions for future progress. According to Jesse M. Dietz, man-ager of the meat department of the American Stores Co., prices of sev-eral kinds of meats have been reduced substantially in the last two weeks.

The keeping of a public record of every speech and action of members of the Council of twenty one will be pro-posed at today's meeting of the rules committee named by Mayor-elect Moore and headed by Francis F. Burch, of the Forte sixth ward and headed by Francis F. Burch, of the Forty-sixth ward. Opiniou as to the need of such a record is divided, as it also on the ques-tion of whether to allow the present bedy to organize committees, and to that extent govern the new body. Advocates of a record such as is kept by Congress say it would act as a check upon inem-bers disposed to make wild statements. Opponents of the record plan point to the voluminous public Record of Con-gress to illustrate the evil that might result from a similar move here. The cost they claim would be prohibitive.

to have stenographers make a single record of speeches and events without having the records printed for the benefit of members and the public generally. A stenographic report, several mem-bers of the committee believe, would keep the records clear and at the same time cost only the services of a limited number of assistants and not increase nals. Chairman Burch, with other inde-neudent members of the rules committee, has made a study of rules, and is of the opinion that nothing should be done toward the organization of the new body uutil that body meets. In this he has the backing of the committeemen. Jeseph P. Gaffney and Charles B.
