RED WINGO, FIRST AT BAT, LAST IN OFFICIAL FIELDING AVERAGES

Mack's Young Outfielder Leads League in Reverse English With Mark of .815—His .305 Percentage Led Mack Athletes in Hitting

By ROBERT W. MAXWELL Sports Editor Evening Public Ledger Copyright, 1919, by Philadelphia Ledger

RED WINGO, the fiery-haired outfielder grabbed by C. Mack from the Atlanta club last summer, was a happy young gentleman the other morning when he glanced at the official batting averages and saw that he was accredited with a stouter percentage than any other athlete on the Shibe payroll. He won't be so happy when he takes a look at the official fielding averages.

Wingo led Mack's fold in hitting with a mark of .305. Of course, he wasn't present in many games last summer, but still it's no soft assignment to come up from the sticks and slam the apple good enough to get into the select set even in a few pastimes. Red is willing to make out an affidavit that it's tougher to field flashily under the big tent.

Red was the only Mackman who finished Nineteen-nineteen above .300, and he is the only member of the Shibe tribe to field below .900. He was in fifteen games and managed to trap twenty-one flies and gain one assist. He was charged with five errors. In the span of fifteen games he showed he was there when it came to snatching baseballs out of the unsuspecting air, but he also proved that he has considerable trouble preventing ground balls from trotting to the left-field bleachers. His average amounted to .815, the lowest in the league, which is nothing to brag about.

The figners show that our A's didn't have many enjoyable afternoons in the field. Griffin, the Atlanta first baseman, who was imported with the rest of the Crackers late in the season, showed the best mark with .989. Dick Burris was next with .986, and George Burris, as a first-sacker, was right on his heels with .982. Tloga Gavge didn't do as well in the outfield, booting enough around to lower his average to .934.

The fielding averages of all the athletes who toiled for the Shibe and Mack families last season follow:

Table with 5 columns: Name, G., P.O., A., E., P.C. Lists fielding averages for various players like Griffin, Burris, Turner, etc.

TILLY WALKER grabbed 253 flies, which makes him eligible to get his name on the fly-paper poster at the park.

Risberg to E. Collins to Gandil

DIVING for a few seconds into the well-known pod reveals the fact that the White Sox completed more double plays than any other club in the circuit. The old Risberg to E. Collins to Gandil combination worked overtime and got more than time and half time by taking in their share of the world's series coin. The Chicago pastimers lost the series athletically, but who will say they lost financially? One hundred and twenty-two double plays were accredited to Kid Gleason's charges, which is not 'alf bad, as they say in Beckettown.

The Red Sox are overburdened with the news that they led the league in fielding. This probably will cause them to fall in with Babe Ruth and ask for a raise. They went through the campaign for an average of .975. This is really remarkable or something like that, because 5655 chances were offered them and only 143 errors committed.

The Boston club was not far behind the White Sox in double plays. They completed 119 and contributed one triple play to the season's achievements. Gleason's proteges also had one of those things. The Red Sox topped the circuit in passed balls, but Wally Schang won't brag about that. We would be surprised if he mentioned it. Boston catchers led twenty pitches get away from them. Ed Harrow's athletes played in 128 games, fewer than any other gang, which gives Harry Frazee a chance to claim something else against Ban Johnson.

It wouldn't take a citizen of our fair town long to guess which club ended at the bottom in fielding. Mack is consistent if anything. He grabbed the cellar championship in every department. His hired men averaged only .566 for the season. They committed 259 errors, which is twenty-eight more than the Senators, and any club that can make twenty-eight more errors than the Griffins is really entitled to some sort of reward, for it's a hard thing to beat the Senators at their own game.

Here's the official club fielding records. Have a look:

Table with 7 columns: Team, Games, D.P., T.P., P.B., P.O., A., E., P.C. Lists fielding records for Boston, Chicago, New York, etc.

CONSIDERING Mack's record it must be remembered that Connie did a lot of experimenting. He changed his infield as often as he changed his collar.

An All-American Fielding Team

IF YOU took the trouble of going through the official averages and picked out nine of the best fielders you could gather a ball club that would have not only fielding strength but hitting power as well. Can you imagine a manager getting a ball club like this for a Christmas present? Infielders, Chick Gandil, Eddie Collins, Everett Scott and Vito; outfielders, Babe Ruth, Duffy Lewis and Tris Speaker; catcher, Severid, and pitcher, Walter Johnson? He'd claim the pennant as soon as he opened the package.

In the matter of fielding the Red Sox have the edge on the other clubs. Three of the members of Beantown's aggregation would gain places on the one All-American team that is NOT selected by Walter Camp. Two positions would go to the champions of the league and one each to Washington and St. Louis. None of Mr. Mack's athletes is in danger of being picked for the team, but Galloway, the Atlanta shortstop, appears second in the list of short fielders. He had ninety-seven chances in seventeen games and booted only three of them. His name stands opposite the .969 mark.

Following are the figners on the All-American fielding team:

Table with 5 columns: Name, G., P.O., A., E., P.C. Lists fielding stats for Gandil, Collins, Scott, etc.

IT MAY seem foolish to leave Tyrus Cobb off any All-American nine, but T. R., according to the figners, is the seventh best fielding outfielder in the league.

Another Boost for Babe

BABE RUTH says he won't play with the Sox this summer unless his contract calls for $200,000 a year. As soon as he discovers he leads the league in fielding as well as the world and all-time players in home runs, he is likely to ask for a mortgage on Boston before he consents to leave the movies that can come East to don a baseball uniform.

Although he is rated only third in fielding, Tris Speaker really is the fly-chasing champ. The Cleveland veteran snared 375 lifts during the season, which is SOME scoring. Happy Felsch comes second to Tris with 360 fly captures.

In the matter of the great number of chances accepted, Walter Pipp is away with the honors. The New York first-sacker fielded 1582 opportunities, but slipped up on fifteen. Stuffy McInnis is not far behind. He accepted 1513 chances.

Strenuous Program for Harvard Football to Prepare for New Year's Battle

OREGON TEAM ON EDGE

Pasadena, Calif., Dec. 27.—Harvard's football squad today began a four days' training program of two workouts a day in preparation for the game New Year's Day with Oregon. The Oregon team planned to visit the "invites."

Coaches, who have just completed a 3000-mile journey from Cambridge, Mass., and with no regular training since Thanksgiving, feel the need of every bit of practice possible. Coach Fisher and Trainer Donovan said the men will be given several hours a day hard practice for the next four days. Probably they will ease off a bit next Wednesday, Donovan said, but not before.

Oregon, on the other hand, has had a week's training. Coach Huntington claims his men have reached the peak of condition and from now on he plans to give them just enough work to keep them that way.

Huntington is being assisted by Bart Spellman, Brick Mitchell, Bill Hayward and Johnnie Beckett. The team around well, especially its all-around star, full back, quarterback, Steers yesterday attempted twenty-two dry kicks from a variety of distances from all angles, and missed only one. He is regarded as a reliable runner and line forward passer as well as a consistent punter.

All the thousand people are to see the game. All the seats already have been reserved. Numbers of them, it is claimed, have reached speculators, who are asking $5 and $6 for dollar seats. Harvard has two sections at midlevel in the west stand, the best on the field.

As Harvard was finishing its practice yesterday Huntington trotted his Oregonians on the field for a light workout, having had a morning session there. Huntington and Fisher were introduced, and after carrying on a conversation had a short conference concerning the officials for Thursday's game. The matter of handling the contest was decided today at the Maryland Hotel.

Quigley, the National League umpire, who coaches basketball and other sports in Kansas, and Merriman, a Pennsylvania man, who is favored by both coaches, Quigley is recommended by Notre Dame, and Merriman has the backing of the University of Pittsburgh. Walter Eckersall, of Chicago, may be the third of the four officials.

W. and J. Adds Another to List Washington, Dec. 27.—Virginia Western College was added to the Washington and Jefferson football schedule, to meet on Jan. 2 at Alexandria, Va. The game will be the seventh between teams representing the two colleges. Both have been won by Washington and Jefferson. The first game was played in 1905 and dates remaining, September 25, October 3 and 10, 1919. It is probable that Geneva will take October 10 as the date of the game.

Deny Dr. Williams is to Coach New Haven, Conn., Dec. 27.—Published reports that Dr. H. L. Williams, football coach at the University of Virginia, had been offered the post of head coach of football at the University of New Haven, Conn., yesterday. Doctor Williams has been in New Haven several days visiting his son, Dr. Williams, M.D., who is a resident at Yale.

Wolgate Beats Celmar by Shade Bay City, Mich., Dec. 27.—Johnny Wolgate, of Cadillac, and Johnny Celmar, of Bay City, Mich., played a night game at the Bay City Athletic Club, Wednesday. The contest was a close one, but Wolgate was victorious by a score of 10-7. The game was very hard fought, and both players were very tired at the end. Red Connolly, of Bay City, was the star of the game. He had a field goal, a punt, and a kick. He also had a hand in the winning play. The game was a real test of endurance and skill.

Richards Wins Again New York, Dec. 27.—Vincent Richards, of New York, defeated Harry Edwards, of New York, in a boxing match at the Madison Square Garden. Richards won by a knockout in the fourth round. Richards is a very promising boxer, and his victory over Edwards is a big one. Richards has a very good jab and a powerful right hand. He is a very hard worker, and he has a very good chin. He is a very good fighter, and he is a very good winner.

Moriarity to Umpire Again New York, Dec. 27.—George Moriarity, of New York, will umpire the game between the New York Yankees and the Boston Red Sox at the Polo Grounds on Monday night. Moriarity is a very experienced umpire, and he is a very good one. He is a very hard worker, and he is a very good winner.

TOLEDO PROMOTER WANTS TO STAGE BIG BATTLE

Toledo, O., Dec. 27.—Toledo wants the Dempsey-Carpenter championship pugilistic encounter. It was announced officially today at the Toledo Athletic Club that Ad Q. Thacher, matchmaker for the Toledo boxing commission, has wired Jack Dempsey, manager for Dempsey, that his club will duplicate any offer made in France, London or the United States. Thacher is replying to the telegram. It was said.

Thacher was responsible for the match here last July 4 in which Dempsey wrosted the title from Jess Willard when nearly $50,000 went into the boxing commission's charity fund from a 10 per cent tax upon admissions, and it is understood that that is Thacher's principal reason for wishing to stage another contest of a like nature.

Dietrich Throws Foul, Defeating Trenton 21 to 20—Klotz Proves Star

WINNERS ALWAYS AHEAD

Trenton, N. J., Dec. 27.—Dietrich's foul play scored one minute before the close of the game with the score a tie, gave North Philadelphia a victory over Trenton in an Eastern League match here last night, the final score being 21 to 20.

The visitors led in the scoring throughout. The visitors presented a somewhat reconstructed team, Grimstead being unable to play because of illness and Brown being out of the game with an injured leg. In Grimstead's place Manager Coffee introduced Klotz into the game at center and paired off Cashman and Dietrich at guard.

Klotz proved the star of the visitors' line-up. He easily held his own against Trenton's line, and his floor work was a marvel to the crowd. Dietrich at guard was also much in evidence, being fast in his floor work and dodging Trenton's line.

The foul which gave North Philadelphia the game sent Dietrich to the hospital, for in a collision with Barlow his knee was badly injured. In fact, it was necessary for his fellow players to help him to the foul line, when he stood upon one foot and scored the point which won the game.

Trenton was unusually weak from the foul mark, scoring but ten out of twenty-seven chances.

AMERICAN BOXERS WIN IN ENGLAND

London, Dec. 27.—Two American fighters, Pal Moore, bantamweight, and Johnny Griffiths, welterweight, decisively defeated French opponents in the ring at Albert Hall last night.

In what was to have been a twenty-round bout Moore made Eugene Cregui quit in the fourth round, while Griffiths scored a technical knockout over Francois Charles in the third round. Both Cregui and Charles declared that they had been hit hard.

Ted "Kid" Lewis administered a bad beating to Matt Wells in twelve rounds, cutting his face with ribbons and breaking his nose. Wells gave up the unequal struggle in the twelfth round.

Moore severely trounced Cregui. In the fourth round the American sailed into the Frenchman and with a hard right hook to the stomach doubled him up. Cregui quit.

It is claimed that Moore had fouled him, but he made no protest. Cregui was also a right hook to the stomach that caused Charles to refuse to continue with Griffiths. He likewise claimed that the American's blow was low.

During the evening Georges Carpentier, the European heavyweight champion, boxed a three-round exhibition bout. Joe Beckett, who recently was knocked out by Carpentier, entered the ring and requested another fight with the Frenchman.

PHILADELPHIANS BEATEN

Local Tin Whistles Laid Low on Pinehurst Course

Pinehurst, N. C., Dec. 27.—Thirty-six tin whistles divided in two handicap classes took part in a swiftest on the championship course at Pinehurst yesterday. George W. Moore, of Glen Ridge, outlived the other 18 handicap men and won the Class A prize by nosing out Donald Parsons, of Youngstown, on the home green. St. Waterhouse, of Avdley, won in Class B. Donald Parsons carried off the low gross honors of the day with a round of 80.

The Philadelphia members of the 80 handicap class were with uniformly fates. J. W. Watson, of Merion, disappeared from view at the second hole of the contest. George W. Stutzell, of Ardmore, and J. M. Thompson, of Springfield, were eliminated at the seventh and eighth, respectively.

LOGGERS EXPECTING LARGER DEMANDS

90 Per Cent of Baseball Players to Be Offered Contracts for Season of 1920

BUT FEW HAVE SIGNED UP

Chicago, Dec. 27.—New contracts for the 1920 season must be proffered approximately ninety per cent of the regular players on major league baseball clubs, expert followers of the game said here today. This condition, with the increased interest displayed in the national pastime, they said, probably will result in a number of players following Babe Ruth, the Boston American pitcher, and outfielder, in demands for increased salaries.

Retrenchments effected for the period after the war, when the owners expected to be confronted with lessened interest in baseball, led to many one-year contracts being made. Long-time contracts for a number of stars terminated with the past season. Thus the latest next year in baseball is not expected to be lethargic, some of the players who wintered in Chicago say, is evidenced by the owners' plans for extended training seasons and the adoption of the usual 154-game schedule instead of 140 games as last year.

Some of the players are said to hold their own with the owners obtaining greater patronage, larger salaries can be paid. So far, few players of the Chicago clubs have been signed. Alexander, Killifer and Robertson are the National League club stars who have made 1920 contracts. Only a few youngsters have made contracts with the Chicago American League. Eddie Collins' five-year contract expired last fall. Eddie Cicotte's contract also ended, as did the one-year agreement with Ray Schalk.
