

LEGION HERE URGES COUNTY UNIT PLAN

Development of Strong Committees to Aid Growth Being Fostered by Leaders

OTHER NEWS OF POSTS

Development of strong county committees, patterned after the organization in Philadelphia, is being urged upon posts of the American Legion throughout the state.

This plan is being fostered by the state leaders, declared William G. Murdock, the state adjutant, because it is felt that it will be possible in the sixty-six interior counties of the state to build up the Legion most effectively with the co-operation of county organizations.

Pennsylvania ranks second among all the states in the number of posts formed, according to a statement issued at the national headquarters in Indianapolis. Consequently, it is all the more important to perfect the organization of the posts and to place the Legion in a position to function quickly and properly.

"It will not be feasible," said State Adjutant Murdock, "to form county committees in all counties. But such committees can and should be organized in the more populous counties, and the ones having cities of considerable population."

"The situation as to county organizations is somewhat different in the up-state counties from what it is in Philadelphia. The posts are scattered, and the means of communication are not so satisfactory and expeditious."

Would Be Aid to Post Work There are a number of counties, however, in which county committees could be operated to the advantage of all the posts situated therein. In Lancaster, having as its headquarters the city of Lancaster; in Lycoming, with Williamsport as the hub; and in Berks, which has as its principal city Reading.

The formation of county committees in all the counties is made mandatory under the constitution adopted by the state convention in Harrisburg, last October, but the precise form of such committees is left to the particular committees to determine. The clause on this subject reads:

"Each county having one or more posts shall organize a county committee, to consist of at least one member from each post, and elect a county chairman and such other officers as they see fit."

In Philadelphia, the representation in the county committee is one for each post. This basis of representation has met with some opposition, although the question was decided by the majority vote of the posts in the county through their county committees.

Post Membership 225 Post 310, composed of 304th Engineers, has been holding its meeting at the Engineers' Club. J. Frank Barber, the organizer of this post, said yesterday that its membership has reached 225, and that an early effort will be made to add 300 more members. The post anticipates that within a short time it will bring its enrollment to 500.

John P. Garland Post No. 196 contemplates a dance in January for the purpose of increasing the money in its treasury. Prospective members in the neighborhood of this post will be invited to participate in this event, as it is the desire of this post also to swell its present membership.

Shubin-Buchsbaum Post No. 95 has organized a ladies' auxiliary to co-operate with the post in its various activities. The auxiliary meets every Monday evening at 1912 South Fifth street. At the last meeting the following temporary officers were elected: Mrs. H. K. Bernstein, commander; Miss Mabel Berlin, vice commander; Miss Sarah Shubin, adjutant, and Miss Minnie Berlin, finance officer. The auxiliary now has a membership of over 200 and

LABOR MAN IN CHURCH BODY

The meeting was attended by the Rev. Dr. Samuel E. Hatten, a Baptist minister, who is chairman of the industrial relations committee of the Interchurch Federation. He asked that the delegate from the labor union become a member of his committee. The request was opposed by several members of the organization who declared the sympathies of churchmen were not with labor and that propaganda unfavorable to labor movements came from the pulpits weekly.

Central Union Here Names Delegate to Industrial Relations Committee

A motion was passed by the Central Labor Union at a meeting at 232 North Ninth street yesterday to appoint a delegate to the industrial relations committee of the Interchurch Federation. Edward Keenan, president of the union, was named.

Made by a New, Exclusive Process
The nut margarine industry in the United States and until our discovery nut margarine was made by the same process used in making oleomargarine (from animal fats). Because the results of using the oleomargarine process to make nut butter were so undependable, we decided it was not good enough for us and set about developing a new process. We were successful. We called our new discovery the Ashby Process.

No Preservatives
GOODY is made from such pure ingredients by such a skillful, cleanly process that it does not need to be preserved. The only purpose of a preservative in nut margarine is to cover up the carelessness or the ignorance of the manufacturer.

No Animal Fats
GOODY contains nothing but the white meat of the coconut, peanut oil, pasteurized milk and butter salt. Can you imagine a more appetizing food? Perhaps you have tried other nut margarine. Perhaps even you have used it for a while. You remember how pleased you were with the idea of nut margarine when you first heard of it.

GOODY is what you hoped other nut margarine would be—uniformly delicious and melts at the same temperature as creamery butter.
GOODY is different from other nut butters—better, because it is the only one made by this new process—the Ashby Process—which enables us to make a dependable product.
You can depend upon GOODY. It is always good when it has been kept as butter ought to be kept.
GOODY "spreads" like butter, making it more economical as well as more satisfactory than other nut butters.
Food prices are high—people cannot afford to experiment—so, for your protection we guarantee GOODY—

Best—Or Your Money Back!
"Buy a pound package of GOODY from your dealer. Serve it on the table. Use it in your cooking. Try it in any way you please. Then, if you do not like GOODY as well as the choicest creamery butter you ever ate, your money will be refunded without a word."

Now we want your ideas about how best we may let everyone else know these things about GOODY.
