JUST GOSSIP ABOUT PEOPLE

Nancy Wynne Wishes the Joy of the Season to Her Readers—She Talks of the Henry Brinton Coxe Ball Last Night at the Bellevue-Stratford

WITH all her heart Nancy wishes you a happy New Year. Can it be possible that we are in the twenties? Whenever we have heard members of older generations speak of the twenties, thirties and forties we have felt as if that history were almost too ancient to think of, and yet some fifty years from now the young people of twenty or twenty-five will be gasping over us, if we are still living, saying, "Look at that old person, he or she was grown up in the twenties." So it goes!

The thing for us to think about is not the span of the years, but that the years we do live shall be well spent, then it will have been worth while for us to have lived.

WELL, even though it was the second ball this week, the Coxe ball was a wonder last night! The Bellevue ballroom is always wonderful with the stage raised from the floor and the extra room for dancing thusly allowed.

Catherine did look sweet. She has such a charming manner, and is very pretty, I think; has unusually beautifully chiseled features and very pretty hair, and she chooses such lovely colors for her frocks. Last night she wore white satin with silver trimmings, and Mrs. Coxe looked very handsome in light blue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Adams, the latter Mrs. Coxe's sister, and Catherine and Charles Adams, all of Boston, were there, and, of course, Mrs. Standley Stokes, who was Ruth Coxe. Mrs. Adams wore a handsome gown of black velvet. The ballroom was decorated with ferns and greens and the supper tables were gay with flowers and ferns.

TONIGHT there will be a debutante dance at the Ritz-Carlton given by Mrs. Morris Dallett for her daughter Margaret. The guests will be of the debutante and younger married set. Margaret is a daughter of the late Judge Dallett of this city. She is a charming little girl. Her sister, Marie Dallett, married Randall Pennington several years ago. She is a very striking type of woman, having wonderful Titian hair.

Margaret is darker, with auburn lights through r lovely curly head of hair. I often admired her at the younger classes before she came out wearing her simple little organdie frocks. She and the Harrison girls and one or two others were walking acknowledgments of their mothers' good sense and good taste. None of these gowns with no sleeves and a two-inch back!

To tell the truth, I think some of the girls are beginning to think a little and realize that they please no species of person by not wearing enough clothes. Of course, it's not stylish to talk about morals, but the fact that it's vulgar seems to have a little bit of an effect, and at the recent balls the undressing has been on the wane.

In fact, at the Benedicks I saw nothing objectionable in regard to gowns or manner of dancing.

THE Art Alliance will have a wonderful time this afternoon. There is to be a New Year's reception from 4 until 7 o'clock. Philip Goepp and Miss Susanne Dercum, who were on the music committee of the Alliance, arranged an interesting program and will be assisted by a number of men and women who represent the various associations which form a part of the Art Alliance. The Madrigal Singers, formed of prominent singers in various choirs throughout the city, will sing under the direction of Henry Hotz. Mrs. W. Yorke Stevenson, Mrs. John B. Oakley, Mrs. A. Warren Kelsey, Mrs. John Braun, Mrs. Leopold Stokowski and Miss Eleanor Stewardson will receive the guests. As I said last week, I like that Art Alliance. I think it is an honor to the community.

SOMETIMES little boys do hectic little things, don't they? They come up to the great, big cities and go to college in the suburbs, and then they come to shows and see the pretty people in the shows, and sometimes they do little things that others hear about. Nancy was highly amused recently when a little lady whom you know and I know, and who has made a decided hit on the stage of late, told of a letter she had received from one of these infant "Johns" which begged for a photograph and inclosed a quarter for the postage. And Nancy's eyes twinkled when she heard the name of the swain, who ought almost to have been home and in bed by 8:30 each night. Anyway, the admired one kept the quarter and did not notice the note. More power to her!

NANCY WYNNE.
