This Great January Sale of White Is Above All An Economy Sale

Our Continent Washed on All Sides by Two Great Oceans!

No wonder the brilliant congressman, Thaddeus Stevens, of Lancaster county, who founded the public school system of Pennsylvania, said, years ago, in speaking of the growth of the United States,

"Think of our schooners, our clippers and our first monitor!"

If Governor Sproul were speaking these days on our shipping conditions, he would say:

"Think of our ten-million-dollar Battleships, Our mighty torpedoboats, Our wonderful army aeroplanes!"

If Stephen Girard, who built a row of three-story brick buildings on Market street, from Eleventh to Twelfth street, which was the greatest building improvement up to the early eighteen hundreds, were living now, what would he think and say of the Woolworth Building in New York, 56 stories high; the Pennsylvania Hotel with accommodations for 1000 guests; of the Wanamaker Buildings, 14 and 16 stories high, covering seven acres of ground and employing each upward of eight thousand persons in the retail business this year?

This New Year's Day Is the One Hundred and Forty-fourth since the Declaration of Independence year, and Philadelphia's marvelous growth is manifest in its nearly 400,000 buildings and its two millions of population.

This New Year's Day ushers in a new era of business endeavor and a universal interest in the rebuilding of all the countries on both sides of the sea.

We clasp hands over all the seas and give a happy New Year's wish and a pledge to each other to do our utmost in word and deed to make good our happy New Year wish.

January Sale of Furs

An event of importance, indeed, is this Sale, for it means that every piece of fur in the Wanamaker Salons is reduced. All the handsome fur coats, from the simplest to the most luxurious, are reduced twenty-five per cent. All the scarfs, separate pieces and sets, are lowered a third. With these fine furs are some new pieces, bought specially, at the same proportionate lowered prices.

There Is Wonderful Choosing Among the Fine Fur Coats

—and you may select from marmot, natural muskrat, pony, racoon, caracul, mole, Hudson seal (dyed muskrat), nutria, broadtail, Alaska seal or squirrel. Many are trimmed with contrasting furs.

Marmot coats, $123.75 to $150.
Natural muskrat, $187.50 to $262.50.
Racoon, $225 to $300.
Caracul, $300 to $712.50.
Moleskin, $468.75 to $712.50.
Hudson seal (dyed muskrat) plain coats, $206.85 to $562.50; trimmed coats, $356.25 to $731.25.
Nutria, $337.50 to $468.75.
Natural squirrel, $393.75 to $562.50.
Nearseal (dyed coney), $225 to $318.75.

Fur Scarfs and Sets

These include sable, mink, skunk, mole, black lynx, beaver, squirrel, Australian opossum, nutria, cross, taupe, brown or black fox, taupe and brown wolf, racoon.

Natural squirrel scarfs, $12 to $166.50.
Skunk scarfs, $40 to $200.
Beaver scarfs, $40 to $75.
Mole scarfs, $26.50 to $100.
Black lynx, $30 to $123.25.
Hudson seal (dyed muskrat), $26.50 to $166.50.
Cross, taupe, brown or black fox scarfs, $36.50 to $133.25.
Fox sets, $76.50 to $200.
Taupe and brown wolf scarfs, $26.50 to $50.
Wolf sets, $53.25 to $100.
Mink scarfs, $46.50 to $150.
Sable scarfs, $100 to $500.
And it is possible to get muffs to match these separate scarfs in almost every instance.

And it is scarcely necessary to add, in buying furs at Wanamaker's you are absolutely sure of the kind and quality of every piece of fur we sell.

(Third Floor, Chestnut)

FOR one big, simple reason: it has in it something like 75,000 brand-new, snowy garments, priced—with a few exceptions—between 50c and $6.75. And every one of these garments is from 25 to 33 1-3 per cent less than regular prices to-day; there are even a few which are 50 per cent less.

Ever since last June we have been preparing for this White Sale; one immense order for merchandise placed in that month is not yet all in the house. Cottons have been going up steadily; labor has been going up; even such minor matters as tiny ribbons and thread and needles have been going up, until it seems nothing short of a marvel that we should be able to offer such sound, excellent merchandise at such moderate prices. Imagine a good cambric nightgown, high-necked, with tucked yoke, for as little as $1; or a flannel nightgown for $1, or a pair of silk bloomers for as little as $2.65, or pink batiste bloomers for 65c, or a pink crepe de chine chemise for $3.85.

One of the most wonderful groups in the entire Sale is

$5000 Worth of Philippine Undermuslins

in which the hand-embroidered and hand-made nightgowns may be had for $2.65 to $6.75; and chemises from $2.65 to $3.85. At even smaller prices are some "seconds" of Philippine lingerie, priced at $2.35 and $2.85 and needing only a tubbing.

Embroidered nightgowns, of flesh-colored batiste, are here at $1.

Another equally important group of undermuslins is the extra sizes which will be found at the regular counter.

These undermuslins will be found on the East and West Aisles and Market Street outposts on the Main Floor, and on the Third Floor, Central.

A Sale of Domestic Rugs in the Face of Advancing Prices

Tomorrow marks a general advance in the mill prices of domestic rugs. They are scarcer than they have ever been.

Yet tomorrow Wanamaker's puts on sale over 1000 fine domestic rugs

at Savings of 25 Per Cent

These will include high-grade and standard Wilton rugs, Axminster rugs, tapestry Brussels rugs, wool-fiber rugs and rag rugs. Both room sizes and small sizes and all good pieces—no shop-worn goods or undesirable designs.

Some of these rugs are reduced from stock and others were brought in new for the occasion.

It is obvious that a sale of this sort, at this time, is more to the advantage of the public than it is to the store that holds it. But our customers have been accustomed to look to us for some rug reductions around the first of the year and as long as it is possible to make a sale we will not disappoint them.
