

PAISH SEEKS USE OF TEN BILLIONS

British Economist Tells Bankers League of Nation Bonds Would Save All Europe

CREDIT IS BREAKING

Europe does not need $10,000,000,000 in cash from America, but wants to be in a position to buy American products to that amount, if such great purchases are needed during the period of reconstruction, following the war.

It was in this way that Sir George Paish, British economist, explained today his reference to the need by Europe, made in his address at the banquet of the Pennsylvania Bankers' Association last night at the Bellevue-Stratford.

His views, as outlined today, agreed in a measure with those of Herbert Hoover, who spoke in disapproval of "bacteria" over loans to Europe and said that America would do its share by helping starving cities and giving business credits.

"As matters stand today," said Sir George, "it looks as though the greater part of what Europe will need for some time must come from the United States. It is necessary to find some way for Europe to go on buying food, raw materials and manufactured products from America without interruption."

"Existing credits are growing weaker under the strain put upon them. They must be strengthened. One way to do this is to issue league of nation bonds to the amount of about $10,000,000,000. These bonds could be taken by bankers, not only in America but elsewhere, whenever the use of the bonds is made necessary."

Must Buy Here
"Arrangements for these bonds, supported by the credit of all nations in the league, could be made by the finance committee of the league of nations. America would assume only its share of this responsibility, although most of the $10,000,000,000 issue of bonds would probably come to this country because the nations must buy here."

"If America has had crops next year and some of the other nations have good crops there would be a shifting in the source of food supplies, but as it looks today the nations of Europe must continue for a considerable time to make great purchases of food, raw materials and manufactured products here."

"The proposed financing is for reconstruction, but in its broadest aspect, it is for the re-establishing and restoring of Europe."

"This does not mean the immediate lending by America of $10,000,000,000

HOOVER OPPOSES BIG LOANS BY U. S.

Takes Emphatic Exception to Opinions as to Huge Needs of Europe

ORDINARY CREDITS AMPLE

New York, Jan. 7.—Herbert C. Hoover, on his way East in connection with relief work in Europe, telegraphed to his headquarters in this city a statement in which he took emphatic exception to opinions of "European propagandists," both concerning the volume of Europe's financial needs from the United States and the contention that the great bulk of those needs cannot be met by ordinary commercial credits.

Asserting that "with our taxes 600 per cent. over previous rates," there is no need for drawing on the United States treasury for further loans, Mr. Hoover says "aside from some secondary measures by our government, the problem is one of ratification of peace and ordinary business processes." He adds that "by secondary measures I mean that some dozen cities in central and southern Europe need breadstuffs on credit from the grain corporation to prevent actual starvation, and that the Allies are asking for temporary delay in paying interest on our government loans to them."
