

U. S. 'REDS' CROSS INTO RUSSIA TODAY

Emma Goldman Hopes to Meet Old Chicago Friend, Now Petrograd Official

BOLSHEVIKI CEASE FIRING

By the Associated Press
Viborg, Finland, Jan. 19.—The Goldmann-Berkman special train was sidetracked here yesterday to await the British Prisoners' Relief Mission, which will cross the Russian frontier at the same time that the departed "Reds" from the United States make the trip. It is expected that all of them will proceed to Petrojoki today.

It is reported from the front that the Bolsheviks have not fired a shot in twenty-four hours, indicating that orders have been received by them to suspend hostilities until the departed persons enter Russian territory.

Hango, Finland, Jan. 19.—(By A. P.)—The train having aboard the Bolsheviks and anarchists departed from the United States was held here until positive assurance was received from the soviet that they would permit them to cross the Russian border and that the "Reds" would not be molested. Grave rumors had come from the border that Berkman and Goldman and their comrades would be killed by the Russians, and while there was apparently no authority to confirm this, it was deemed advisable to take all precautions.

Final Messages for Reds
Having reached within a short distance of the border, the departees yesterday were confined to crowded cars, where they waited until the time for crossing the line they will be handed the wireless messages addressed to them on the Buford.

One sent to Ethel Bernstein from New York under date of December 21 and signed by Samuel Lipman, whose common-law wife she is and who is under sentence of twenty years' imprisonment for violation of the espionage act, reads:

"I am going to the penitentiary at Atlanta for twenty years for my opinion on Russian intervention. You are being deported to Russia for yours. Though time and distance separate us, my love goes out to you over the waves. The human heart of the world may yet demand that we be united by our deportation to soviet Russia. Love to all comrades on board."

Suddenly Kisses Correspondent
Emma Goldman conversed with the correspondent for a few minutes before she trudged down the long path to the train carrying part of her own baggage. Asked if she had a final greeting to America, she said:

"I don't know whether I have. Would you be willing to tell your feelings on departing? Naturally, my emotions are conflicting. I am anxious about what is ahead in Russia, but naturally I am leaving every such behind in America."

She suddenly amazed the correspondent by throwing her arms around his neck and giving him a resounding kiss before he could struggle away. Then she picked up her belongings and moved wearily in the direction of the train.

Miss Goldman declared that she thought her old Chicago friend, "Bill" Shafetz, now military commissioner of Petrograd, would probably show up at the frontier to receive the party. Both the Buford's officers and the radicals were confident the party would be permitted to enter soviet Russia by the direct route across the bridge near Petrojoki.

Pennsylvania Accidents Reduced
"Safety First" work on the Pennsylvania Railroad reduced the number of accidents in 1919, as compared with the total in 1918, according to Thomas H. Carrow, supervisor of safety, in an address last night before the Ethical Culture Society, 1224 Spruce street. He said that in 1917 as many men were injured in railroad accidents as there are able-bodied men in Philadelphia.

ENGLISH LABORITES WILL STUDY IRISH

Not Welcomed by All—Returns Show Freak Election Results

London, Jan. 19.—(By A. P.)—Six members of the parliamentary Labor party left London today to study conditions in Ireland. The delegation consists of Arthur Henderson, William Adamson, John R. Clynes, W. T. Wilson, John A. Parkinson and W. R. Smith. From Dublin they will go to Belfast, Cork and other centers and seek to obtain the viewpoint of all sections of Irish opinion.

The arrival of the labor leaders will be welcomed in some quarters, but the Herald laborite organ, reports that Sinn Fein elements and Irish labor leaders are less friendly. They say, according to reports, that English laborites are already aware that the overwhelming majority of the Irish are determined to establish a republic, and that an inquiry as to whether British Government of Ireland is good or bad is of minor interest.

Belfast, Jan. 19.—(By A. P.)—Up to January 15 the Belfast Corporation consisted of fifty-two Unionists and eight Nationalists, but as a result of the elections which ended Saturday, in which the Laborites, Deputies and Sinn Feiners skillfully hounded the thirty-seven Unionists, five Nationalists, five Sinn Feiners and thirteen Laborites. The politics of the last-named party ranges from extreme Socialism to Labor Unionist and Orange.

The results of the elections generally were of a freak order. In the Shankill district, a stronghold of Orangeism, a Socialist topped the poll and the remaining seven members one is a Socialist and another a Sinn Feiner. In Victoria, which is a safe Laborist party, a Socialist topped the poll and the remaining seven members one is a Socialist and another a Sinn Feiner.

For the first time in history the Belfast City Hall was the scene of a speech in Irish in which the Sinn Feiner, Mr. Carolan, of Shankill, returned thanks for his election. For the first time, also, the City Hall heard the strains of "The Red Flag," cheered by exultant Socialists outside.

League Housed at Paris
Council Confines Its Activities to Work of Organization
Paris, Jan. 19.—(By A. P.)—The League of Nations is housed not far from the American embassy in Rue Paquet, where it renders the staff in Irish in which the Sinn Feiner, Mr. Carolan, of Shankill, returned thanks for his election. For the first time, also, the City Hall heard the strains of "The Red Flag," cheered by exultant Socialists outside.

The boundary commission will be under the direct supervision of the "Party," which is an abbreviation used to designate the "principal allied and associated powers."

It is expected the league will take jurisdiction over the Sarsre region only when an administrative mission has been organized. In the meantime the league staff will return to London, leaving probably on Wednesday.

The quarters in Rue Paquet will be retained as the permanent home of the league council when it meets here.

MAY INDUCE KAISER TO YIELD TO ALLIES

Dutch Are Expected to Take Measures to Secure Voluntary Surrender

TEXT OF DEMAND IS ISSUED

By the Associated Press
Brussels, Jan. 19.—Deep emotion has been caused in Holland by the allied demand for the extradition of former Emperor William of Germany, according to a dispatch.

Belief is expressed at the Hague that measures will be taken with a view to inducing him to voluntarily place himself at the disposal of the Allies.

Paris, Jan. 19.—(By A. P.)—Holland is told in the allied note demanding the extradition of former Emperor William that she will "not fulfill her international duty" if she refuses to associate herself with the Entente powers in chastisement of crimes committed by Germans during the war. The text of the note sent to The Hague was made public today. It follows:

"Paris, January 15.
In notifying by these presents the Netherlands Government and queen of Article 227 of the treaty of Versailles, a copy of which is annexed, which came into force January 10, the powers have the honor to make known at the same time that they have decided to put into execution without delay this article, (Article 227 publicly arraigns William II of Germany for a supreme offense against international morality and the sanctity of treaties and declares the allied and associated powers will address a request to the Netherlands Government for his surrender in order that he may be placed on trial.)

"Consequently the powers address to the government of the Netherlands an official demand to deliver into their hands William of Hohenzollern, former emperor of Germany, in order that he may be judged.

"Individuals residing in Germany against whom the allied and associated powers have brought charges are to be delivered to them under Article 228 of the peace treaty, and the former emperor, if he had remained in Germany, would have been delivered under the same conditions by the German Government.

"The Netherlands Government is conversant with the incontrovertible reasons which imperiously exact that prescribed violations of international treaties, as well as systematic disregard of the most sacred rules and rights of nations should receive as regards every one, including the highest placed personalities, special punishment provided by the peace congress.

"The powers briefly recall, among so many crimes, the cynical violation of the neutrality of Belgium and Luxembourg, the barbarous and pitiless system of hostages, deportation en masse, the carrying off of young girls from the city of Lille, who were torn from their families and delivered defenseless to the worst promiscuity; the systematic devastation of entire regions without military utility, the submarine war without restriction, including inhuman abandonment of victims on the high seas, and innumerable acts against noncombatants, committed by general authority in violation of the laws of war.

Kaiser Morally Responsible
"Responsibility at least moral for all these acts reaches up to the supreme head who ordered them, or made abusive use of his full powers to infringe, or to allow infringement upon the most sacred regulations of human conscience.

"The powers cannot conceive that the government of the Netherlands can regard with less reprobation than themselves the immense responsibility of the former emperor.

"Holland would not fulfill her international duty if she refused to associate herself with other nations as far as her means allow in undertaking, or at least not hindering, chastisement of the crimes committed.

"In addressing this demand to the Dutch government the powers believe that the universal conscience, in which a public accusation with juridical character as regards its basis, but an act of high international policy imposed by the universal conscience, in which legal forms have been provided solely to assure to the accused such guarantees as were never before recognized in public law.

Interest of Dutch People
"The powers are convinced Holland, which has always shown respect for the right and love of justice, having been one of the first to claim a place in the society of nations, will not be willing to cover by her moral authority the violation of principles essential to the solidarity of nations, all of which are equally interested in preventing the return of a similar catastrophe.

"It is to the highest interest of the Dutch people not to appear to protest by allowing him shelter on her territory, and also to facilitate his trial, which is claimed by the voices of millions of victims."
(Signed) "CLEMENCEAU."

FAMOUS POEM STOLEN
Thieves Take Manuscript of 'Roman de la Rose'
Paris, Jan. 19.—(By A. P.)—Thieves recently broke open a car on the line between Dijon and Meaux and stole the manuscript of the famous poem "Roman de la Rose." This was the first work of modern French literature to blossom out of the language of the middle ages. It is divided into two parts, the first having been written about 1225 by Guillaume de Lorris, and the second between 1245 and 1270 by Jean de Meung.

When the German advance threatened Meaux in 1918 precious manuscripts were removed from the museum there and taken to Dijon for safekeeping, the "Roman de la Rose" being among them. Cases containing these treasures were being returned to Meaux when they were rifled.

A valuable manuscript for the Bible and a four-volume series containing the history of Meaux, by Rochard, also were stolen.
