

COUNCIL OF ENVOYS TO MEET ON JAN. 26

Will Be Intrusted With Task of Carrying Out Versailles Treaty

CLEMENCEAU ENDS WORK

By the Associated Press
Paris, Jan. 21.—The supreme council decided today that the new conference of ambassadors would be inaugurated on Monday, January 26. This conference, taking up part of the work of the supreme council, which virtually concluded its labors last night will be entrusted with the task of insuring the carrying out of the treaty of Versailles and the discussing of current routine matters connected with peace affairs.

The great questions of international policy, however, will be reserved for settlement at conferences in which the heads of the Allied governments will sit.

M. Clemenceau presided over today's session of the council for a short time, giving way to Premier Millerand. The others in attendance were Earl Curzon, the British foreign secretary, Signor de Martino, for Italy, and Baron Matsui, for Japan.

M. Clemenceau, thanking the council last night for a tribute to his words, said in the course of a farewell address: "If Great Britain, the United States, Italy and Japan remain united there is a guarantee of peace which exceeds all those guarantees which can be put on paper. If one day these nations are separated I dare not think of the misfortunes which may result."

"We have all defended what we believe to be the interest of our countries, but never by the necessity of a common understanding been in sight of. I further believe that we all agreed today to say that the special interests of each nationality must be considered and respected; there cannot be a tranquil Europe if the rights of each one is not recognized.

"I shall not lose a single moment of the peace we are completing and shall continue to follow its progress until my last breath. I shall try by all good wishes at least, to do all in one day those nations of that peace, for indeed, if by misfortune the elements of discord should arise among you, how terrible the thought that the best Britain, the civilized world, the blood of our soldiers, should be shed in vain for hopes that would not be realized.

"I would believe that such an eventuality is possible, I know the sentiment of my friend, M. Millerand. I know that he, as I, is convinced that an alliance for a lasting understanding must be maintained between all the peoples represented here."

After shaking hands warmly with all present, M. Clemenceau, with tears in his eyes, left the foreign minister's private office, where daily for more than a year he has toiled for the greatness of his country and the peace of the world.

SUFFRAGE AT LOW COST

Nevada Governor Allows $980 for Legislature to Pass Amendment
Carson City, Nev., Jan. 21.—By A. P. Governor Emmet Boyle has agreed to call a special session of the State Legislature on February 7, to act on the federal woman suffrage amendment, provided the suffrage leaders of the state would guarantee that the expense of the day session would not exceed $980.

The suffrage committee have asked legislators residing at a distance to promise not to attend. Nearly enough lawmakers could be drawn from the districts nearest the capital. A pool of the legislators taken by telegraph is said to have demonstrated the feasibility of the scheme.

HONORS FOR LADY ASTOR

Suggested She Move or Second Reply to King's Speech

London, Jan. 21.—(By A. P.)—Suggestions have been made that Lady Astor, the only woman member of the House of Commons, be called upon to move or second the address replying to the king's speech from the throne on the occasion of the reopening of Parliament on February 10. The Mirror speculates whether in case she is chosen for either place she will wear full court dress in accordance with the tradition, which prescribes that the member making the motion or seconding it shall wear a uniform or court costume.

Police and Soldiers Disperse Demonstration Before British Laborite Delegation

By the Associated Press
Dublin, Jan. 21.—The British Parliament laborite delegation which has arrived here to study conditions in Ireland received a deputation of teachers with reference to the government's education bill and then visited the offices of the Unionist Alliance, where the situation was discussed for two hours with prominent Unionists.

While the delegates were leaving their hotel for this morning a procession of 100 motor drivers marched past with a banner on which was inscribed "English labor loyality is helping to starve Irish motor drivers." The secretary of the parliamentary delegation subsequently explained that the delegates had taken all possible steps on behalf of the motor drivers, but that the government refused to give way with regard to licensing them.

The secretary also said that no arrangements had been made to meet representatives of the Sinn Feiners, but that the delegation hoped to see them before leaving Ireland.

Later the striking motor drivers appeared before the hotel of the visitors. The police and soldiers with fixed bayonets dispersed them. The police captured the banner which the strikers had been carrying, but later the strikers regained it. Two arrests were made. The visiting delegates watched the melee from a window of the hotel.

The visitors last evening went to Trades Hall and conferred with a deputation from the Trades Council, consisting largely of newly elected municipal labor representatives, many of whom are Republicans.

It is learned unofficially that the discussion of arrests especially concerned the case of Alderman Kelly, the future lord mayor of Dublin, who is in the Wormwood Scrubbs Prison without any charge having been lodged against him.

ELECTIONS POINT TO UNIFIED IRELAND

Neither Sinn Fein Nor Unionists Appear to Have Gained Majority

STRONG SHOWING BY LABOR

By the Associated Press
London, Jan. 21.—While the Sinn Fein is celebrating what it calls a victory in the Irish municipal elections, official circles in London profess to find in the returns an element that makes the prospects brighter for a unified Ireland under the proposed home-rule bill. That element is said to lie in the fact that the voting showed neither southern Ireland to be solid Sinn Fein nor northern Ireland solid Unionist.

Neither the Sinn Feiners nor Unionists appear to have gained a majority of the total seats in their respective strongholds. Therefore, it is contended that, as the sections are mixed, there is much more chance for them to come together quickly under one parliament.

This is the first time the voice of all the people of Ireland has been heard in elections, which was made possible by the new proportional representation measure. In the last general elections the Sinn Fein captured seventy-three of the 104 parliamentary seats, thereby virtually sweeping the country.

There has been some newspaper talk about the Sinn Fein and Labor combining in Ireland against the home rule bill. It is interesting, therefore, to note that Labor and the Sinn Fein to their mutual credit just a shade under half the municipal seats of the country.

Kilrush, Ireland, Jan. 21.—While policemen were removing their belongings from the village of Clonachale to Knock in a motor van they were fired on by a large party from both sides of the road. Four bicycle policemen returned the fire, killing one man, believed to be a Sinn Feiner, and capturing two others of the attacking party.

Explosion of Bomb at Naples Railway Station Injures Three

Rome, Jan. 21.—(By A. P.)—Improvement was reported today in the situation caused by the extensive strike of the Italian railway men, which has affected large sections of the country since early this week. It was announced that a sufficient number of employees had reported for work this morning to make it unnecessary for troops to move trains.

Trieste, Jan. 21.—(By A. P.)—Sabotage incident to the strike of railway employees has interrupted wire communication between seventeen of the larger cities of Italy and also is affecting the international telegraph and telephone lines.

The strike is most widespread in northern Italy, where army line-men are attempting to repair the wires. A bomb exploded in the railway station at Naples injuring three persons.

London, Jan. 21.—(By A. P.)—Catholics have refused to participate in the Italian railroad strike, and as a result the walkout is not supported in the southern sections of Italy. Heavy military patrols have been placed in the cities of Milan, Turin and Genoa, according to an Exchange Telegraph Co. dispatch from Milan.

HUNGARIAN TREATY IS CALLED CRIME

Apponyi Says Peace Proposed for His Nation Could Not Last

MEANS EUROPEAN UNREST

By the Associated Press
Vienna, Jan. 21.—Acceptance of the treaty as drafted would mean "cultural downfall" for Hungary, Count Albert Apponyi, former Hungarian premier and head of the Hungarian peace delegation, who is returning to Budapest from Paris with the allied peace terms, declared today. The count's assertion followed the expression of his belief that such a peace as was proposed for his nation could not last.

"Concerning internal physical conditions of Hungary," said Count Apponyi, "we have been pillaged of everything. In the first place we had the hardships of war; secondly, we had two communist administrations when all of our money was spent abroad for propaganda; and thirdly, the Rumanians robbed us of manufacturing machinery, even printing plants and railroad equipment, so that we now have only twenty-seven locomotives.

Our agricultural interests, which the central European powers ruined by taking away our livestock, is in a condition of general devastation beyond the River Theiss.

"I tried to make Premier Lloyd George and others see that it is in the general interest of humanity to assist us and that cutting us up is an economic crime. As proposed in the treaty we should have no wood, lumber, coal, salt, iron or oil. It is mockery to ask us to live after these are taken away.

At Friday's sitting it was declared officially that the treaty as proposed would find no signers in Hungary. Such terms mean permanent unrest among us and also in Europe. Owing to our position on the line between eastern and western Europe, if we are unstable so will be the Balkans. The nationality principle is constructed in defiance of geography and economics and also destroys the tranquility of the people whom it cuts off from home. From generation to generation there will be revolts. It is a transfer of national leadership to races inferior in culture. It is the destruction of our schools and universities, leading the people back to ignorance. It is cultural downfall that mankind cannot witness without horror.

BOUNDLESS POWER

Power, which might mean merely more speed in less capable hands, has become flexibility, responsiveness, comfort and safety in Pierce-Arrows. The ability to run on high gear from three to seventy-five miles an hour, and back, to overtake passing cars or ascend steep hills without shifting, means flexibility. To start from a standstill, and accelerate in one-fifth less time, is responsiveness. The quickness with which the car gets out of a tight place or shortens the time required to pass and overtake another car adds safety.

To its owner the Pierce-Arrow has boundless power because it has all the power he will ever be called upon to use.
