

Mysteries of "Balanced Diet" Explained : Exponent of Vedanta : Cloth-Top Shoes

BABY wasn't ill, but the mother sought advice at the Phipps Institute, Seventh and Lombard streets, to make sure.

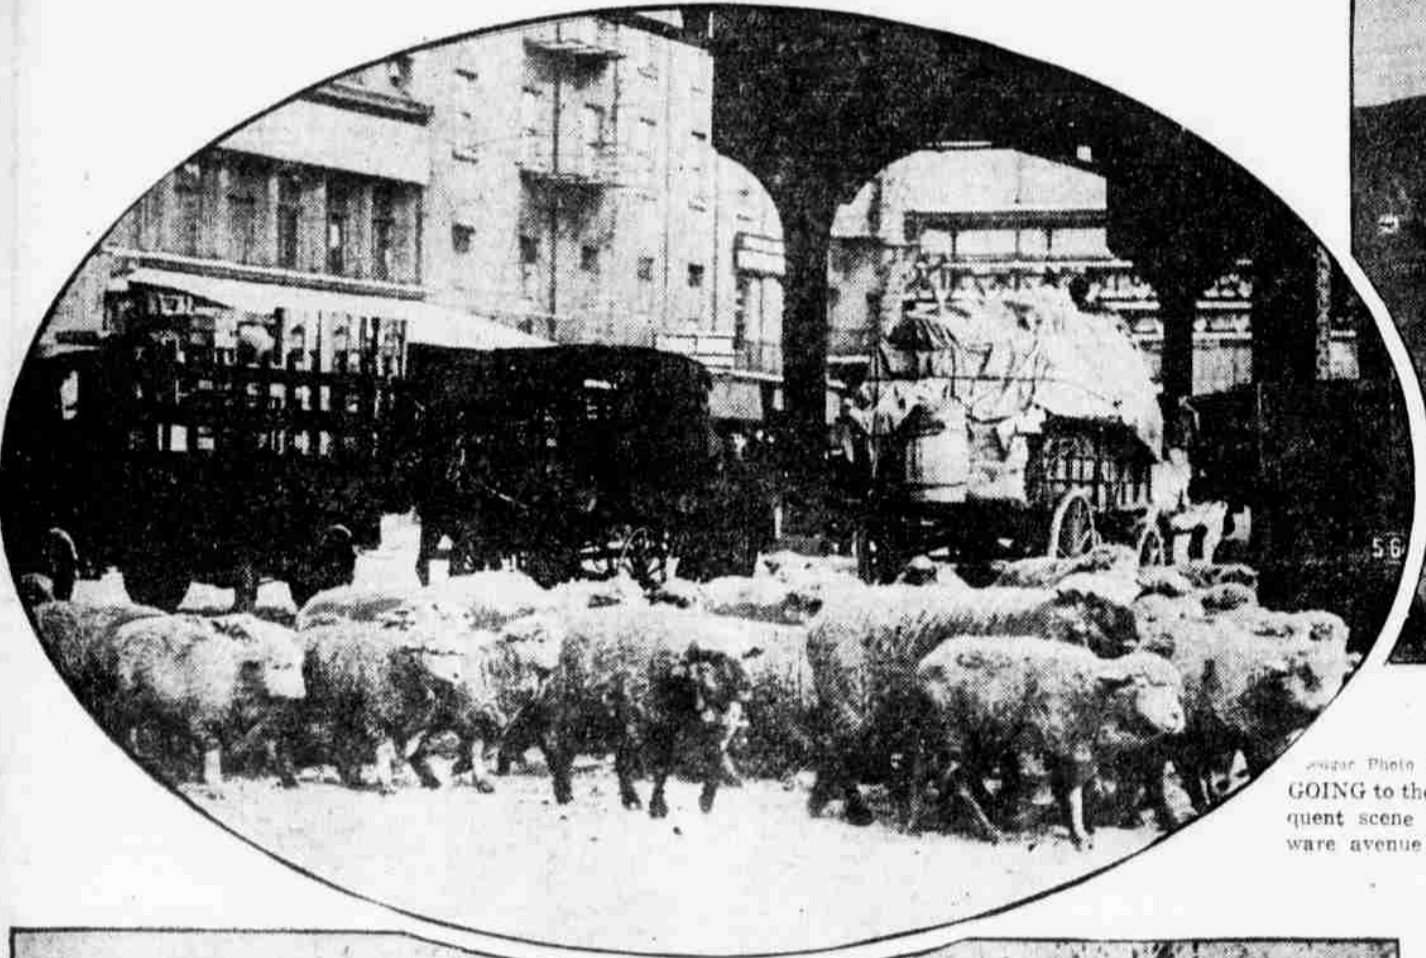

WHAT CHILDREN should eat and how much. These points are being made clear by Miss Lucinda N. Stringer in the nutrition clinic held weekly at the Henry Phipps Institute.

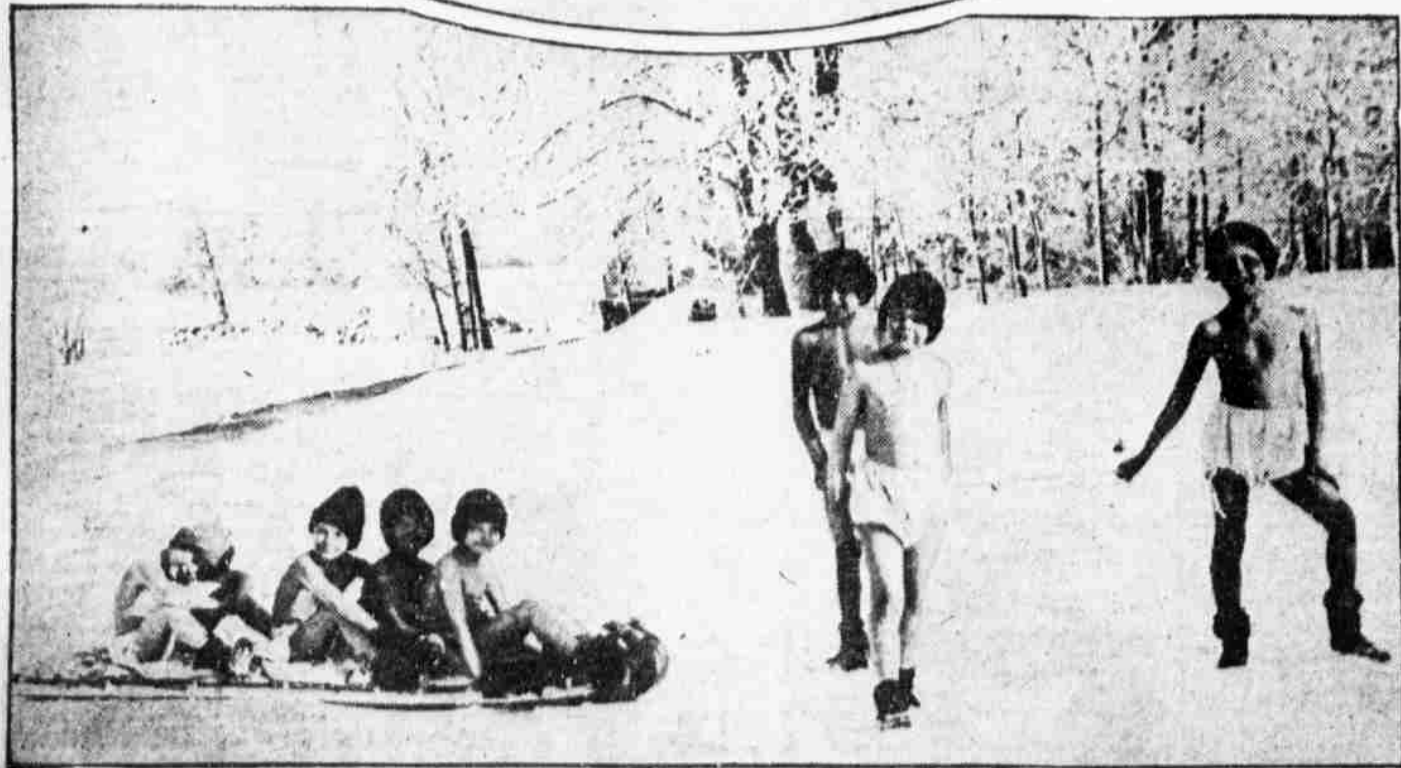

SWAMI PARAMANANDA, chief exponent of Vedanta, an Oriental religion, who is in Philadelphia to lecture for the Art Alliance.

CHILDREN of the Greek Orthodox Community, 745 South Twelfth street, at the educational meeting in the diocesan church of St. Mary, Broad and South streets, yesterday.

GOING to the slaughter. A frequent scene in the busy Delaware avenue wholesale section.

ZERO WEATHER and snow have no terror for these little "snowbirds" at the J. W. Adams Memorial Hospital, Ferrysburg, N. Y.

SHORTAGE and high cost of leather in France have resulted in the adoption of cloth-top shoes.

THE BEAUTY CORNER

MISS ANNA KREINER, 304 North Second street, Philadelphia. Photographs for this back-page feature should be submitted through the mail, addressed to the Beauty Corner, EVENING PUBLIC LEDGER.