

FAVOR PRINCE OTTO AS HUNGARY'S KING

Legitimists Seek to Place Eldest Son of the Former Emperor on Throne

PEACE TERMS DEPRESSING

By the Associated Press
Berne, Jan. 28.—Prince Otto, eldest son of former Emperor Charles of Austria-Hungary, is favored by legitimists as the future king of Hungary, according to Budapest advices received here.

Confirmation has been given recently that the monarchists won a decisive victory in the elections held in Hungary on Sunday and Monday.

Budapest, Jan. 28.—(By A. P.)—Count Albert Apponyi is engaged in writing Hungary's answer to the terms of peace submitted at Neuilly by the Peace Conference. He said today there were many clauses which are impossible of fulfillment.

There are sixty absurdities in the proposed treaty. One of these takes away all our wood and iron ore, while another demands that we give wood and ore to the Austrians. What affects our people most is the loss of territory. As for the economic conditions, we know we can never fulfill them, so they cannot matter so much. If a man asks me to pay $1000 I may do so, but if he demands $1,000,000,000 I know I can't comply and so should not worry.

Vienna, Jan. 28.—(By A. P.)—A general assembly of the provincial diet to frame a constitution for submission to the central government will soon be held.

This meeting is in pursuance of the firmly announced determination of the provinces to national states of Austria to secure the widest degree of autonomy and constitutionally limit the powers of the central government to the narrowest possible sphere.

The Nationalist element of the country has tried in every way to check this movement, but in vain.
