Once upon a time there was a foun-tain society in Philadelphia and people left morey to it to keep their memorial fountains in order. The said society may have died a natural death, as seems probable, as the memorial fountains are all going to decay, such as that beauti-ful one at Spring Garden and Twelfth streets, which has been closed for sev-eral years. William Penn intended our city to be at least a little attractive, so why not begin by relieving the ugliness why not begin by relieving the ugliness of the City Hall plaza by a beautiful fountain, which shall run winter and summer. This is the story of Bond Bread's birth:

From the many loaves submitted in the Bond Bread Baking Contest, your committee of local women judges selected the very best.

These delicious prize loaves of home-made bread were the models for Bond Bread.

Give him Bond Bread and jam when he asks for food between meals

"ONG about 11 o'clock most any Saturday morning there's an awful hollow feeling under a fellow's belt!

Right then a regular slice of Bond Bread and jam will taste like a "little bit of heaven" to him !.

'Cause Bond Bread has that satisfying "homemade" taste that goes right to that "hungry spot" -makes a fellow feel fine - and yet doesn't spoil his healthy appetite for dinner.

KOLB BAKERY COMPANY

Bond Bread is so named because each loaf bears this bond of the Kolb Bakery Company. KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS THAT KOLB BAKERY COMP. AVY IS HELD AND FIRMUY BOUND UNTO THE PURCHASER OF BOILD ONLY THIS LOAF OF Real, home-made loaves were the model from which Bond Bread was made-

To match that home-made quality, Bond Bread contains only the purest wheat flour, milk, lard, granulated sugar, salt, compressed yeast.

These pure ingredients (guaranteed by our Eond) plus the scientific Bond Bread processcombine to make Bond Bread one of the best health-builders for boys and girls.
