THE social service committee of the Bryn Mawr Hospital (speaking of social service) is going to have a meeting on Thursday at the Milestone. I understand that among the other plans and business to be discussed will be the "Bon Marche" table that will be conducted this year at the Devon Horse Show under the chairmanship of Mrs. William R. Philler. of Haverford. It doesn't seem possible that such things as Devon Horse Shows are near emough to be even thought of, does it? But they are, or, rather, it is, and I believe that a good many plans have been made for this year's show.

In both the Beethoven trained hearer. In both the Beethoven and the Brahms concertor the artist had a vehicle worthy of the genius of the greatest player who ever lived, but this can hardly be said to be the case with the Viotti. Fundamentally, it is music of a hygone day, but Kreisler has modernized it with a genius equal to 'the manner in which he plays it. He has made no radical changes in it and none whatever in the themes, but with a few departures in the solo part and by some effective changes in the harmony and decided ones in the style of the accompaniment, together with a modern orpaniment, together with a modern or-chestration, he has made the work one which now stands high in the repertoire the violin soloist.

Perhaps it was less in what he did to the notes than the manner in which he played them that made the concerto Miss Winifred M.
