Nancy Wynne Talks About Winter Sports-Also About an Interesting Pageant to Be Given Next Week — And an Engagement

OF COURSE. I like snow and I love cold weather, and I think the country looks very beautiful when it's all covered with white and the youngsters have a wonderful time—but wasn't it nice to see the sun on Saturday? Do you think you could show me anything think you could show me anything surfacely frightful and depressing the sun of the sun you think you could show the anything more utterly frightful and depressing than a city street after a snowstorm? than a city street after a snowstorm?

But in the country it has been wonderful. People haven't had to go to Lake Placid or Canada for winter sports, they just go to Chestnut Hill. The steep hills there are solid with either ice or heavily crusted snow, you know, and people who know how have here sking there for the last three or heavily crusted snow, you know, and people who know how have here sking there for the last three or heavily crusted snow, you know, and people who know how have here sking there for the last three or heavily crusted snow, you know, and people who know how have here sking there for the last three or heavily crusted snow, you know, and people who know how have here sking there for the last three or heavily crusted snow, and problem of their daughter, Miss Margaret Cecilia Flanagan, of 1430 Blavis street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Margaret Cecilia Flanagan, to Mr. and Mrs. S. ISN'T it nice that Roderick Tower and Flora Payne Whitney are engaged? Why? Oh, just because it's always nice when a member of a good Philadelphin family becomes engaged to a nember of a good family from somewhere else. She is the daughter of the Harry Payne Whitneys, and made her debut in New York in 1916. Roderick was graduated from Harvard in 1915 and during the war was a captain in the aviation.
