

CAN'T KEEP TREATY, SCHEIDEMANN SAYS

German Soldiers Hold Demonstrations Against Acceptance of Extradition Demands

CAPELLE FLEES GERMANY

Berlin, Feb. 9.—Philip Scheidemann, former secretary of foreign affairs, writing in the National Zeitung, says that since the government, with the approval of parliament, had signed the peace treaty it had tried to fulfil the conditions imposed, but since June last he had seen that such fulfillment was impossible.

Decision as to whether the German National Assembly will be called to consider Germany's answer to the allied demand for the extradition of Germans accused of violations of the laws of war is expected soon. The cabinet met yesterday and considered the list of men whose surrender is desired, and the allied covering note, which was delivered to Premier Bauer Saturday night.

In addition to the persons on the extradition list, the allied powers demand access to archives and possession of all German documentary evidence, so that prosecution may be facilitated.

The committee on foreign affairs of the National Assembly will meet today to consider the extradition question. It seems improbable that a reply to the Entente demand will be sent until a response is received by the German Government to its note of January 25.

The newspapers declare unanimously that the attitude of the government toward the extradition question is unchanged. The association of German regular soldiers carried out a big demonstration

Only One German Woman on Allied War Guilt List

Berlin, Feb. 9.—(By A. P.)—Miss Elsie Scheiner, the only woman whose name appeared on the list of Germans denounced by the Allies, is a daughter of a prominent professor of Berlin University, and had charge of the women's concentration camp at Valenciennes during the war.

The Nieuwe Rotterdamse Courant, a copy of which has been received here, prints a letter from a contributor who says he worked with Professor Scheiner at the astrophysical observatory, at Potsdam, and asserts that Miss Scheiner incurred the enmity of allied women spies who were imprisoned at her camp.

It is reported that Vice Admiral Capelle has fled to Switzerland, here yesterday against acceptance of the extradition demand.

ITALY MUST QUIT FIUME, NITTI HINTS

Says Application of London Pact Would Mean Evacuation of Adriatic Port

SLAVS NEAR COMPROMISE

Rome, Feb. 9.—Premier Nitti's speech before the Chamber of Deputies Saturday is described as "a paraphrase of the interview he recently gave to the Associated Press," in an editorial printed by the Popolo Romano. In this address Signor Nitti said that if the pact of London were applied, Italy would have to give up Fiume.

"We have often observed," the newspaper continues, "that whenever Signor Nitti speaks in interviews to foreigners he is more of a nationalist than when he addresses the chamber."

In an article on the "financial hegemony of America over Europe," the Financial Italian declares the American Government's "inconsiderate language toward Europe" can be explained only because of that country's supremacy.

"America ought to be satisfied with her enormous commercial expansion, her exports having been quadrupled since 1914."

Premier Nitti's speech dealt with Italy's foreign policy. Italy must not join the Anglo-French alliance until "the Versailles treaty is revised and all odious, unjust and barbarous."

Deputy Salvenni defended the policy pursued by former governments relative to the Dalmatian coast.

Signor Grandel, socialist, asserted the war had been "advantageous to England, who inherited the German colonies," and criticized the anti-Italian propaganda abroad.

"President Wilson would have accepted our proposals," he asserted, "if we had not gone through the mistakes we did at Paris and if Captain D'Annunzio and Admiral Millo had not discredited us before the world."

He reviewed policies of past cabinets and said an agreement was signed with Austria, in 1918, for the division of Albania. Ex-Premier Giolitti sprang up and denied such an agreement had been reached.

"I still hope to reach an agreement with the Jugo-Slavs," asserted Signor Nitti, "for while protecting Italian interests, I wish also to protect the interests of peace. We do not need to apply the pact of London; firstly, because we have the backing of France and England, and secondly, because we already occupy more than that pact grants us. By applying the pact
