Nancy Wynne Talks About Many Things—House-warming in Palm Beach—Tea Chat on Sunday. Engagements—Discussion

HEAR that the Guruee Muuns' house down at Palm Beach is all finished and they had a housewarming this week. I think it is a very interesting story because you know Guruee was among the crew of that scaphandre that was lost about eleven days before they turned up, one hour before those men turned up, and Mr. and Mrs. Muun have his safe return as well as the completion of their house to celebrate.

WASN'T it said that the Thayer baby died so suddenly, too? You know he was the second son of Mr. Thayer and Mrs. Thayer, and was only about eleven days old. He was such a healthy baby, too, but about three or four days ago, I believe, developed a severe cold which turned into pneumonia, and he died on Monday.

THE Plays and Players are going to give a "tea chest" on Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Isn't that attractive? It sounds so very chatty and tea-fal. All the active members and associates are invited to come.

THE engagement of Charlotte Brown to West Frazier makes the second engagement in the Frazier family in a month. You know the engaged daughter Frances was married to the late Mr. Brown, and Mrs. William Emerson, of Boston, to Francis Frazier, was announced early in January, Francis being West's brother.

HEAR that everybody who went to the Contemporary Club meeting on Monday night was very much excited over the discussion between Doctor Newbold, of the University, and Mr. Rinn, who is a member of the club. You know, it is the man who has offered a reward to any one who can make a really, truly speak appear. He insists that Newbold did not agree with him. Everybody is so interested in the Contemporary Club now anyhow. You know, a number of people are trying to throw them away or bribe persons to go with them because the meetings were so dull. But now you can't just fall over themselves to go. I suppose the moral is that—well, I don't know why I should bother about the moral. It is the fact that yesterday's snowstorm put one over on itself and turned to sunshine, even if it did last long enough to disappoint the people who thought that at last they would get out of the house and walk around the block.
