The Eastern Basketball League has decided that the only way in which to make all the players under contract to the various teams appear for scheduled games is to establish punishment equal to the offense, and from now on any layer who fails to put in an appear-mee the night his club is scheduled to lay will be suspended. The way magnate in the league is in any man suspended cannot play again where the new order of affairs, and any man suspended cannot play again where a magnates were in favor of a manimous staff is entirely out of the manimous staff is entirely out of the question in any matter at all. Bridgeport to Stay

The talk of Bridgeport ceasing to function as a member in the near fu-ture proved to be pure hokum, and there is every possibility that the Blue Ribbons will continue to play and also finish the season. They may switch to a weekday night, but this will not be known until after Germantown plays be known until after Germantown plays

After the meeting of the magnates, which was indeed a tame affair, the Bridgenort and Camden fives proceeded to play a game of basketball.

Bridgport was on the losing end of a 42-15 score. It was about as one-sided a game as has been played all year and served to give the Skeeter subs a chance to show their wares. Penn's ag-gressive guard awoke yesterday morning with a badly infected index finger on the right hand, which had swollen to several sizes beyond normal. It could not de definitely stated whether the con-dition of the finger will permit Mc-Nichol's participation in the game. Zucker will be called upon to face the Gothamites if necessary. McNichol's plight may be detrimental to Penn's chances tonight, as Columbia will put a team into the cage that cher-ishes a 26-16 victory over Princeton. OF MRS. H. C. SMITH, NORTH HILLS Although Columbia, unlike their Quaker opponents, has experienced several re-verses this season, one at the hands of the Yale five, the recent performances of the New York players is significant to threaten Penn's holdings on the top position in the league standing. If Co-lumbia should win Yale will jump into first place and Penn and Columbia will be tied up for second.

Eastern League Holds Meeting

Eastern League Holds Meeting At the regular monthly meeting of the Eastern Basketball League last night at the Camden Armory It was decided to suspend any player who fails to appear for a sched-uled game for the remainder of the season if he plays in any other game that night. This rule does away with fines and pre-vents managers from suspending players and reinstating them to get over the rules. Manager Leave of Bridgeport, asked per-mission to change his playing night from Sunday to Thurday and the request was granted. No new professional players will be permitted to be signed after February 15, but young players can be tried.

Weight and speed-the two great causes of friction heat-are developed to the highest degree in turbine bearings.

Oil breaks down into useless carbon under the influence of friction heat. Turbines, perhaps, break down oil quicker than any other industrial machinery, and when oil breaks down it does not lubricate. The one sure test of oil quality is how long it will stand up.

Crew Levick oils are quality oils-they last longer because, primarily, they are refined from the very scarce Pennsylvania paraffin base crude. This crude is acknowledged to offer the greatest natural resistance to heat of any oil produced in America.

Make careful note of how far your present oil goes. Make exactly the same test with Crew Levick oil -then you will know just what Crew Levick quality means to you in dollars and cents.
