

Professor of Political Economy at McGill University, Montreal, Cloth, $1.25 net.

A timely and same discussion of the New Social Unrest.

READ:-

ADVENTURES IN INTERVIEWING

By Isaac F. Marcosson

Absorbing adventures with big Personalitics. Illustrated. Cloth, $4.00 net.

JOHN LANE COMPANY Publishers NEW YORK man

dox#," elc.

Personal impressions of the au-

longer

xpression.

treaty.

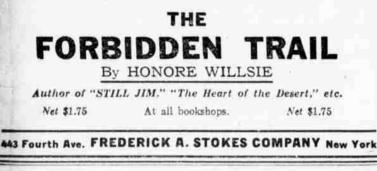

thor's recent visit to Ireland.

"I Am the Father of a Son-who went to France. When he went to college, two years before he went to war, I gave him your book, STILL JIM. When he went to France he took STILL JIM with him. Now he is at home, in hospital, and he and his friends are reading THE FORBIDDEN TRAIL, and asking for other books by you. I wish every returning soldier had to read THE FORBIDDEN TRAIL.

Savs a factory owner: "I have asked all my men to read THE FORBIDDEN TRAIL. I believe it will steady them as it did me."

Fiction that is in the best sense a literary creation, yet that expresses truly the economic problems that confront us today, that is what HONORE WILLSIE'S novels do, and that is why we recommend-conference in June of last year "when it became evident that hope could no longer be entertained of substantial modification in the draft terms of His book is in three parts. One devoted to an admirable description of the council of four at work, in the course of which he presents pictures of Clemenceau, Lloyd George and Wilson that make the men live. His remarks about Wilson as an international statesman are not flattering to that gentle man. For example, he says that Wil-son took his fourteen points to Paris without any plan for their detailed ap-plication to an existing state of facts. "He could have preached a sermon on any of them," writes Mr. Keynes, "or have addressed a stately prover to the have addressed a stately prayer to the Almighty for their fulfillment; but he ould not frame their concrete application to the actual state of Europe. His thought and temperament were essentially theological, not intellectual. with all the strength and the weakness that manner of thought, feeling and The second part is devoted to an of the economic terms of the Mr. Keynes insists that they are burdensome and oppressive and imare ourdensine and oppressive and in-possible of enforcement, that they place in the hands of the reparation commis-sion powers which it should not have and that they make for the perpetuation of hatred and discord. It is because he so regarded them that he declined to be connected any honey with the commisconnected any longer with the commis-sion which drafted the treaty. Resig-nation was his form of protest. It was nate office two because the treaty contains the provisions to which he objected. That he is unduly pessimistic has been set forth with specifications by David Hunter Miller, legal adviser of the American peace commission. But there no doubt that he expresses the view the group in England that regards with protest last summer. The third part considers the remedies.

placement of the existing governments of Europe." This must be followed by a revision of the treaty by the League of Nations, by a settlement of the inter-Ally indebtedness through its cancella-tion. Then there must be an interna-tional loan and a reform of the cur-discussion of the questions involved in the recovery of the world from the rav-ages of war. But it would be a mistake

SHORT STORIES OF GREAT DISTINCTION
 Melville Davisson Post's Latest
 Volume the Work of a Master Craftsman
 Melville Davisson Post is a poet who writes in prose, He is a juggler, tossing into the airch great human
 emotions and eatching them again,
 tonsing into the airch great human
 emotions and eatching them again,
 tonsing into the airch great human
 emotions and eatching them again,
 tonsing into the airch great human
 emotions and eatching them again,
 tonsing into the airch great human
 emotions and eatching them again,
 tonsing into the airch great human emoty of the spectators. He is a constructor of tales the like of which have not been written by any one device
 inthis generation.
 Proof of themoty
 have not been written by any one device
 havelowe Davisson Post. New Yere Post.

THE MYSTERY OF THE BLUE VILLA. By Melville Davisson Post. New York: D. Appleton & Co. $1.75,

FOREIGN EXCHANGE, By A. C. Whit-aker, New York: D. Appleton & Co. THE ENEMY WITHIN. By Severance John-son, New York: James A. McCann Co.

THE SOUL OF ABRAHAM LINCOLN A new light on the ethical and spiritual convictions of the Great Presi-dent. An intimate historical study of the evolution of the spiritual life of Lincoln, in no way controversial, but the result of original and thorough investigation. Net, $4.09 By Admiral Sir Percy Scott FIFTY YEARS IN THE ROYAL NAVY

This delightfully matter-of-fact story of a picturesque naval career, from sailing-vessel days to superdreadnoughts, is alive with the romance of British history on the sea. Especially notable for the account of Sir Percy's long fight for the gunnery reform that saved the English navy at Jutland. Net, $5.00

SACRED AND PROFANE LOVE

The play founded on Bennett's famous novel, THE BOOK OF CAR. LOTTA, now enjoying a successful London run, soon to be seen in New York with Elsie Ferguson and José Ruben in the leading roles. Net, $1.50

By Frank Swinnerton Author of NOCTURNE

"A remarkably fine and subtle study of the struggle between two women of contrasted temperaments done with a finesse worthy of Henry James. The author's prose is a delight."-New York Tribune. Net, $1.90

By Lucas Malet Author of SIR RICHARD CALMADY

Touched with the mysticism of the East, a love story with an extraordi-nary ending, daringly imagined, beautifully written by one of England'a most distinguished women writers, author of SIR RICHARD CALMADY DAMARIS, etc. Net, $1.75

By Robert Hichens Author of MRS MARDEN SNAKE-BITE and Other Stories

"Snake-Bite," "The Lost Faith," "The Hindu," "Lighted Candles," "The Nomad," "The Two Fears," exquisite little stories strikingly diverse in theme and setting, they carry the haunting fascination of Hickens' in-spiration in the GARDEN OF ALLAH. Net, $1.90

By Corra Harris Author of THE CIRCUIT RIDER'S WIFE, etc. HAPPILY MARRIED

With sparkling humor and remarkable knowledge of human nature the author of THE CIRCUIT RIDER'S WIFE chronicles the results of a domestic earthquake. A gay and amusing story of life in a southern Net. $1.75

By Frank L. Packard THE ADVENTURES OF JIMMIE DALE FROM NOW ON

"Deserves unstinted praise as a well constructed, plausible and exciting story. Interest never flags, and dangers and excitement abound. The creator of JIMMIE DALE has a clear insight into the complexities of Net, $1.35

By Irvin S. Cobb Author of OLD JUDGE PRIEST, etc. FROM PLACE TO PLACE

"We have Mr. Cobb in all his varying moods of farce and pathos, reminiscence, stern logic and ironical tragedy. The tale which opens the book, "The Gallowsmith," manifestly belongs to him who wrote "The Escape of Mr. Trimm" and the wonderful narrative of "The Bell Buz-zard." All interesting and vividly told-well worth reading."-New York Times. Net, $2.00

By E. F. Benson

By G. A. Birmingham UP, THE REBELS! ROBIN LINNET
 A delightful story youth, told with all Benson's accustomed charm.
 A young lady's adventurings in Irish politics. "Those who enjoy wit will chuckle long and deeply over this tale"—New York Times.

 Net, $1.75
 Net, $1.75
 GEORGE H. DORAN COMPANY Publishers New York

The New Novel by

the peace terms as too harsh, a group that was filling the British newspapers The indispensable prerequisite to the application of the remedies is "the re-tion. Then there must be an interna-tional loan and a reform of the cur-rency. And finally the right of Ger-many to assist in the industrial devel-opment of Russia must be recognized and respected. The book deserves attention as the contribution of a qualified mind to the discussion of the questions involved in

