

WARY YARD FORCE TO BE INCREASED

Admiral Hughes Announces Big Construction Plan Will Soon Be Started

CARS TO RUN BEYOND GATES The force of employees at the Philadelphia Navy Yard, reduced to 8000 through the failure of a deficiency appropriation for repair work, is to be enlarged gradually to a force of 10,000 or 12,000 men for construction work.

The prospective increase in the working force was one of the factors that led Admiral Hughes to appear before the Public Service Commission yesterday and protest against the present trolley service to the Navy Yard.

Funds Available We have funds available for construction work, Commander Hughes stated today. "The failure of the naval deficiency bill blocked the way to money for repair work at the yard and that led to the laying off of many men."
