Nancy Wynne Talks of the Ball and Opera Tonight. Many Dinners Precede Affairs-List Perhaps to Be Revised-Plastic Club Exhibit

HAVE you your costume all ready for tenight, or are you going to the opera first and then dress afterward for the ball? I hear a lot of people are fire ball? I hear a lot of people are going to do that, because they do not want any one to recognize their coswant any one to recognize the ball until the unmasking.

Well, the lists, I hear, are to be well, the lists, I hear, are to be strictly combed during the spring and when the invitations go out next year they will go out in the good old way and only those whose families are and only those whose families are known personally or whose families have been always on the visiting list of the hostess will be invited. Hard on some of the boys and girls, perhaps, but the right idea, it seems to me. I did not hear that it had been positively deeided upon, but something of the kind is under way.

T THINK that exhibition at the Plastic Club tomorrow will be very inter-I must say. It will open the action of the proof at 4 o'clock for a private view, when there will be hostesses and artists an' everything there, and tea, too.

The pictures on exhibition are those of ten members of the Plastic Club, each artist having her special work grouped. Among the ten are Florence Bradway. Fern Coppedge, Katherine Farrell, Isabel Hickey, Frances Kratz.

Bardway, Fern Coppense, Katherine
Farrell, Isabel Hickey, Frances Kratz,
Mary Townsend Mason, Anne Fry
