First Comes the Spring Coat!

WANAMAKER'S

It's the keynote of the whole Spring costume, the one thing that influences your choice of hat, of frock and even of shoes. The coat can take most any shape this year and still be fashionable.

Of course, the newest idea is the short coat, adapted particularly to young women. It may be of polo cloth, of velour, smart mixtures or of soft and luxurious camel's hair. Most of the coats of this type are in tan, brown or green, with narrow leather belts or belts of self-material. Sketched is a tan polo coat piped with leatherette. Prices start at $19.50 and go to $97.50. Choosing is widest between $29.50 and $47.50.

Full-length coats are of velour, serge, tinseltone, goldtone, bolivia, tricotine and camel's hair. Many are halflined or lined throughout with silk. The long coat that is sketched is of ti , Itone in taupe, tan and Pekin blue, half lined with peau de cygne and belted. It is $37.50. Others are here at $25 to $185.

By way of variety there are cape coats and capes. A full and sweeping cape of navy blue velour is faced at the sides with silk and is marked $37.50.

NOTE .--- There are many sample coats in our assortments and they are marked at an average saving of a third.

Coats of Taffeta or Serge for Little People

Soft taffeta in rose, Copenhagen and navy blue is made up into charming little coats, most of them with snowy white collars of silk or organdie and all nicely lined at $12 to $23.50. 2 to 6 year sizes. A serge coat for little girls or boys of 2 to 5 has brass buttons and a white pique collar for ornamentation. It is $14.50.

And Spring Hats to Wear With Them are pretty, soft little affairs of braid and silky material combined in Copenhagen, rose and light green at $3.25 to $5. (Central)

New Spring Things for Junior Girls of 13 to 17 Styles are charming and youthful-not too youthful to please the girls themselves and not too grown-up to please mothers. Spring Suits

The majority of them are tailored sports suits of tweed and wool jersey in good brown and green mixtures. $23.50 to $29.50.

Special Serge Dresses, $15

Georgette Crepe Blouses, $5.90

(Samples of Spring Styles)

They are in flesh color and white; some are quite elaborately beaded or embroidered, others trimmed with Valenciennes lace. There are round or square necks; collarless styles and flat or roll collars-in fact, most any kind you want!

-And These Fresh Things of Cotton

$2.50 for a dainty Peter Pan blouse of white voile with a collar and cuffs of rose or blue plaid. $3.75 for a crisp white organdie blouse, finely tucked in front, with colored hand embroidery adorning the roll collar. $5 for a charming voile blouse trimmed on the collar, cuffs and down the front with fine, creamy lace in Valenciennes pattern. $5.75 for a dainty flesh-color voile, quite fluffy, with lace and wee pearl buttons for trimming.

Among finer blouses of Georgette are these in white or flesh color. Two have collars that merge into deep frills, trimmed with fine lace and silk eyelet embroidery; another has a finely tucked front and a roll collar of filet lace. $12.75. (Market)

A Sale of Beaded Bags $1.50, $2.50, $3.50, $6.50, $8.50, $10 $12.50, $13.50, $16.50 to $25 The bags, beautifully beaded as they are, and their prices

speak eloquently of the real savings. And, aside from that, the assortment, with its wealth of patterns and color combinations, s most unusual. Roses, various flowers of every color and conventional designs are admirably worked in small beads and there are both light and dark grounds. Most of the bags have the fashionable draw-string tops and some have metal tops. All are fresh and in perfect condition.

Almost unlimited selection! (Chestnut
