No Man Has Ever Eclipsed the Glory of Washington

Whom Philadelphia delights to honor today and will hereafter always endeavor to do justice to as the Father of the American Republic.

Briefly biographical for the High School boys and girls and our foreign-born young citizens—

George Washington

was born February 22, 1732. His great-great-grandfather was who settled in Virginia about 1657.

He had only a moderate education, somewhat defective, except in mathematics, and it is on record that he was mostly self-taught. At the age of nineteen he was appointed adjutant of the Virginia troops with the rank of Major.

In 1753, when barely 21 years old, he was made commander of the northern district of Virginia at the outbreak of the French and Indian Wars.

He served with a "fiery energy that lay hidden beneath his calm and unruffled exterior."

In 1774 he was appointed one of seven delegates from Virginia to the Continental Congress.

After the Lexington and Concord battles he was elected Commander-in-Chief of the United Colonies.

On July 2 he took command of the forces assembled against the British garrison at Boston, Massachusetts.

It is not easy to realize the poverty of the American Colonies, the lack of food for the troops, the scarcity of money to pay the soldiers for their families, the treachery, stupidity and selfishness and discouragement of those early days and the sufferings in the cold winters and the bleeding footsteps at Valley Forge.

But all these completed the training of the soldiers of the Revolution and made them great men, and in the best sense made George Washington foremost of them all.

Suffice it to say here that after the Declaration of Independence he was elected the first President of the United States on January 7, 1789, inaugurated in New York on April 30, 1789, and at Philadelphia on March 4, 1793, at the corner of Sixth and Chestnut Streets, and after two terms of office of four years each, retired March 4, 1797, going to Mount Vernon, his plantation, where he lived as a farmer, and died on December 14, 1799, after one day's illness.

The memory of Washington and his heroic labors to establish and perpetuate the United States and its Stars and Stripes grows dearer to the world as the years roll on.

Women's Finest Winter Coats Again Change Their Prices

Every one of them is trimmed with some kind of handsome fur; they have large collars and cuffs of flying squirrel, skunk, nutria, kolinsky dyed squirrel, or Hudson seal (dye muskrat), and the coats themselves are mostly of silk-and-wool duvetyne, velour, bolivia or panne velvet. Many are hand embroidered. A few could be used for evening wraps or for afternoon.

New prices are $100 to $250. Needless to say, they have been double this, or nearly so.

(First Floor, Central)

THERE are still good pickings in the clearaway of embroideries in the Oriental Store—mats, table-runners, motives, even a few priest's robes. Prices run from $1 to $35.

(Fourth Floor, Chestnut)

Women's Glove-Silk Underwear Samplers

Women who wear size 40 in glove-silk underwear can't get garments of this much-like fabric at a saving of 25 per cent. Vests, $3 and $4.25. Camisoles, $2.25. Combination suits, $5.50 and $7.50.

(West Aisle)

Dainty Nightgowns

Rather sheer sorts— One made in the Empire style, with a tucked upper part and no trimming at all unless you count tucks and hemstitching, $3.50. Two styles with round or V necks and a good deal of lace and ribbon may be had for $4.85 and $7.50. Then a very unusual Empire sort, with its sleeves and upper part of net, $11.50.

(Third Floor, Central)

Women's Colored Handkerchiefs, 50c

Sheer Irish linen in colors so bright and gay that any woman would enjoy owning several. There are rose pink, green, tan and brown shades, blues and violet tones, and there are any number of effective designs. 50c each.

(Main Floor, Central)

Delightful Blouses of Georgette

A tucked style with long eyelid embroidered shawl collar at $15.85. A square-necked style with filet, $18. Another square necked with its front panel tucked and its long collar with eyelid embroidery and real filet, $18. A fourth, with pleated pointed frills and filet edged collars, $27.50. A fifth, with very finely pleated frill edged with real filet, $32.50. But most charming of all is the sixth, with broad real Irish inserts, hand embroidery and very unusual lines. This is $38.50. Each comes in white and flesh.

(Third Floor, Central)

Manila Sends Lovely New Embroidered Things for Babies

There are little sheets, hand-embroidered or hand-hemstitched, at $1.75 to $2.50 and in 36x40 or 36x52 inch sizes. Pillow cases in dainty designs are $3.

(Third Floor, Chestnut)

This is the great Sale, held each year just before the Spring housecleaning season, to which the housewives of Philadelphia and its outlying cities flock. It is both practical and educational in its service.

It is the Sale which should be attended by every girl studying domestic economy. Here she will see assembled, in the greatest numbers she is ever likely to see, and the best qualities she can find anywhere, an impressive exhibit of all the tools of the home-making trade:

The clothesbaskets, market - baskets, washtubs, buckets, ironing-boards, rolling-pins, stepladders—

The refrigerators, kitchen cabinets, porcelain-topped tables, detachable porcelain tops to be fitted to any table, white enamel pantry-ware, white enamel cookingware, galvanized ironware—

The bathroom fixtures (nickel and porcelain), medicine closets, brushes, brooms, mops, dusters—everything to clean up with, including the soap—

The sewing machines, dress forms, vacuum bottles, cedar chests, trunks—and thousands of other things not mentioned here but prominent in the Sale.

It is also a Sale to which the man of the house should be brought. It will appeal to his sense of business efficiency to see these thousands of fine and finished tools of household science, and will raise his opinion of both the science and the women who practice it.

The women who practice it will not have to be brought. They have been waiting for it eagerly. They know its values and its economies—

Each article the best made for its price—

Big and Little Sailor Hats—and All Brand-New

From all fashionable indications, the straw and sailor is to be most popular this Spring, and the Sports Room is full of all sorts of new and interesting models, all of which are the much-liked sailors.

Shiny straws make some; others are of the coarse, rough braids, and still others are of pineapple straw. The majority are in dark colors, but you may have lighter shades if you wish, or perhaps you'd like your black sailor brightened by a light facing—and that's what a number of these new hats have.

There are sailors with high crowns and short brims, sailors with wide brims, sailors with mushroom brims, sailors with roll brims, sailors with stiff brims and sailors with brims that turn up in three and four-cornered effects.

The trimmings are very simple, usually, and the prices are moderate, ranging from $4.50 to $20.

(Second Floor, Chestnut)

Satins and Other Black Silks Are Very Fashionable Indeed

Usually a colored silk as well enters into the gown scheme or an over-drapery of printed Georgette crepe. This is the way many of the smartest Easter gowns will be made.

Fortunately for the many calls upon black silks, we have lately received some beautiful qualities of black satin, 40 inches wide, and among them are the heavier weaves for suits, capes, coats and gowns. They are $6.50, $7.50, $8, $9 and $11 a yard.

Also other new black silks, including Georgette crepes, crepes de chine, metors, charmeuse and lighter-weight satins. Prices start at $3.50 and go to $5.50 a yard. A limited quantity of black charmeuse, 40 inches wide, is here at $5 a yard. Elsewhere, when it can be found at all, the price is at least half again as much.

(First Floor, Chestnut)

New Petticoats for Girls

Between $1.50 and $4.50 there is quite a variety of wash petticoats—white cambrics and nainsooks of good quality, made in many ways—some with lace and some with embroidery for trimming.

All are in 32 to 36 inch lengths. (Third Floor, Chestnut)

Persian Kermanshah Carpets—A Charming Group in The Oriental Rug Sale

Fine Kermanshahs are rugs of perennial charm. It is largely owing to the softness and delicacy of their shades and blendings. Kermanshahs offered in the Sale that we are holding are very good specimens of their kind. Ecru, blues of much delicacy, soft greens, pink and old rose are shown in them in very attractive combinations. Like all the rugs in this magnificent new consignment, these are priced considerably below their prevailing values.

Table with 2 columns: Size and Price. Persian Kermanshahs: 11.5x8.9 ft., $655; 13.10x10.5 ft., $795; 11.5x9.2 ft., $895; 13.9x10.1 ft., $975; 14x9.6 ft., $1185; 16.5x11.6 ft., $1285; 10.7x7.2 ft., $667; 10.1x9 ft., $890; 13.9x10 ft., $1085; 17x10 ft., $1785.

Small Kermanshahs: 3x5 to 5x7.6 ft., $145 to $295. The Sale also embraces a superb group of Persian Saruk carpets of exceedingly heavy texture in colors of surpassing richness. Besides which there are many India carpets, Chinese rugs in carpet and smaller sizes, Bijar carpets and a lot of much-desired Mossuls, Shiraz and Beluchistan rugs all under today's regular prices.

(Seventh Floor, Chestnut)

Silk Handbags in a New Spring Style at $5

Good moire silk in black, navy, taupe, brown and wistaria, lined with lovely contrasting color silk. One style has metal frame and the other has covered frame and two ball pendants at the bottom. Both have inner frames. Dainty little bags for so modest a price as $5.

(Main Floor, Chestnut)

Women's Duplex Gloves for Spring

Duplex gloves in eight-button length in white, white with black embroidery, beaver color, mastic or pongee are $2 a pair, and the same colors in twelve-button length are $2.25 a pair. Slip-on duplex gloves in white, white with black or mastic are $1.75 a pair.

And a new style slip-on, with tucked wrist, comes in white with black embroidery or mastic and is $2 a pair.

(Main Floor, Central)

Pretty New Buttons of Unique Design

They are in a new shape, with carved Oriental characters by way of design, and come in a lovely rose shade, apricot and a China blue, and are $2.35 and $3.50 a dozen. Just as new, but not so Oriental, are some other buttons, large and round and of horn—they are $3 and $3.75 a dozen.

(Main Floor, Central)

New Medium-Priced Domestic Rugs

In these three groups are designs and colors for every room or furnishing effect.

Axminster Rugs

9x12 ft., $62.50, $71, $72.50 and $84.50.

Velvet Rugs

9x12 ft., $67.50, 8.3x10.6 ft., $62.50.

Tapestry Brussels Rugs

9x12 ft., $39.50, $41.50 and $48.50.

8.3x10.6 ft., $36.50. (Seventh Floor, Chestnut)

New Hand-Drawn Curtains From Porto Rico

Something quite unusual; in fact, it is the first time we have ever had curtains from this island.

More important, however, to women who are buying these curtains for their homes is that they are most beautifully made and of remarkably good quality. The drawn-work edges are every bit hand done.

And, as to prices, the voile curtains are $6 a pair and those of marquisette $6.50. Both kinds are 2 1/2 yards long. These curtains are actually less than machine-made curtains of not nearly as nice a quality.

(Fifth Floor, Market)

Men's Fine Fur-Collared Overcoats Reduced for a Quick Go-Out

All our men's fur-collared overcoats, including a group that are lined with dogskin, have been marked at a considerably reduced price—now $90 each.

The regular fur-collared coats are particularly fine garments, in rich, fancy chevots in green and brown shades. These have collars of otter and nutria.

The dogskin-lined coats, also reduced to $90, have collars of racoon or Persian lamb and gray oxford shells. These are especially intended for motorists and men who are much exposed to hard weather.

Any coat in both groups, now $90.

(Third Floor, Market)

New Books

"Fire of Youth," by Henry James Forman, $1.75. A story of the romance and idealism in a man's soul. "The Marbeck Inn," by Harold Brighouse, $1.75. A vividly realistic story of the rise of an English workingman's son, told with keen judgment of character and much humor.

(Main Floor, Thirteenth)

New Skirting Plaids $1 and $1.25 a Yard

Such beautiful color combinations and so soft of finish that you would scarcely know they were all cotton. All are 36 inches wide.

Those at $1 a yard are black-and-white effects, some with a crossing of color, taupe-and-white and brown-and-white.

Those at $1.25 a yard are blue-and-tan and brown-with-tan, particularly dark and rich of color. (First Floor, Chestnut)

Embroidery for Making Neckwear

It is either of fine organdie or batiste in white or ecru or white with a trace of color.

Many women are making the daintiest collar-and-cuff sets from these embroideries and at a very little price. From 85c to $4 a yard. (First Floor, Chestnut) know how carefully the umbrella makers have thought about their needs? Does the man who towers a head above the crowd and who feels rather silly with an ordinary sized rain protector know that he can get an extra size—30 inches—and that its price will be very moderate—$2.50 to $5?

Do All Men Who Buy Umbrellas

Does the short man know that he can get a 26-inch size with a short handle? These are $3.

The man who wants the greatest spread of fabric will find here a flat-shaped style with ten ribs; the prices $3 to $10.

Some men will carry no umbrella save one with a malacca handle, consequently we have always a good assortment of silk with such handles. With good caps they are $18; without, $18 and $20.

Umbrellas with severely simple handles of hazel, cherry or furze, and covers of very fine silk—green, brown and navy as well as black—are $18 and $20.

Silk umbrellas with narrow wristloops are really very much liked—and no more effeminate than wrist watches. One may have them for $5 and $10.

Umbrellas with gray handles to match gray suede gloves appeal to the man of exquisite taste. They are $10.

Some men simply won't have anything but cherry wood opera hook handles. They are hard to get, but there is a pretty good variety of them at this moment, for $19 to $20.

Last come the imported umbrellas with pimento opera hook handles from Henry Howell, of London. These are $15. (Main Floor, Market)

Automobile Tires at Good Savings

We have several good makes of tires that have had their prices lowered 10 to 20 per cent because they are not all sizes. Both cord and fabric tires, all first grade and with guaranteed mileage.

Sizes 30x3, 30x3 1/2, 32x3 1/2, 32x4, 33x4, 34x4, 32x4 1/2, 33x4 1/2, 35x4 1/2, 35x5, 37x5, 37x5 1/2 and 38x5 1/2. (The Gallery, Junior)

A Merry Clink, Clink of Opportunity in the China and Glassware Sale

WITH hundreds of dinner sets—French, English and American—with thousands of pieces of sparkling cut crystal and light cut glassware, the Spring sale begins a new spell of service Tuesday.

It is a Sale of great practical helpfulness, offering a choice of all our regular dinner sets of all nationalities at reductions of 10 to 33 1-3 per cent.

Think of what that means! Think of choosing from the entire range of our own regular sets at a straight, clean cut from our regular, every day prices!

Wanamaker dinner sets are standard sets in the highest sense of the word.

They are standard in the quality of the wares, and what is very important to note—in the number and combination of pieces. In this Sale, dinner set means 106 to 108 pieces—absolutely nothing less.

Wanamaker cut glass is real (Fourth Floor, Chestnut) cut glass, made from blanks of high-grade crystal in cuttings that speak for themselves in both design and execution.

There is a magnificent lot of this fine crystal in the sale at 20 to 33 1-3 per cent less than our usual prices.

Light-cut glassware also in sparkling abundance and in a wealth of tastefully executed designs. It means something to be able to buy such true quality goods at savings from prices originally fair.
