Nancy Wynne Talks of the Doings in the South and North These Days—Lenten Class to Meet Today. Mary Judges Her Countrymen

IT SEEMS to me that things are really pretty gay in the South despite the Lenten season, and many have gone up to Lake Placid, Idaho, Rosemond Wurts, one of the two Wurts debutantes this year, is up at Lake Placid with Mary Wynne and several others. Did you know that Rosemond and her sister Eleanor are going to Europe in June with their aunt, Mrs. Edmund M. Macy. She is not actually a niece of Mrs. McCullough, but she is the stepdaughter of Mrs. McCullough's mother, Mrs. French St. Aubin. The Wurts and she have had several parties together this season. In fact Mrs. Newbold gave the tea which introduced her own daughter and the two Wurts girls back in October.

The Wurts girls are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kennedy. Wurts, the latter having been Miss Katherine Newbold. She is a sister of Mrs. McCullough, who was Miss Elizabeth Newbold, and of Trenchard Newbold, whose wife was Mrs. George H. Macy. It will be a wonderful experience to go over this summer, I think, and I have heard of quite a number who intend going or who have already sailed.

ALIX DOLAN was to go on Saturday, but I believe she and her grandmother, Mrs. Nelson Brown, have been held up again. I believe they are going in a very few days. Mrs. Brown makes Paris her home now. Alix will visit her for a while. Mrs. Brown came on last autumn, and she visited her daughter Mrs. Clarence Dolan in Newport and here in Rosemont.

Miss Bullitt sailed about a week ago for Paris and will be over there for some time. She is Mr. Logan Bullitt's daughter, you know, and has spent a lot of her time abroad with her family. She was in New York when the war broke out in 1914 and they escaped to London and returned several months later. The younger brother, Lieutenant Richard St. Aubin Bullitt, was one of the first of the Twenty-eighth Division men to give his life for his country.

TO RETURN to the doings in the South, they sure did have some party at the annual George Washington Club. The fancy frocks were wonderful to behold, and the dancing lasted until late in the morning. A great many Philadelphians were there. Mrs. Brown was in attendance, and the Charles and Gertrude Munn, the Ned Brownings, Miss Edith Fisher, who is their guest; the Paul Milnes and many other ones.

AND speaking of the South, did you know that Mary Porcher has just returned from Pensacola, Fla., where she was stopping with Jennie Knowles for several weeks. Some of the girls who were staying in the hotel, and who went over to New Orleans for the Mardi Gras, and though it was not so much fun as usual (the old proverb is still true), it was quite a treat in things, these days, they had a wonderful time. There were lots of naval officers—there are plenty of destroyers there—and quite a number of the officers flew down from Pensacola for the party, too.

THE Sidney Keiths and the Branton Robertes have been up in Newport visiting their respective sons, Sidney Keith, Jr., and Langston Robertes, who are at St. George's School. And in a few weeks most of the boys and girls will be coming home for the Easter holidays, and oh, my goodness, what a time there will be a round of doings for the younger set!

THE debutantes' Lenten sewing class will meet today at the home of Mary Fabnestock. The class was organized, I think I told you, by Frances Leach and Elizabeth Ann Leach, who are at St. George's school. The class was held last Thursday at the Taylor's house, and today the members will decide where to hold the next. The members include Nancy Manning, Mel Reid, Peggy Dalton, Elizabeth Lewis, Rachel Price, Mildred Longstrein, Helen Shelton and Eleanor Jones, besides the three already mentioned.

MISS A. has a little morning class for small tots and the other day she was giving an art class. The geography, and the subject was the Alps. She described the way in which travelers on the great snowy mountains were often saved from death and starvation by the big St. Bernard dogs, who hunted through the snow for them, and who had fastened about their necks a bag of bread to reward the half-frozen men or women they found. The children were wildly interested and listened in silent awe. Then Mary spoke: "Miss A., said she, 'I suppose that the great mountain Americans will be going over there now.'"
