

Bernard Shaw at Work : Army Recruiters Busy : Hot Springs as Washtubs : Griffin to Retire

BERNARD SHAW whipping "Pygmalion," which is being revived in England, into shape. Note his working pose in the first row balcony.

HUNDREDS BEING amused by an army recruiting squad on Market street, near Ninth. The musicians and song leaders kept the crowd intact as a recruiting staff circulated among the spectators urging enlistments.

GABRIELE D'ANNUNZIO, the Italian poet-warrior, a central figure in the Fiume dispute. His slogan is "Fiume to Italy."

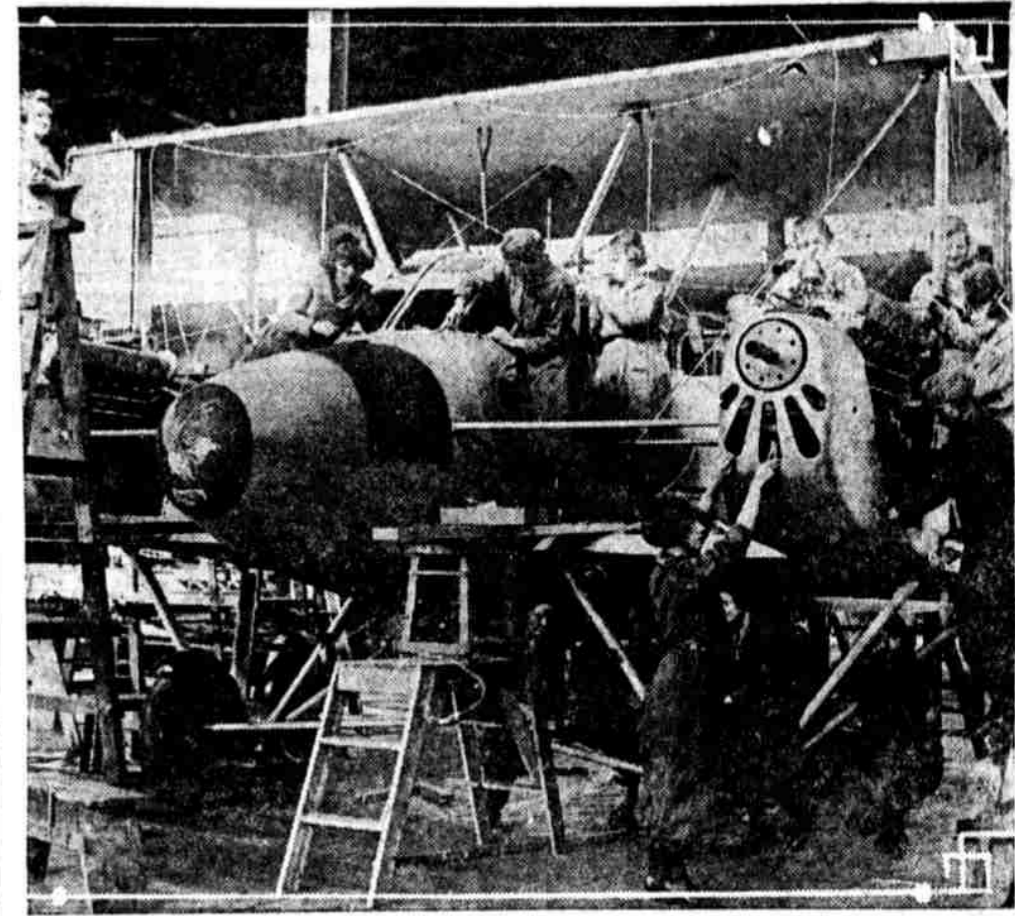

HOT SPRINGS of the South Sea Islands being used as washtubs by the Maori women. No plumbers needed here to assure sufficient hot water.

MRS. B. F. LEWIS, JR., Lansdowne, with "Robinhurst Fore-glow," at the American Spaniel Club show in New York on Saturday.

ENJOYING THE SANDS at Palm Beach. Mrs. Robert Cassatt, left, and Mrs. Craig Biddle, both of Philadelphia.

PUTTING THE finishing touches to the "Eagle," the new Curtiss ten-passenger bi-motored airplane. It will be exhibited as the first flying machine to be built mainly by women.

OUR CITY'S WORKERS AND WHAT THEY DO

ON THIS MACHINE at the Pilgrim Laundry Co., Broad street and Glenwood avenue. Miss Helen Lucas, 2143 North Thirteenth street, is shaping collars for the ironing process that follows. One side of the machine dampens the top edge of the collar so that the shaping and ironing are done without damage to the collar material.

THE BEAUTY CORNER

MATTHEW F. GRIFFIN, chief of the Secret Service, eastern district of Pennsylvania, who retires on March 15.

MAJOR A. V. DALRYMPLE, commander of the expedition which made the whisky raids in Michigan.

A FAIR STUDENT from the Far East doing gym stunts at the Bryn Mawr College Gymnasium.

MISS MILDRED BAYER, 2305 S. Ninth street, Philadelphia. Photographs for this feature should be submitted through the mail, addressed to the Beauty Corner, EVENING PUBLIC LEDGER.