Cleveland Holds People's Service Requirements as Preeminent

EIGHT-HOUR DAY STANDARD

Cleveland, March 1.—The committee on labor relations of the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce has formulated a labor-relations policy, set forth in a declaration of principles concerning labor relations for Cleveland, said to be the first instance in the country where a definite policy has been planned for a sommunity by a group of leaders of instance in the country and labor. fustry and labor.

Representative negotiations is the term used by the committee to replace collective bargaining, and as defined provides for negotiations between an employer and a committee of his employes, aided, if they desire, by a competent advocate or advisor of their own presents. The plan is similar to methods used by the railroad brotherhoods and is equally applicable to the shop-symmittee method.

mittee method. Progressive recommendations of the sommittee include advice to employers fo take the workers into their confidence and to place before their employes financial and other information con-

The committee opposes compulsion by citier employer or employe to maintain a union or nonunion shop, but recognizes The report recognizes the eight-hour day adopted as standard in many indus-tries and establishments.

The declaration places the public's right to service above the employes' right to strike and the employers' right to brike and the employers-right to lock out; advocates uninter-rupted service to the public pending set-tlement of disputes, and proposes publi-cation of the facts relating to labor con-troversies to advise the public of their

to obtain a change in the present system of army justice.

An effort will be made to place the court-martial revision scheme on the army reorganization bill in the form of an amendment, a step which the chair, it is expected, will overrule. The test of strength will come on an apa poll which supporters of the plan have made convinces them that they may force the measure through. Introduction of the Ansell-Chamber-lain-Johnson bill was brought about as the result of disclosures of the pro-cedure followed in military courts dur-ing the war. It was shown at various hearings that the court martial code of the United States was based on archaic European military laws and that it ex-cerded in severity all but the system followed by the Prussians.

GLASSBORO'S CHARTER ROW

Advocates of Borough Bill Cut Opponents From New Slate Glassboro, N. J., March 1.—No quarter will be given opponents of the proposed borough charter for Glassboro, according to the decision of the charter advocates, who expect the bill to inporate this township into a borough to finally pass the Legislature today and be signed by Governor Edwards. Charter advocates have given the word that they will not support any one for the municipal offices who has oposed the move for the new borough. To make certain that a ticket suitable to those who have put through the movement for incorporation, the char-ter "boomers" have appointed a nominating committee to select the candi-dates for mayor, Council and other boroute for mayor, Council and other bor-ough offices. George Harbert is chair-man of the nominating committee, and the other members are J. Frank Bar-ton, Allen C. Scott, John T. Albertson and Edward J. Hawkins, Jr.

BUS LINE FOR TOMS RIVER

Service Between County Seat and

Lakehurst to Open in April Toms River, N. J., March 1 .- To make their town a greater trade center, the newly organized Chamber of Commerce is encouraging motorbus routes connecting Toms River with shore and inland towns. The first service of this type will be opened between the county seat and Lakeburst early in April. The organization is discussing a farmers' market, that will prevent vehicular congestion on the principal business thoroughfare, such as occurs under the present marketing conditions. Jitney stands, that will increase the public parking space on city streets for visiting motorists also are advocated.

FIRE DESTROYS GLASS PLANT Cumberland, Md., March 1 .- (By A. -Fire believed to have been caused by defective wiring destroyed the large Wellington Glass Co. plant here late last night. The loss is estimated at $250,000, and is said to be covered fully by insurance.

URGES CREDIT FOR FOOD

Banker Says U. S. Should Lend New York, March 1.—Immediate appropriation by Congress of a $50,000,000 food credit for the relief of Central European countries is urged in a cable message received here by John McHugh, chairman of the commerce and marine committee of the American Bankers' Association. The message was from Fred I. Kent, a member of the committee, who for the last seven months has been studying conditions in Europe.

The British Government, he said, "has agreed to advance half of any amount that the United States will amount that the United States will provide up to a total for Great Britain of £10,000.000 sterling advance, and France and Italy are studying the proposition." The neutrals are also considering "extending help." he added, provided the United States takes the lead
