Atlantic City, March 3 .- "Politicians tre going to hold back this Philadel- ing up briskly. pais-Camden bridge just as long as they possibly can. Real estate men and the people at large will have to get to-rether and build that little bridge, be-cause the politicians are not interested in anything which does not benefit them directly." Robert D. Clow, Jr., presi-dant of the Camden Real Estate Board, disclared at an intercity meeting of the Atlantic City Real Estate Board at the Hotel Traymore last night, William H. Willison, president of the Real Estate Board, of Philadelphin, was a speaker his - Camden bridge just as long as they

Wilson, president of the Real Estate Board, of Philadelphia, was a speaker also. Mr. Clow took exception to the dec-baration of William II, Wilson, presi-dent of the Philadelphia Real Estate Board, that a state board for the locensing of real estate operators is the final solution of one of the most trouble-some problems of the profession. The rave danger, he said, is that 'curb-stone' brokers may be placed at the bead of such licensing boards through

SEES PLOT IN SECOND HARKNESS ROMANCE

Husband's Love to Get

According to reports from those in close touch with conditions in England, that government is encouraging in every way the sale of English goods to this country. Not only is it hoped to improve the exchange situation in this way, but the opportunity is being grasped by English manufacturers to sell to this market while their prices on the present exchange basis are so favor-able toward getting them business.

BUSINESS NOTES

Fashion continues to favor ribbons Fashion continues to favor ribbons, and as a result such goods are not suf-fering from the temporary slump that has occurred in broad sliks. The period following the holiday trade was one of uncertainty to manufacturers, who were not sure whether goods bought to re-nientsh stocks would be moved as quick-ly as usual. This uncertainty has about passed and, from investigations made by the wholesalers, retail sales are keep-ing up brickly.
