CONFESES $8000 EMBEZZLEMENT

J. A. Gerety, Ex-Secretary of Building and Loan Association, Admits Thefts

REPAID THE FULL AMOUNT

John A. Gerety, 6025 Christian street, former secretary of the West Philadelphia Prosperity Building and Loan Association, pleaded guilty to embezzlement of between $7000 and $8000 of the funds of the organization before Judge McCullen, in Quarter Sessions court this morning.

Seven checks, ranging from $400 to $1800, which had been deposited to the personal account of Gerety in the Central National Bank, were examined in court.

Augustus F. Daix, 3d, assistant state bank examiner, who discovered the shortage on the loan association, testified that Gerety had admitted the embezzlement of the amount involved and had offered bond to cover subsequent discrepancies which may appear.

Charles S. Wesley, counsel for Gerety, said that his client had had difficulties in his business and had yielded to the pressure of temptation in the signed checks. Gerety conducts coal yards at 3100 Germantown avenue and Thirtieth and Walnut streets.

John F. Stinson, president of the building and loan association, could throw no light upon the operations of Gerety. He knew nothing of the business, he said, further than that counsel for the association was satisfied with the restitution of the money and security for possible further shortages.

Charles E. Fox, assistant district attorney, asked the court to defer final disposition of the case until the attorney general's office or John S. Fisher, state banking commissioner, at whose instance the prosecution was started, could be represented in court. Judge McCullen opposed this line of action, declaring that sufficient evidence was on hand to proceed.

The court finally postponed the case to give the attorney for the loan association a chance to appear and testify that the security offered by Gerety for future discrepancies was satisfactory.

FRANK C. SMINK DIES

Until Recently Head of Reading Iron Works—Widely Known

Reading, Pa., March 3.—(By A. P.)—Frank C. Smink, aged seventy-four years, widely known in the iron trade, died here today. Until recently he was for many years president of the Reading Iron Co., employing 7000 men, succeeding the late George F. Baer, when the latter was elected president of the Reading Railway Co. in 1902.

Recently he has been serving as chairman and later president of the board of directors, succeeding Edward T. Stotesbury, of Philadelphia. Mr. Smink was a director in at least a dozen financial and iron and steel corporations in this city and state, and was a member of social organizations in Reading, Philadelphia and New York.

He began life as a clerk and later was identified with the Reading Railway Co. until he entered the iron trade. He leaves a large estate.

Mr. Smink was born in 1845 in Kutztown, Berks county, son of H. B. and Elizabeth Smink. He was educated in the public schools of Reading, graduating from the high school in 1861, after which he taught school during the winter season of 1861-62.

His first business position was that of bookkeeper in a shoe manufactory. Later he entered the employ of the Philadelphia and Reading R. Co. He resigned to accept a clerkship in Bushong Bros. Bank. Soon afterward he was promoted to cashier and acted as such until the bank failed in 1877.

Mr. Smink entered the service of the Reading Iron Works as business manager. He continued in that capacity until 1880, in which year the works failed, immediately thereafter he took an active part in the formation of the Reading Iron Co., which purchased all of the plants of the Reading Iron Works, and upon its organization Mr. Smink was named vice president and general manager under the presidency of George F. Baer, whom he succeeded in 1902 as executive head of the company.

Mr. Smink was married December, 1866, to Clara C., daughter of Augustus and Elizabeth (Siddle) Thompson, of Reading, and they had four children.

DELTA PHI DEFENDED

Nonfrat Men Deplore Ostracism of Council Against Chapter

The announced policy of ostracism against members of the Delta Phi Fraternity by other fraternity men has caused a sharp reaction at the University of Pennsylvania.

Unfraternized men at the University were reported today as indignant over the council members' action against Delta Phi, inasmuch as fraternity men represent approximately only 10 per cent of the undergraduate body.

Recently members of the Interscholastic Council, embracing all the "frats" except Delta Phi, which refuses to join, announced that hereafter no Delta Phi man would be elected to the board of a university publication or to any of the honor societies.

Arthur Littleton, a law school undergraduate, who was president of the Interscholastic Council in 1918-1919, said today the action of the council members presented "a most favorable position of attack to the opponents of Greek letter societies."

HOG ISLAND BIDS ASKED BY PAYNE

Shipping Board, $1,757,000 Title Payment Made, Ready to Sell Shipyard

The shipping board is ready to sell Hog Island, according to an announcement today in Washington.

Chairman Payne said that title to the yard had been effected by payment of $1,757,000 to the American International Shipbuilding Co., which owned the land, and that he was ready to receive tenders for the property.

Purchase of the yard by the state of Pennsylvania or this city for use as a shipping terminal has been suggested by members of the Chamber of Commerce.

Mayor Moore is at work on several plans to take over the yard.

Study of the property was begun today with particular reference to surplus supplies of steel, machinery and other equipment. Fabricated steel and engines adequate for the construction of sixteen ships are ready for immediate sale, it was said, and with other surplus materials may be offered separately.

As the last ship laid down at Hog Island will not be launched until September 15, the yard cannot be actually turned over before that date.

A tentative proposition has been made by the American International Shipbuilding Corporation that the taking over of the yard be progressive, the shipping board taking possession of each series of ways as cleared, and that the surplus materials as inventories and checking are completed.

WALTON ASSURES MORE POLICE PAY

Controller Says Report Will Also Show Ample Funds for Firemen's Increase

GLAD ADVANCE IS POSSIBLE

The financial condition of the city will permit the granting of salary increases to police and firemen, according to City Controller John M. Walton.

The annual report of the controller, giving the exact financial status of the city, will be made Saturday.

"I was a little surprised that my preliminary report on this subject of increases for policemen and firemen," said Mr. Walton, "was interpreted in certain quarters as if it knocked in the wind a plan of increasing pay for these men."

"The city's finances are in excellent condition to make it advisable and proper at this time to render long-delayed justice to the city's most faithful servants."

In addition to plans of the administration for increase of pay to police and firemen, which will be made at once, if the recommendations of Controller Walton are accepted, Director Winston, of the Department of Public Works, yesterday recommended to Mayor Moore a schedule of increases of the Bureau and 150 more wanted, an increase from the present rate of $3.30, including bonus, to straight $4 a day.

Director Winston also laid before Mayor a schedule of increases for 300 laborers in the Water Bureau.

"The present basis of pay for 300 laborers is $2.75, with bonus making $3.30 a day," said Director Winston, and Chief Dunlap informs me that private enterprises are paying $4 and $5 for the same class of labor."

DROUGHT HAS MARY'S GOAT

Ban on Old-Time Book Takes Kick—Out of Capricious Pet

In all Kensington there is no more capricious member of the female sex than Mary Ann.

Mary Ann, like many modern feminists, spends much time gadding about, but she does come home to rest—and during these quiet intervals she may be found at 1811 Gault street. Mary is the goat of the family of Patrick Gorham. Now, lest in these slanging days she may not understand, let it be explained that she is not one of the members of the family that is imposed upon, but just a plain, everyday goat as described in the dictionary.

Mary does, or at least used to, spend a great deal of her time in the saloon that stood at the corner of Chatham and Somerset streets, also owned by Mr. Gorham. Mary, in the good old days—she is only three years old—evinced a great liking for beer, the old five per cent brew, from which it will be gathered that she had a thirst early in life. Especially was she fond of book brew.

With prohibition in full effect and almost everything that an ambitious goat, a firm believer in woman's rights, can hope to do legislated out of existence, Mary wanders disconsolately about the streets.
