The Opening Displays of Spring Millinery Continue

And it is a pleasure to notice with what satisfaction women of all types and ages are selecting new Hats. Especially praiseworthy are the more moderately-priced Hats, which we consider (and we believe you will) the best values in Philadelphia. One particularly striking

Ready-to-wear Hats, $3.50 to $7.95

These Hats are all copied from much higher-priced Millinery, as you can see by their smartness and distinctive lines. The Hats at the left are two of hundreds, very few alike, and ranging from the Beret effects of rough straw, pierced by a single ornamental pin, to novelty shapes of fine straw braids, trimmed with wings and wheat, wreathed with flowers or having lace or net edges and touches of cellophane.

New Millinery for Girls and Children in a Lovely Spring Opening Display

For the little tots, School Hats of durable straws, rolled up, turned down, or perfectly straight, but nearly always with streamers; and for dress wear the cunningest little Pokes and Mushrooms with ribbons and flowers.

For young Miss 'Teen the smartest of mixed straw Sailors, sashed in Roman stripes; the softest of little suit Hats, with tailored trimming; summery Capelines of tagal wreathed with wheat and velvet loops; quaint new Pokes with velvet ribbons and flowers; Straw Hats with cut-out crowns of silk; many new effects in ribbon brims; new imported Japanese and chain-straw-body Hats-a great, radiant, new collection of Hats, glowing with the new high colors. Women's New Spring Suits

In Extra Sizes From $72.50 to $125.00

The new spring line of Extra-size Suits is in readiness, and we are sure women will find it particularly satisfying. The variety is excellent, and each model, while typifying one of the best styles of the season, has been adapted to the require-ments of large women. These Suits are not large sizes of regular-size Suits, they have been especially modeled on long, slendering lines, with sleeve widths, arm sizes and all other measurements carefully proportioned. Of men's-wear serge, Poiret twill and tricotine, in black and navy blue, made in belted and semi-belted styles, some of the coats terminating in slender points; other models are in panel effects, and some are fashioned on plain-tailored lines without belts. Many have vests of embroidered duvetine.
