THE HUNTING PARTY (Peggy and Billy, taken to the long ago by a charm given them by the Wild Geese, make peace between the tribes of Chief Eagle Feather and Chief Red Dog, but Watampoo, the Medicine Man, becomes their enemy. The Indians plan a hunting party.)

Watampoo Calls the Bears THE Indians were very hungry. For a long time the tribe of Chief Eagle Feather had been at war with the tribe of Chief Red Dog and they had been so busy fighting each other that they hadn't been able to do any hunting. And when an Indian in the long, long ago didn't go hunting he had to go hungry.

So when the Wild Geese brought word that there were dozens of deer in a glade beyond the western hills, the Indians, armed with bows and arrows, rushed into the forest. Flashing Eye and Little Bear, the sons of Engle Feather, and Swift Foot and Jumping Horse, the sons of Red Dog, followed the braves toward the pog. followed the braves toward the hills. Billy and Peggy, not wanting to be left behind, jumped on the back of Balky Sam and galloped on their trail. After them came Watampoo, the medicine man, but Watampoo kept out of eight, for he was plotting mischief to Peggy and Billy.

The Indian braves were swift runners between their way quickly through

The Indian braves were swift runners and they made their way quickly through the tangled woods. Above their heads gabbled and honked the Wild Geese, acting as guides. The Indians thought it very, very wonderful to be led by such scary birds as Wild Geese, and they marveled at the power of the White Spirits, as they called Peggy and Billy, to be able to talk to the Geese and tell them what to do.

When the Indians reached the hills, the Wild Geese flew ahead and circled over the glade in which the deer was feeding. Now the braves became very easteful so as not to scare the deer.

Balky Sam couldn't go fast. As a result the Indians reached the glade before Balky Sam got up the hill. In an open place on the hilltops, Peggy and Billy found the Indian boys. And the Indian boys were much disgusted. They had caught up with the hunters, but as they were only boys, their fathers had told them to stay behind so they would not bother the braves.

"Ugh! I could kill a deer!" grumbled Flashing Eye. "Ugh! Ale too!" grumbled Little Bear, Swift Foot and Jumping Horse."

"Maybe a deer will come this way." said Billy, looking down toward the glade.

"Ugh! No chance! Iudians are mighty hunters and will kill all," grunted Flashing Eye. And so it seemed, for at that moment, the Indians, having crept to within shooting distance of the deer, let fly with their

Guess Work

VITHOUT a complete and analytical valuation of the physical assets of a property, it is impossible to comply with Article 169, Regulations 45, relating to the income and excess profits tax which provides and secures just and fair allowances for depreciation or depletion. Allowances for depreciation should be computed and charged off with express reference to specific items, units or groups of property, each item or unit being considered separately or specifically in a group with others to which the same factors apply. Guess work and lump sum methods are not permissible.

The revenue authorities of the United States Government are anxious to give you a square deal but they naturally place the burden on you to show that deductions in your income statement are reasonable. This can only be determined through a proper valuation of your business.

Upon request a representative of our Valuation and Report Department will, without obligation, call and discuss this tax problem with you.

The one purpose of the paint manufacturer is to produce a paint that will give quick results. Chemicals that give quick covering and quick drying are put into the paint. The fumes are breathed in by the Painter.

If you have been in a room where painting is being done you know how powerful those fumes are-how they sicken you in five minutes. You couldn't stand it for a solid day, could you?

The Painter gets 6 days of it a week. His health is undermined—his life shortened. He wants a 5-day week, with 5 days' pay.

If he wanted 6 days pay for 5 days work he would be unreasonable. But he's willing to lose that day's pay—and count it as an invest-ment in Health!
