GIRL DIES TO SAVE SISTER

Freezes to Death After Warming Two Children With Her Coat

Two Children With Her Coat Bismarck, N. D., March 17.—(By A. P.)—Five known dead and thousands of dollars' damage to property was the toll of the two-day blizzard which swept this state—the worst in more than thirty years. The storm early today is gradually subsiding. One girl gave her life to save her sister and brother, while the heroic effort of another youth proved futile and he and his three brothers perished on the prairies.

d he and his three brothers perished the prairies. When their sleigh was wrecked by e wind, Hazel Miner, eighteen years d, took off her coat and wrapped it d blankets around her small brother d sister. For twenty-four hours they y in the snowdrifts before they were and by scarching parties. Hazel was in the scarching in hundling up that

WANAMAKER'S

EVENING PUBLIC LEDGER-PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 17, 1920

"Brother Jonathan" can be traced back to the time of George Washington, when Jonathan Trumbull, the elder, was Governor of the State of Connecticut.

WANAMAKER'S

Grand Organ Plays at 9,

11, 11:55 and 4:50

In the discussions of ways and means to provide ammunition, clothes and shoes for the soldiers of the Revolutionary Army, General Washington, because of great confidence in Governor Trumbull, was heard to say frequently: "We will consult Brother Jonathan."

He so often in extremities helped to supply the necessities of the Army, and aided in overcoming difficulties, that Washington's words became a by-phrase all over the country: "We will have to consult Brother Jonathan."

Oh! for some big-souled, high chief like Abraham Lincoln, Theodore Roosevelt, John Adams, Jonathan Trumbull, to guide the Nation now!

[Signed] JOhn Mananaky March 17, 1920.

Charming New Sports Hats and Others to Wear With Summer Gowns usually, and brims that droop

They are all the broad, shady brimmed hats that will go well with thin gowns and summer frocks, as well as sports frocks First of all you will admire the colors—orchid shades, soft pinks and dull, old blues, primrose and emerald greens. And there are any number of stun-ning black and white hats. They have rounded crowns, becomingly. And by way of trimmings there are wide flat bows, or narrow ribbon bands, or a little handful of vivid-hued posies. Sometimes the ribbon bows are under the brims and sometimes flat on them. Tagal and yedda are the most used straws, sometimes the two are used in combination. $18 to $25. (Second Floor, Chestnut)

This Spring Many Women Want Wool Jersey Coats

The new style at $47.50 is particularly popular. It is very good looking, tailored in the best manner and it is becoming to almost every woman. There is a yoke in the back, three inverted pleats, a strap belt and a half lining of pongee silk. (First Floor, Central)

Answering the request of certain women for an even less expensive all-wool jersey cloth coat, there has just arrived one at $37.50 in almost the same style but unlined Both of these coats come in Oxford, navy, brown, green and heather.

More of the lovely American things have arrived-a white tricolette or silk jersey gown, heavily embroidered, over a black satin slip; a dull blue Georgette with large bead motif in yellow, rose and green; a wonderful white gabardine gown with a front panel of white satin embroidered; and other models of equal interest.

The lingerie collars and vests and undersleeves are one of the features of the new navy tricotine dresses.

But there are so many of the new fashion features in the American as well as the exquisite French models-from Lanvin, Miler Soeurs. Brandt, Jenny and others-that it will be far more satisfactory to see than to read about them.

The showing will be held tomorrow and next day on the First Floor, Central.

And Now, Sir, What of Your Spring Overcoat?

"In March many weathers," says the old adage, and a man must be prepared for all kinds.

Just now the garment of all-round usefulness is a light-weight overcoat.

To our knowledge there are no better Spring overcoats to be had anywhere for the money than those our Men's Clothing Store is now showing in such ample variety at $45 to $75. Our belief in them is not a matter of opinion, but of conviction, conviction founded upon the knowledge that the fabrics are standard woolens, the styles the standard of fashion and the workmanship the kind that stands up under examination and, better still, under the actual test of service.
