

DR. STEELE ASSAILS EPISCOPAL DRIVE

Campaign Cannot Succeed,
Too Hastily and Extravagantly
Planned, Says Rector

MR. BROWN IS SILENT

The Rev. Dr. David M. Steele, rector of the Church of St. Luke and the Epiphany, has published in the current issue of the national-wide campaign of antagonizing the national-wide campaign of the Episcopal Church.

This campaign, he says, will not succeed because of certain grave fallacies of it, and because it was "too little and too short of dishonestly promoted."

"I have not been able to enthuse over the project of the nation-wide campaign," he says, in printing an extract from an article which he prepared for the Church News, but which has been withheld from that publication.

"I am sorry I have not. Your readers should know how many others have felt the same way. You will do them a disservice if you do not tell them this. It is the truth. Your paper in discussing this doctrine, adjudged by facts and figures now available, or which ought to be to any one after this sufficient lapse of time, has come into a bad predicament by way of anti-climax."

"It has made a sorry showing compared with the success predicted and the confidence professed at the beginning. Note, I say professed. I do not believe it was felt."

"Most of the leaders of this movement questioned it from the beginning and kept on doubting its success while they advocated it. They and we together know that back of this campaign there were certain fallacies so grave that it could not succeed."

"It has not succeeded, and for these half dozen reasons: It was too suddenly conceived, too extravagantly planned, too hastily prepared, too hastily projected, too hysterically pressed and too little short of dishonestly promoted."

"It has made a sorry showing compared with the success predicted and the confidence professed at the beginning. Note, I say professed. I do not believe it was felt."

Who Shall Be Nominated for the Next President?

The question as to who is to be elected next November by the votes of the women (we hope) and the men of the United States, is now uppermost in the minds of the people, and talked of by all.

The platform of principles on which the President is to stand and administer national affairs must also be carefully put together.

One of its most important planks is the Tariff, whose sole object should be to maintain employment of American labor.

The origin of the word "tariff" is interesting, especially to the new voters. It grew out of a fixed scale of duties assessed upon all merchandise at a fortress commanding the entrance to the Mediterranean Sea, on a Spanish promontory called Tarifa, running out into the Strait of Gibraltar. This fortress was said to have belonged at one time to the Moors, and from it they watched and halted and took toll from the merchant ships coming and going.

The United States must either place an embargo upon the exporting of its products past that point at which a scarcity for home consumption is created, thereby raising the prices of the homeland requirements, or it must increase the home output to maintain former normal prices.

But, still farther—

It is Absolutely Essential

to fix a tariff upon imports to protect the working men and women, that they may not be compelled to take the kind of daily wages paid abroad, live upon the same classes of food, change their manner of living, their homes, and their wearing apparel, and use child labor, as they do everywhere in the Old World.

No more serious question than this faces the United States in the reduction of high prices—preserving to the American worker an adequate earning power for a day's work.

This country must never go down to the European basis of labor.

Graceful Accordion Pleated
Capes With the New Tapering Lines

Certainly they are the most popular of all capes at the present moment. Black and blue serge or gabardine is the material, but there is a world of difference in the styles.

One has a satin hood-shaped collar ending in long silk cords. Another has a border of diamond pleating and is plain down the front. Or you may have still another, a fine gabardine, with a shoulder yoke, tucked, and straight facing in front. This also has the diamond pleated border.

Prices go from $65 to $100.

(First Floor, Central)

Women's Jersey Suits

Just arrived, in both light and heavy weights, and made up, of course, in the typical sports fashion with belts and pockets.

The color range is uncommonly long and attractive—navy, brown, oxford, strong blues, heather browns and greens.

Prices $35 to $47.50.

(First Floor, Central)

New Untrimmed Hats

in all the fashionable shapes for the Spring and Summer. They are in all the new straws, too, rough and smooth.

Small hats and large hats, hats for tailored wear and hats for dress, hats that turn off the face and hats that turn down.

Plenty of the bright colors that are now worn, many blue shades, plenty of browns, and, of course, black.

$4.50 to $15.

And nearby are flowers and wings and feathers, all at moderate sums.

(Second Floor, Chestnut)

If a Young Woman Wishes a Sports Suit for $35

here are some of wool Jersey in pretty tan and plain shades as well as heather mixtures, and new blues and browns. Well tailored, youthful and smart of line, these suits are in a simple sports style with pockets, narrow belt and inverted pleat in the back.

Fine Blue Suits at $67.50 to $150

are of dark blue serge or wool tricotine. Some are quite simple and are rather plainly tailored, with perhaps a shining line of silk braid for piping, or a row of buttons. Some are richly embroidered. There are short jackets and longer ones, there are little box coats and blouse jackets. All are richly lined.

14 to 20 year sizes.

(Second Floor, Chestnut)

Some of the Low Shoes Women
Can Get for $8.50

All better shoes than this price will ordinarily buy today. Tan calfskin oxfords, with narrow or medium toes and Cuban heels.

Dark tan calfskin oxfords with full, round toes and military heels. Black calfskin and black glazed kidakin oxfords with narrow toes and high Cuban heels.

Patent leather blucher oxfords with dull kidakin quarters and Cuban heels.

Patent leather and black calfskin pumps with Cuban heels.

Black and dark tan calfskin and patent leather pumps with low, broad heels.

(First Floor, Market)

The Engagement
Ring of the Present Time

It is a perfect blue-white diamond solitaire set in platinum (the hoop, however, may be of gold) and it is in the best taste for the mounting to be either plain or in fancy design, paved with small diamonds.

Such engagement rings in great variety are to be found in the Wanamaker Jewelry Store from $114 to $3600.

(Jewelry Store, Chestnut and Thirteenth)

New Silks Carry
Out the White and Black Idea

They are soft white taffetas with black stripes. You can wash these silks as satisfactorily as all-white tub silks.

This is the last word of fashion for smart frocks for the seashore, mountains or country club. The width is a full 35 inches and the price $4 a yard. (Exactly the wholesale cost today.)

(First Floor, Chestnut)

Here for Spring
Lovely New
Evening
Scarfs From Paris

Some are of chiffon, some are of crepe and a few are of brocade velvet—but they are all charming.

Quite a number are in white with colored designs, but you may have pale blue, a rich and beautiful gold shade, a deep, rich rose and many other colors.

$5 to $50.

(Main Floor, Central)

New Rhinestone Bar Pins

Some charming new pins are all of sterling silver, made with gallery backs and safety catches and set with sparkling rhinestones. They are $15 each.

Other new bar pins of sterling silver, set with rhinestones, $2.75 to $33 each.

(Jewelry Store, Chestnut and Thirteenth)

French Neckwear—
New and Exquisite

All are in spotless white, and while there is much hand embroidery—and both solid and eyelet embroidery is used—there are many pieces trimmed with laces, too, and that means Valenciennes or filet this Spring.

There are short back collars, small collars, collars with long revers, and fine, beautifully made guimpes.

They begin at $2.50 for the simplest collar and go on up to $14 for a beauty that is a mass of fine embroidery and real lace.

(Main Floor, Central)

Women's New
Gloves of Washable
Leather

There are two styles in this new collection—one a strap-wrist glove in white and chambray at $4 a pair.

The other glove is an 8-button length and comes in white and the natural color. It is $4.50 a pair.

(Main Floor, Central)

Dainty Initialed
Handkerchiefs

They have the tiniest of hems, revers stitched and hand embroidered, and are most attractive. Initials in one corner.

$11 the dozen.

(Main Floor, Central)

Pretty Two-Toned
Ribbons

Rose and blue, pale pink and blue, deep blue and gull red, light and dark blue, and ever so many more.

They start at 85c a yard for the one-inch width, and go on up to $3.85 for the handsome six-inch width.

(Main Floor, Central)

Last
Showing
Tomorrow
of Easter Fashions

The French and American gowns in their Springlike setting, are full of new fashion features, from short sleeves throughout a long list to vivid colorings. But always the discriminating looker-on comes back to these two facts—that the dresses are so charming and they are so wearable.

Besides the American models there are gowns by Lanvin, Brandt, Jenny, Miller Soeurs and others.

(First Floor, Central)

Silk Stockings at $2.15
"Seconds," but Fine Ones

These are black and white ingrain thread silk stockings, full fashioned and with all-silk or mercerized tops. If first grade they would be a dollar or two more a pair. The imperfections are very slight and the entire 1300 pair should go out in a day.

(West Aisle)

(Third Floor, Central)

The Right Spring Suits and Overcoats for Men Are Here

One of the reasons why there is trouble in the world is because so many people refuse to look facts in the face.

This Spring season, as at similar seasons in the past—perhaps more than in past seasons—it is one of the easiest things in the world for any man to buy the wrong kind of suit and pay good money for it.

But it is at least as easy—perhaps it is easier—for him to buy the right kind.

It all depends upon whether he is a man who does, or does not, look facts squarely in the face.

If he does, he will know that, no matter how plentiful the wrong kinds of suits may be, there are always enough of the right kind to make sure that he can have one—if he really means to have it.

New Spring suits are $40 to $100.
Spring overcoats, $45 to $75.

(Third Floor, Market)

New Hats for Men Who
"Want It Done Right"

If a workman said of a certain job that he could do it for $3 but it would cost $5 to have it done right, most men we know would say, "Well, go ahead and do it."

The same principle applies to hats. You might be able to get along without a new hat this Spring, but you would be conscious all the time that you were not doing yourself justice.

Men who want to "do it right" in the matter of hats should see these—Derbies, English and American, $7 to $15.
Soft hats, $6 to $12.

(Main Floor, Market)

A Right Good Spring Sale of Dishes and Glassware

The Easter feast calls for good dishes and glassware—the kind that are offered in such good assortment and at such attractive prices in the Spring Sale. A steady influx of new groups keeps the Sale full of interest and opportunity every day.

French, English and American dinner sets, fine cut glass, light-cut and other inexpensive glassware are the goods behind the Sale and they are of the right kind and at real savings.

(Fourth Floor, Chestnut)

Not a Day Too Soon to Outfit
the Boy for Easter

As to the character of Wanamaker boys' clothing, there is hardly any need for argument.

We sell only the finest kind to be had at each price, and as long as we can help it we will never sell any other kind.

The new Spring suits and overcoats are well up to our own standard, and as long as we know that to be true we know that there are no finer ready-to-wear suits or overcoats to be found at the prices anywhere.

It is not a day too soon to look to the Easter outfitting of the boys.

New Easter suits in blue serge are in a wonderful choice of mixed fabrics—$16.50, $20, $25 up to $38, in sizes for boys of 8 to 18 years.

Very fine Spring overcoats for lads of 3 to 10 years at $18, $22.50, $28, $30, $32 and $33.

(Second Floor, Central)

Lighter Quilts for the Good Spring Weather

When heavy Winter bedclothes become unhygienic it is good to have these excellent quilts to bring into service.

Cotton-filled and wool-filled and in just the proper weight for Spring.

At $7.50 there are cotton-filled quilts covered in silkoline figured on both sides. Others of the same general description, but with plain borders at $8 each.

Wool-filled quilts covered with silkoline, figured on both sides—$10 each. Others of the same kind, but with plain borders—$11 each.

All are in floral patterns and there is a variety of colors to select from.

(Sixth Floor, Central)

Time to Plant Sweet Peas

A pound of seed will plant a row a hundred feet long, and if the flowers are steadily cut will yield all summer long.

Gift edge mixture, 5c a packet, 15c an ounce, $1.25 a pound.

Orchid flowered mixture, 10c a packet, 25c an ounce, $2.50 a pound.

(Fourth Floor, Central)

Fine Bicycles for Pleasant Days

High-grade wheels of the sort that please particular people.

Heading the list are the Columbia bicycles, in models for men, women and children. Chainless models are $77.50; chain models, $87.50 to $95, and juvenile models, $46.50 to $48.50.

Bright New Cutlery in the March Housewares Sale
at Special Prices

Please observe that we have not now and never had, cheap cutlery—we never have cutlery of the kind that turns up at the edge and that drops out of the handle after a week or two of use. For blades of that kind we must refer you to some low-grade hardware store.

At genuine low prices we have thousands of kitchen knives in all sorts of fashions and all kinds of kitchen cutlery, with good, sound, durable steel blades, properly fastened to their handles, sure to give long and valuable service.

More than that—at their low, special prices in the March Sale these things are in most cases even less in price than you would pay for inferior metals in some other kind of store.

90 carving sets, special at $5.25—these are three-piece sets, known as beef carvers, with 8-inch knife blade and with knife, fork and steel equipped with stag handles.

Smaller carving sets, special at $2.65—known as bird carvers. Knife and fork, knife having 5½-inch blade and both knife and fork with stag handles.

Butcher knives, 40c, 55c and 75c. Forged steel blades in 6, 8 and 9 inch lengths mounted on cocobola handles.

Bread knives, special at 75c. These are really general utility knives with heavy 10-inch blades running through the buckwood handles.

Pot forks, special at 45c. Brass riveted, with steel tines and cocobola handles.

Kitchen knife and fork sets, $3-6 knives and 6 forks, with polished steel blades and cocobola handles.

Kitchen knives, 10c to 40c—these are utility knives, made mostly with black enamel handles, all of good steel and well fastened. Prices, 10c, 15c, 20c, 25c, 30c and 40c.
