

HOMES FOR BIRDS ASKED

Farmers Urged to Care for Needs of Feathered Tribe

Build bird boxes if you are a friend of the feathered tribe, says Seth E. Gordon, secretary of the Pennsylvania Game Commission, in a bulletin issued today.

Mr. Gordon urges that all lovers of the outdoors, farmers, Boy Scouts, sportsmen, nature clubs and dwellers in apartments, nature clubs and dwellers in apartments put up houses to give additional nesting space to the birds returning from their winter sojourn in the South. Plans for the building of these houses will be furnished to all applicants by the Game Commission at Harrisburg.

It is urged also that farmers put out additional food for birds, planting or transferring sweet cherries, mulberries and raspberries. The bulletin says: "Many persons when planting small fruit trees forget their friends the birds, whereas they should plant an extra tree or two so that there will be plenty for both, as the robin, catbird and other species are constantly rendering an invaluable service to the farmer and fruit grower."

Full Havana Filler

If you should ask us to describe Robt. Burns in four words, we should say, "Havana leaf plus mildness."

To explain this in more detail, Robt. Burns' full Havana filler gives him fine flavor. Special curing gives that Havana rare mildness. His neutral Sumatra wrapper helps that mildness.

This is true of every Robt. Burns cigar, whether it be Longfellow or Invincible.

Your cigar dealer will gladly introduce you to mild Robt. Burns, the modern cigar with the full Havana filler.
