

PENN FIVE BACK FROM THE WEST

Red and Blue Followers Confident Team Will Win Next Game From Chicago

A big delegation of loyal students from the University of Pennsylvania gathered early this morning at West Jersey Station to welcome Lou Jourdet and his band of basketballers who were beaten Monday night in Chicago by the Maroon collegians by the score of 28 to 24 in the first of a series of two or three games for the collegiate title of America.

The Chicago team arrived on the same train with Penn. Although defeated, neither the Red and Blue team nor Coach Jourdet is in the least discouraged. All feel that the fact that Penn was not at center in Penn. that the team was tired out by the long journey and that they were playing on a foreign floor militated against Penn's chances in the windy city.

Journal Confident Lou Jourdet expressed himself this way: "Penn will win the next two games by fifteen points. I can count upon Huntzinger as my regular center for the series. The men were confident by the loss of Bill Grave, in whom they had the greatest confidence. We played rings around Chicago in the second half."

Coach Jourdet said that he was glad to be able to play in the East. "I am sure that all of us consider it a great honor to be challenged and to be able to play the champions of the East," said the Maroon leader. "The game in Chicago was extremely well played by both teams, and the officiating was all that could be desired. In spite of the intense rivalry, there was a distinct friendly atmosphere between the members of the two teams. The hardest thing that we will have to contend with here is the wooden backboard. We have been used to shooting against glass, and this naturally will handicap us. I think the rules should be made universal, so that when two sectional teams play, neither would be handicapped on the other's floor. As it is, I feel that the home team has a handicap equal to about ten points. I wanted to play all the games in the Columbus State Institute gymnasium at Columbus, O., but it seems that it couldn't be done."

Hinkle, the leader of the Chicago quintet, stated that he was surprised the series would end tomorrow night. "I think we have a better team and will win at Weightman Hall," he said.

Tomorrow night the Chicago-Penn game will be played at Weightman Hall and if a third game is necessary it will be hand-picked at Princeton.

Penn has played on the Tiger floor once this year, while several of the players also played on it during last season. This, coupled with the fact that eastern referees will cut down the continuous dribbling and walking with the ball tactics of the Chicago five, will give Penn more than an even chance for victory.

Penn students were offering 6 to 5 yesterday that Penn would win tomorrow night, and will accept a little better than even money that the series will be captured by the Red and Blue. There was little betting around the arena where wagers on University athletics are usually made, but it is expected that it will be more brisk today with the arrival of the team from the West.

Plans are being perfected for the securing of a special train to take the Penn rooters to Princeton in the event of a third game. It is proposed to have at least a thousand students make the trip, and to this end a meeting will be held this afternoon with the basketball authorities.

ZE GOOD GEORGES ARRIVE IN ZE GRAND COUNTRY

VOILA! M. CARPENTIER WOULD DEFEND TITLE

Georges Promises to Give Challenger Chance if He Lands Championship From Dempsey—Says Jack Will Be Easy

New York, March 24.—When asked if he would defend his title if he won the championship from Jack Dempsey, Georges Carpentier, who arrived yesterday on the liner La Savoie, said that he would, at least once. "I will defend it at least once," said the Frenchman heavyweight. "I would be honored to do so, but after that I will retire and look after my rabbits and chickens."

"I would like to meet Dempsey as soon as possible after he is freed of the charges now pending against him, and it does not make any difference where. Of course I have never seen Dempsey, but I have heard he is the aggressive fighter. That kind is the easiest opponent. I am sure I can beat him in six rounds if that is his game."

Richard to Fore No evidence was forthcoming as to just who will handle the big bout, if one there is, although Tex Rickard, who brought Jack Johnson and Jim Jeffries together at Reno, Nev., a number of years ago, and who also promoted the Willard-Dempsey bout last July 4, seemed to have first call on Carpentier's attention.

He was closeted with the French champion and his manager most of the afternoon, but after a long conference Rickard was noncommittal. He has never been averse to discussing his plans

Would Bar Dempsey in New York State

Albany, N. Y., March 24.—The opponents of the Walker bill to legalize boxing have launched a new attack on the measure. While the prime object of the objectors is to kill the license committee provision of the measure, they temporarily have abandoned that angle and now are concentrating the attack on Dempsey. It is said that they will demand that the bill be amended so as to bar any boxer against whom a charge of slackerism is pending from entering a ring in this state.

WORLD CAGE SERIES OPENS IN CAMDEN

Champions of Eastern and Penn State Circuits to Clash Tonight

The opening clash in the world's series basketball championship between Camden, winners of the Eastern League pennant, and Scranton, (Germanstown), first-half titleholders in the Penn State League, will be staged this evening in the Third Regiment Armory, Haddon Avenue and Market Street, Camden.

The spectators deliriously will be taxed with a capacity crowd, and the attraction will warrant it, for those in attendance will see two of the greatest basketball machines ever assembled. Camden has gone through both halves of the Eastern League in a veritable canter, but the Stealers will meet a little tougher opposition this evening.

The "victors" have class, because every man except Alek Harvey is a regular Eastern League. Holman, Bruyge and Meehan were with Germanstown and Ernie Reich with Reading. This quartet is certain to start, but the fifth man is not definitely decided upon.

Einer Ripley has been picked by many, but the writer is of the opinion that Frank Bruyge will pin his faith to Alek Harvey. Ripley is a star backfield man, but he dislikes playing in a cage and did not go well at all in the couple of games he played in the Roy Steele and "Soup" Campbell will hold down the forward positions, and Eddie Dolin will battle it out at center against "Stretch" Meehan, Kerr and Deighan who form the defense for the home club.

48 of the First Fifty Pierce-Arrow trucks are still running after 8 years. If they were not economical to operate they would have been discarded and replaced, without waiting for them to wear out. Remember a truck is a piece of machinery. You buy machinery to last years. Truck operation is subject to the same economic laws. No. 29 is owned by the Merkel Brothers Company of Cincinnati. For 8 years it hauled heavy plumbing supplies from freight stations to warehouse and delivered goods throughout the city. On this short haul work with heavy loads, it has covered less than 50,000 miles and is good for many more years. Recently it was converted into a tractor to haul a trailer, doubling its capacity. It hauls its double load as unflinchingly as it carried its original 5-ton. Delivers more work in a given time. Losses less time on the job and off the job. Costs less to operate and less to maintain. Lasts longer, depreciates less and commands a higher resale price at all times. Foss-Hughes Company 21st and Market Streets, Philadelphia, Pa.
